Gandhi Spends Day Spinning but Followers Throw Up Tasks and Parade

BOMBAY, Nov. 12. (AP)—The convening in London of the Indian round-table conference resulted in repercussions throughout India today, culminating in a riot here in which twenty-five demonstrators were injured and the entire local "war council" arrested.

Hartals, or cessations of work, were observed in various degrees in Bombay, Calcutta and Karachi.

In Calcutta, the city corporation adopted a resolution recording its "emphatic condemnation of the round-table conference, having regard to the circumstances in which it was constituted and its entirely unrepresentative character." Five European members, three Hindu Liberals and one Mohammedan walked out of the council chamber before a vote on the resolution was taken.

From Poona Jail where Mahatma Gandhi sits for long hours at a spinning wheel, there came no indication the day was regarded by the leader of the congress movement as different from any other.

The riot here was precipitated when anticonference demonstrators attempted to walk in procession through the city. They were dispersed by mounted police, but reformed their ranks and surged through the government offices on the Esplanada Maidan before they again were turned back.

KING OPENS PARLEY; MacDONALD MADE CHAIRMAN

LONDON, Nov. 12. (AP)—The future of India's millions was cast today into the caldron of the momentous round-table conference which King George in a hopeful speech opened in the great gallery of the House of Lords.

A scene splashed with oriental splendor such as rarely has been viewed before in the western world was the setting for the ceremonial inauguration of the important negotiations, the gravity of which was stressed in the royal address and those which followed by Prime Minister MacDonald, the Indian princes and the delegates from British India.

INCOGNITO EVANGELIST HAS GRIEF

Mrs. McPherson Posing as "Betty Adams" Barred From Landing in Cuba

HAVANA, Nov. 12. (AP)—Aimee Semple McPherson arrived here aboard the steamship Toloa today but was not permitted to land until she had satisfactorily explained why she had embarked from Panama under the name of Miss Betty Adams and had registered her nationality as "English." She remained aboard the steamer tonight.

The evangelist was indignant with newspapermen who revealed her identity to the purser of the ship.

Mrs. McPherson insisted that her name was Adams but did not furnish immigration officials with anything to identify her under that name.

She previously had issued instructions that she was not to be paged, and when the Toloa docked here remained in her cabin with a group of friends.

Passengers said Mrs. McPherson had enjoyed the trip up from Panama, once posing in the uniform of the chief engineer for amateur photographers. She refused to pose for the press photographers, however.

She told immigration officials she might remain on the Toloa and go to New York, or might wait over and leave for New Orleans tomorrow.

Ludendorff Sees War in 1932

BERLIN, Nov. 12. (AP)—Gen. Erich Ludendorff, one of the war-time idols of the German people, emerged today as one of those who looks with pessimism upon Germany's prospects in the "next war." In a ninety-three-page pamphlet entitled "World War Threatens on German Soil," he predicted complete annihilation of the Fatherland in a war beginning in May, 1932, which Germany, Austria, Hungary, England and soviet Russia will be ranged against France, Belgium, Poland, Rumania and Czecho-Slovakia.

PURGING OF PHYSICIANS DEMANDED

Health Commissioner of New York Warns Doctors to Reduce Their Charges

NEW YORK, Nov. 12. (AP)—Dr. Shirley W. Wynne, New York City Health Commissioner, is on record today with the assertion that the medical profession must give public qualified treatment at reasonable prices or face possibility of State regulation.

He told a conference of Public Health and Nursing Service board members from six States last night the medical profession must purge itself of members who are "as bad as any of the quacks and charlatans outside" if it is to retain public confidence. He charged the great mass of the "white-collared" class receive "poor medical service at an exorbitant cost."

"The solution of the problem lies either with the doctors organizing among themselves to supply qualified service at a fixed fee, or a public demand for State medicine," said Dr. Wynne. "Our people need and want efficient medical assistance at prices within their means, and they do not always get it."

AMERICANS LOSE LIVES IN PERU RIOT

Two From United States Among Six or Seven Slain in Mining District

LIMA (Peru) Nov. 12. (AP)—Two Americans and an Austrian were reported to be among the six or seven men killed in a riot today at Malpaso, a mining settlement near Cerro de Pasco. The Americans were identified as John W. Chapman of Chicago, and E. L. Tripary, whose home address was not given.

The Austrian was said to be the manager of a hotel at Malpaso. It is not known here whether any of the others killed were foreigners.

A special train evacuated all foreigners from the district after the riot was quelled. The train is expected to bring 350 Americans and Britishers here.

The Cerro de Pasco Copper Corporation, an American-owned company, ordered a stoppage of work at various mines, including those at Malpaso and Cerro de Pasco.

Accounts of the trouble reaching here stated 1500 workers left Malpaso this morning for Oroya to participate in a labor demonstration there. Police attempted to stop the marchers at Oroya, but were unsuccessful, the clash resulting in about twenty men being injured. The marchers then returned to Malpaso where the riot which resulted in the fatalities then occurred.

A man named Diamond, assumed to be an American, was among those injured at Malpaso. Two other foreigners, named Whitly and Morger, also were injured, the latter suffering a shotgun wound in the leg.

Ten Mummified Bodies in Cave Centuries Found

(Copyright, 1930, by New York Times)

MADRID, Nov. 12. (Exclusive)—The bodies of ten persons who have crouched in positions indicating utter terror since the seventh century have been found in a cave beneath a monastery at Toledo. Part of the dirt floor of the cellar started to give beneath the feet of a monk, who investigated. Digging disclosed the entrance to the cave where people, presumably hiding during the Moorish invasion of Spain, were apparently buried by a cave-in.

The bodies had been mummified by lack of air.

HOMICIDES LOW HERE

City Twelfth on National List

Murder Rate for First Nine Months 3.64 Killings Per 100,000 Population

Cincinnati Average Highest but Chicago Has Most Slayings With 282

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12. (Exclusive)—Los Angeles, with a rate of 3.64 murders per 100,000 population, ranked twelfth among the large cities of the nation in the number of homicides during the first nine months of the present year.

Figures released today by the United States Department of Justice through its bureau of crime investigation, show that during the nine months there were forty-five murders committed in Los Angeles.

Cincinnati, with a population of 449,331, led the per-capita list of cities with forty-nine murders for a rate of 10.90 per 100,000 population.

MOST IN CHICAGO

There were actually more murders committed in Chicago than any other city given on the list, but because of its 3,375,329 population, its rate shows only 8.35 per 100,000. With 282 murders, the Windy City had almost three times as many homicides as any other city listed. However, Chicago is sixth on the list.

While no mention is made of New York City, where there were 357 murders last year, it is interesting to note that reports from that metropolis show that from October 12, last, until today, the 12th inst., there have been ninety-one persons shot, forty-two of whom have died. The reports cite that if the present marksmanship should be continued, last year's record will be surpassed by more than 50 per cent.

AVERAGE RISES

The Justice Department statistics show that the daily average of murders throughout the United States has risen from three a day in January to almost five a day in October.

In the seventeen cities of 400,000 inhabitants on which the government has obtained data, the following table lists those cities in order of their murder rate for the first nine months of this year, together with the population of each:

MDIVANI'S LIP SPLIT IN BATTLE

Prince and Actor Settle Differences With Fists on Deck of Liner France

NEW YORK, Nov. 12. (AP)—Four minutes of fisticuffing on the after deck of the liner France between Prince Serg Mdivani, Pola Negri's estranged husband, and Harry Robles, vaudeville actor, enlivened the trip for passengers of the vessel which docked today.

Both participants told reluctantly of the fight and said they are friends again. Prince Mdivani took exception to a remark made by Robles during a party aboard ship and they settled the matter with their fists. The Prince's upper lip was slightly cut.

Prince Mdivani booked passage as S. Davis. Of his recent Paris divorce action from Miss Negri, final papers in which are still pending, he said: "I'm very glad it is all over. Miss Negri is a beautiful woman. It was a question of sharp difference in character and temperament. She was for art and I for business."

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, Nov. 12.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Celebrated twelve years of continuous peace yesterday and we looked about as bad off as we did twelve years ago when we celebrated the end of two years of war. If we pulled together as much to put over a siege of peace as we do a spell of war we would be sitting pretty, but we can't hardly wait for a war to end to start taking it out on each other. Peace is kinder like prosperity—there is mighty few nations that can stand it.

ROYAL PILOT TRIES DO-X

Prince of Wales Flies Air Giant

"Wonderful Ship," He Says After Ten Minutes at Craft's Controls

Dr. Dornier Will Travel to Bordeaux Tomorrow on Next Leg of Trip

CALSHOT (Eng.) Nov. 12. (AP)—The Prince of Wales, who not so long ago learned to fly a little sport plane and thus became the first aviator in the British royal family, today took the controls of the DO-X, largest seaplane in the world, and guided its course for ten minutes.

The flight lasted half an hour, during one-third of which the Prince was in the pilot's seat guiding the course of the twelve-motored plane over the Isle of Wight.

The German officers pronounced him an excellent pilot. While the ship was aloft the Prince toasted the Dornier associates, builders of the DO-X, and wished them success on their projected flight to New York.

When the ship was at anchor again in the Calshot harbor the Prince thanked Dr. Claude Dornier for the opportunity of flying in the large plane.

"She certainly is a wonderful ship," he exclaimed.

While he stood on the shore the DO-X took off again, made a couple of turns in the air and landed, so the royal visitor might see her take off and alight.

Then the Prince boarded the amphibian plane in which he had flown from London earlier in the day and went home.

Dr. Dornier announced later that he will take his plane to Bordeaux Friday on the third stage of the flight to New York.

Hunt Quashes Death Rumors

PHOENIX, Nov. 12. (AP)—Phoenix and a considerable section of Arizona mourned George W. P. Hunt as dead today, before a fast-traveling rumor of his demise penetrated the walls of the Governor-elect's home, and he hastened to deny it.

Mr. Hunt for several days has been indisposed with a cold. Where the rumor of his death originated no one was able to say, but it set the capital city by the ears before it was squelched.

The Phoenix City Commission hastily adjourned.

KIDNAPING GANG HERE

Prominent Men Plot Targets

Eastern Professionals Plan Local Ransom Drive, Says Fitts

Youth Confesses Seizure and Torture of Western Union Branch Manager

The arrest and confession of one kidnaper and the coincident announcement by the District Attorney's office of the discovery of a plot on the part of another gang of eastern desperadoes directed against a number of prominent local citizens marked progress yesterday in the war of the forces of law and order against the onset of criminality from without.

Robert S. Gilhousen, 22 years of age, said by the police to be a member of a wealthy family, was taken into custody yesterday morning in a hotel at 218 South Broadway, shortly after his arrival here from Colorado. Upon questioning by detectives, the latter declare he confessed the kidnaping and torture of W. R. Finch, night manager of the Beverly Hills branch of the Western Union Telegraph Company, September 15, last. His statement was made at the District Attorney's office to Defective Lieutenants Weaver and Connor of the police robbery squad.

EASTERN GANG HERE

Late yesterday afternoon Dist.-Atty. Fitts issued a statement in which he admitted possession of information indicating the presence here of an organized gang of eastern kidnapers and strong-arm men, but entirely separate from the three who participated in the kidnaping of Finch.

According to Mr. Fitts, the eastern gang is supposed to have had designs on the persons of several prominent Los Angeles men, presumably intending to kidnap and hold them for ransom. Details of his information were withheld by the District Attorney. He refused to say if any of the gang is in custody but it was reported at the Hall of Justice that arrests are expected.

Mr. Fitts flatly denied published reports of a connection between the Gilhousen gang and those who, some days ago, were reported to have hatched a plot to kidnap Harry Chandler, publisher of The Times.

FITTS'S STATEMENT

The District Attorney's formal statement follows:

"The District Attorney's office and the Los Angeles police department have received certain information relative to the presence in Southern California of professional criminals who recently arrived here from the East.

"Our investigations developed among other things, that plots have been formed against several prominent Los Angeles citizens.

"We believe the police department and this office have taken the necessary precautions to prevent the execution of these plans.

"This morning we arrested Robert S. Gilhousen who, with two others, several weeks ago kidnaped the manager of the Western Union office in Beverly Hills, later robbing the safe of the Western Union. Gilhousen and his companions, so far as our information goes, have no connection whatever with the proposed plans against other Los Angeles citizens."

Discounting the sensational accounts published in afternoon papers yesterday, Mr. Chandler made the following statement:

"I know nothing about the supposed plot to 'kidnap' me beyond the fact that, a few days ago, I received information from an apparently reliable source that something of the kind was contemplated by a group of gangsters from outside the city. Such reports are not uncommon, and, beyond taking ordinary precautions, I did nothing about it. I have heard nothing further, either to confirm or disprove the original information. I am informed by the authorities that the Gilhousen mat-

WATER BOARD DUE IN YUMA

American and Mexican Members of Commission Will Be Welcomed in Arizona City Today

BY JACKSON BERGER
"Times" Staff Representative

YUMA, Nov. 12. (Exclusive)—Preparations were being made here tonight to welcome the American and Mexican members of the International Water Commission who are due to arrive tomorrow afternoon. The commission members are driving here by automobile from El Paso, where recent conferences have been held seeking a basis for a treaty between the two nations allocating waters of the Lower Colorado and Tia Juana rivers and the Lower Rio Grande.

Mexican members of the commission are Vasquez Shiaffino, Mexican Undersecretary of Foreign Affairs and former Mexican Ambassador to Japan; Fortunato Dozal, chairman of the delegation, and Ignacio Lopez Bancalari and Frederico Ramos, prominent Mexican engineers. Wives and daughters of the delegates also are in the party.

The American section is headed by L. M. Lawson, chief of the International Water Commission and former superintendent of the Yuma reclamation project; Karl Keeler, an associate engineer of Washington, and N. B. Moore of El Paso, secretary. Louis C. Hill, consulting engineer, will join the party at Phoenix.

WILL LEAVE TOMORROW

On arrival of the group tomorrow, a welcome will be extended by the Yuma Chamber of Commerce and local leaders. According to advices received by E. P. Sanguinetti, local pioneer merchant, the party will rest here until Friday noon, and will then proceed to San Diego.

This visit to Yuma will be more or less unofficial, but it is expected that the engineers of the party will avail themselves of voluminous engineering notes prepared for them by local reclamation and irrigation engineers. No official conferences are scheduled.

At noon Friday the Yuma Chamber of Commerce will entertain the visitors at a luncheon, and immediately thereafter the commission members will depart by automobile for San Diego, according to tentative plans announced here, where important conferences will be conducted.

ter has no connection with the alleged plot against myself, so far as they have been able to determine."

THE FINCH CASE

The police officers working on the Gilhousen case likewise scouted any connection between the Beverly Hills job and the supposed plottings of the eastern gang referred to by Fitts. So far as the detectives have been able to learn, Gilhousen and his confederates have not planned nor attempted any other kidnapings.

Finch is said by the police to have identified a photograph of Gilhousen as that of one of the three men who kidnaped him. The picture was made on the occasion of a previous arrest of Gilhousen on another charge. He is declared by the police to have served a term in a Southern California reform school, being at that time a minor. His arrest for the Finch kidnaping came as a result of an underworld "tip."

On the night of September 15, last, Finch, who resides at 9500 Santa Monica Boulevard, was kidnaped by three men and taken to Benedict Canyon in an automobile. There he was tied to a tree with rope and wire and torture applied by means of a cord twisted about his neck, forcing him to divulge the combination of the safe in the office of the Western Union branch at Beverly Hills, of which Finch was night manager.

TAKEN AS SUSPECT IN FINCH KIDNAPING

Robert S. Gilhousen

The trio left Finch bound to the tree and drove to the branch office, where they opened the safe and secured $280 in money. Then, fearing that Finch might die of exhaustion, they returned to the canyon and released him. Finch made his way on foot to the Beverly Hills police station and reported the kidnaping and theft.

Police declare that Gilhousen's two companions are now under surveillance in Colorado and that their arrests may be expected immediately.

DATA KEPT SECRET

Information on the kidnaping of Finch was kept secret by the police, in the belief that a solution of the affair would be more easily obtained and that the perpetrators would not seek safety in flight.

While this case was under investigation through both the police department and District Attorney's office information of the plans and movements of the eastern gangsters was obtained. The situation was carefully watched and from sources considered authentic the police received information as to the intentions of the group that was apparently gathering here for kidnaping attempts.

Members of the gangs were discovered to have arrived here from Kansas City and St. Louis, and in addition to plots against prominent business men, were also interested in gaining a parole for a notorious bandit.

NEW DEFENSE PLANNED

A more efficient campaign against the attempts of gangland to make inroads in Los Angeles was announced yesterday by Fitts, in which all branches of law enforcement organizations will co-operate. A series of conferences will be held at which details of a drive against the eastern gangsters will be worked out by the authorities.

Fitts declined to reveal all plans for the concerted drive, but indicated that drastic action would ensue within the next twenty-four hours.

"I cannot disclose our plans at this time, but it may be assured that we will go into action in the next twenty-four hours and hold a number of conferences to break up the gang activity now apparent," Fitts said.

Constant vigilance on the part of all law enforcement bodies is required to combat the attempts of gangland to gain a foothold here, and the planned conferences are expected to be a clearinghouse at which information from all sources may be centralized, according to Fitts.

tailored morning attire, spats and horn-rimmed glasses.

There were two slender bejeweled women delegates, Mrs. Subbarayan and the Begum Shah Mawaj, swathed from head to foot in silken robes which circled their waists and draped over their long black hair, but failed to hide the sparkling diamonds of numerous bracelets, rings and earrings. Mrs. Subbarayan had a large diamond set in the left side of her nose.

GORGEOUS DISPLAY

In all that gorgeous display of Indian head dress, there was every style except one—the plain rounded caps on the followers of Mahatma Gandhi who are boycotting the conference. In India today they mourned its opening, holding that unless Great Britain is preparing to grant India her independence the conference then has no value.

A few minutes before noon the King-Emperor entered the hushed hall. Centered in the colorful gathering was the golden throne chair from which he addressed the assembly. Dwarfed by the princely turbans around him and somber in conventional morning clothes, King George nevertheless made an impression with the fervor of his address.

From his red spectacle case he took rimless glasses looped them behind his ears and slowly and carefully read his speech.

SPEECH OF KING

"No words of mine are needed to bring home to you the momentous character of the task to which you have set your hands," he said in an appeal for solution of the great problem of the future system of government for India. "Each one of you will, with me, be profoundly conscious how much depends to the whole of the British commonwealth on the issue of your consultations. This community of interest leads me to come forth and it is a happy augury that there should be present today the representatives of my government in all the sister States of this commonwealth.

"I shall follow the course of your proceedings with the closest and most sympathetic interest, not indeed without anxiety, but with a great confidence. The material conditions which surround the lives of my subjects in India affect me greatly and will be ever present in my thoughts during your forthcoming deliberations.

PLEADS FOR JUSTICE

"I have also in mind the just claims of majorities and minorities of men and women of town dwellers and tillers of the soil, land owners and tenants of the strong and the weak, of the rich and the poor, of the races, castes and creeds of which the body politic is composed.

"For these things I care deeply. I cannot doubt that the foundation of self-government is in the fusion of such divergent claims into mutual obligations and in their recognition and fulfillment. It is my hope that the future of the government of India, based on this foundation, will give expression to her honorable aspirations.

"May your discussion point the way to a sure achievement of this end and may your names go down in history as men who served India well and whose endeavors advanced the happiness and prosperity of all of my beloved people. I pray that Providence may grant you in bounteous measure wisdom, patience and good will."

MACDONALD, CHAIRMAN

After His Majesty had finished his brief address, he shook hands with Mr. MacDonald and then stepped from the low dais on which his throne stood. Bowing first to the delegates on his left and then to those on his right he walked slowly from the hall.

The delegates resumed their seats and the Maharajah of Patiala, his somber black clothing relieved by a large light-blue turban and jeweled earrings, moved that Premier MacDonald be elected chairman of the conference. The Aga Khan, Prince who is spiritual head of India's huge Moslem population, seconded the motion and it was unanimously carried.

Mr. MacDonald took the floor. He spoke slowly and appeared to be making one of the greatest efforts of his striking career.

KEYNOTE SOUNDED

The Prime Minister commented that this is the first occasion on which the Indian princes have met in joint conclave with representatives of the people of India and of Britain, on English soil. The keynote of his speech was contained in this one passage:

"We are now at the very birth of a new history. Declarations made by British sovereigns and statesmen from time to time that Britain's work in India was to prepare her for self-government have been plain. . . . We have met to try to register by agreement a recognition of the fact that India has reached a distinctive point in her constitutional evolution."

Throughout the inaugural session of the conference, which will be resumed Monday, there was a noticeable effort by Indian spokesmen to avoid misunderstandings.

NOTABLES LOOK ON

Indian princes applauded every reference to loyalty to the throne. Sir Muhammad Akbar Hydari, representing the Nizam of Hyderabad, in a speech declared he could assure the peoples of the empire and the world at large "that no hand shall ever sever the ties which bind the princes to the crown." He added, however, that the autonomous States sympathized with the aims and ideals of the people of British India and will work in harmony with them for a greater and united India.

Many distinguished guests witnessed the conference opening, including Ambassador Dawes. Also in the gallery were the premiers of the various dominions who are here attending the imperial conference, former Premiers Stanley Baldwin and David Lloyd-George and the Archbishop of Canterbury.

Victor in Fierce Fight for Life

This photograph of Jorgen Greve, believed to be the only survivor of the wrecked lumber schooner Brooklyn, is the first one to be taken since his rescue. Greve is shown in a semiconscious condition while Dr. Nures, attending physician, closely watches his condition for any change.

SEA FOILER TO SAIL AGAIN

First Mate Greve of Wrecked Schooner Fights Way Back to Health After Ordeal

EUREKA, Nov. 12. (AP)—Despite the terror of his three-day ordeal of hunger, thirst and exposure following his fourth shipwreck, Jorgen M. Greve, lone survivor of the schooner Brooklyn, plans to go to sea again.

Greve, first mate of the schooner Brooklyn, which sank off Humboldt Bar Saturday, presumably with a toll of seventeen lives, is beating back to health today after a seemingly miraculous rescue at sea yesterday by a fishing trawler.

WIFE WASN'T SURPRISED

Doctors and nurses said late today they expect Greve to recover and be fit again in a week. Tonight he heard a greeting from his wife who never gave up hope, recalling his survival of three previous experiences similar to this.

A radio was rigged up in Greve's hospital room and tonight Mrs. Greve in San Francisco talked to him over a San Francisco station.

Greve was found floating on a piece of wreckage several miles out yesterday by Capt. Richard Richter of the trawler Two Sisters. Brought here, he was found to have been badly lacerated by his buffeting. The salt water had caused him much agony and he said he was tempted to drink it.

BODY RECOVERED

While Greve was recovering, fishing and lifeguard boats sought in the water around Eureka for traces of his companions.

Late today the body of G. Vigdel, a seaman, from San Francisco, was found north of Humboldt Bar by Capt. P. Bishop of the fishing boat Enterprise. The body was brought here pending receipt of instructions from relatives for its disposal. Steamboat inspectors expect to complete their inquiry tomorrow by interrogating the rescued officer.

Through doctors who talked to him at occasional intervals Greve said the ship was sound enough when it left the harbor for San Francisco, but that enormous breakers caused by a storm at sea disabled the vessel soon after crossing the bar. In this condition the ship could not be controlled and was battered to pieces.

SCENE DESCRIBED

Greve told of seeing his companions groping for help after the ship foundered and he believes they all perished.

Earl Christiansen, stepson of Greve, is with him here. He told of how the mate had come back thrice before when he had been given up for lost by everyone but his wife. Once his skull was fractured.

It was reported earlier today there had been a stowaway on the Brooklyn, but this lacked confirmation. So far as can be determined only eighteen men were aboard the schooner when it left.

OLD CRUISER MISSOULA ONCE AGAIN IN TOW

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12. (Exclusive)—Radio advices to Coast Guard headquarters report the old cruiser Missoula once again in tow after twice breaking loose at sea en route from Bremerton to Oakland for dismantling with a skeleton crew, dismantled engines and a hand steering device. The Roosevelt, from which the Missoula first broke off Coos Bay, ran a line aboard today after a tow cable to the cutter Saranac had parted.

GREVE WILL GET CAPTAINCY AS REWARD

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12. (AP)—A captaincy will be the reward of the courage and endurance shown by Jorgen M. Greve in refusing to give up after the wrecking of the lumber schooner Brooklyn.

The first captaincy at the disposal of the Bayside Steamship Company will be offered to Greve, S. L. Whipple, owner of the company said here tonight.

Greve, who formerly commanded the Helen P. Drew, sister ship of the ill-fated Brooklyn, was forced to take a first officer's berth to get back on the seas again after "three months on the beach."

WATER BOARD DUE AT YUMA

Diego—which are expected to require five or six days—the commission plans to return eastward along the international boundary to Calexico and Mexicali.

DELTA TO BE TOURED

Crossing the boundary at Mexicali, the party will begin a tour of the vast Colorado delta region, laced and interlaced with canals and levees, where for years man has fought—and still is fighting—the raging Colorado at its flood tides.

During the tour in Mexico, the delegates will observe and prepare conference notes of the first line of defense against Colorado River floods, for it is through this region that the great muddy stream annually threatens crops and ranches of Mexican planters and the rich Imperial Valley.

The group is expected to return to the United States boundary at Algodones, south of here, and proceed here, where, under tentative plans, other conferences may be conducted.

CLARK WILL DISCUSS MEXICAN AGREEMENT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12. (AP)—Discussions between J. Reuben Clark, Jr., Ambassador to Mexico, and State Department officials on the proposed Mexican-American agreement to embody the recent recommendations of the International Boundary Commission will begin here tomorrow. Both governments are in substantial agreement on the commission's recommendations, which it was understood both governments have now approved. The agreement will be of a perfunctory character, it is expected, mainly to embrace the commission's recommendations for the straightening of the Rio Grande and to prevent washes along the banks.

NEW CRUISER TO BE NAMED FOR BAY CITY

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12. (Exclusive)—That one of the new cruisers soon to be built for the Navy will be christened "U.S.S. San Francisco" was indicated today when the Navy Department ordered a search for another name for the vessel now bearing that of the Northern California metropolis. One of the four cruisers on the immediate building program is to be constructed at Mare Island and it is expected this will be the new U.S.S. San Francisco.

BRITISH TARIFF WALL REJECTED

Government Denies Canada Reciprocity Scheme

Conference Sits Overtime to Close Friday

[Copyright, 1930, by Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Nov. 12. (Exclusive)—The British government has definitely rejected the proposal of Robert B. Bennett, the Canadian Premier, for a tariff reciprocity between Great Britain and the dominions involving a tax on foreign foods imported into Great Britain.

This important development took place on the eve of the adjournment of the imperial conference. It is also learned that heads of the various delegations are still discussing the food quota on bulk purchases through import boards and other alternatives suggested by the government of Great Britain.

The greatest effort is now being made to wind up the conference by Friday. Heads of the delegations sat all day until late this evening, receiving, discussing and approving reports from the various committees. Today was mostly occupied with economic matters, but no decisions were reached.

Tomorrow they meet again to finish economic discussions and in the afternoon to hear from Foreign Minister Henderson, who will expose British foreign relations so that the dominions may know how far they are committed to Britain's European entanglements.

GEN. BLISS LAID AT TAFT'S SIDE

Army's Wartime Chief of Staff Buried in Arlington

Enlisted Men of Hospital Act as Pallbearers

Military Honors Due to His Rank Accorded

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12. (AP)—Gen. Tasker H. Bliss was buried today on the hilltop overlooking the Potomac where lie the nation's military heroes.

The wartime Chief of Staff of the Army found his last resting place between the graves of President Taft and Robert Todd Lincoln.

His body was lowered into the grave by six enlisted men from Walter Reed Hospital in accord with one of his last requests. During his long illness at the hospital, they had attended him.

All military honors commensurate with his high rank were bestowed by the troops of soldiers and marines, the high officials and his former colleagues who gathered for the ceremony. Among those who served as honorary pallbearers was Col. Edward M. House of Texas, the last surviving member of the group that comprised the Supreme War Council.

Before the final journey to Arlington Cemetery, services were conducted by Bishop James E. Freeman at the National Cathedral. Julian E. Yates, chief of army chaplains, officiated at the grave.

SIX-HOUR DAY FIGHT LOOMS

Rail Brotherhoods Engage in New Movement

Conference of Five Groups Opens at Chicago

CHICAGO, Nov. 12. (AP) — The rulers of the American Railway Brotherhoods, who won the eight-hour day for railroad labor fourteen years ago, began a secret conclave today whose anticipated issue is a demand for a six-hour working day.

The session opened ostensibly without a program. That a reduction of working hours and the relief of unemployment in their membership are their purpose is tacitly understood.

The five principal brotherhoods are represented by 800 general chairmen at the conference, expected to last a week or more.

ORGANIZATION PERFECTED

A temporary organization was perfected at the morning session with W. L. Schauberger of Oil City, Pa., as chairman. He is head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers of the Pennsylvania lines.

After a brief organization meeting the conference adjourned to another meeting-place and committees, working always behind closed doors, started drafting their program.

If a formal petition for a six-hour day emerges as the result of the conference it is certain to meet opposition from the railroads.

TIME HELD INOPPORTUNE

When the meeting was called three weeks ago, heads of several western lines said a movement for shorter hours would be untimely. The carriers, they said, are in no position now to put in operation such a scheme, with income reduced by light freight tonnage this year.

Furthermore, it was pointed out the American railroads are laid out in divisions based on an eight-hour day and a revision will require a change in the entire divisional system.

The five brotherhoods of the United States and Canada represented at the sessions are the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen; the Order of Railroad Conductors; the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Switchmen's Union of North America.

PORT PLANS LAID BEFORE PRESIDENT

Hoover Shows Interest When Angelenos Call to Urge Breakwater Project

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12. (Exclusive)—President Hoover showed a keen interest in the development of Los Angeles Harbor when he was visited today by Assistant City Attorney Harris, George F. Nicholson, harbor engineer, and Joseph T. Watson, deputy City Attorney.

The President declared the important public projects should go forward at this time and inquired as to the present status of port development at Los Angeles. The city representatives explained to him the greater harbor breakwater project which has been approved by the United States government and is now awaiting appropriation for the starting of the work.

Messrs. Harris and Nicholson also had a long conference with Brig.-Gen. Pillsbury, assistant chief of engineers, War Department, regarding the breakwater project, and the general told them his department has recommended the project favorably because it feels the harbor should be amply protected. He said the department is only awaiting the necessary appropriation when the money is available. Gen. Pillsbury added, the work will start at once and there will be no undue delay in its progress. He also said he believes the preliminary studies and investigations should be completed with a view of definitely determining the type of breakwater that should be constructed, in order that there will be no delay in the beginning of the project when the money is available.

PALESTINE PLAN TOLD COMMONS

Great Britain to Fulfill Its Obligations to Both Sections, MacDonald Says

LONDON, Nov. 12. (AP)—Prime Minister MacDonald told the House of Commons today the British government intends to carry out its obligations under the mandate to both sections of the Palestine population.

No ordinances on the basis of the recent white paper regarding the British attitude toward Jews and Arabs in Palestine will be framed before there has been discussion of the white paper in the House of Commons, the Prime Minister said.

Mr. MacDonald made the statements in response to questions, after reiterating the white paper had been misinterpreted in some of its essential points.

David Lloyd George, Liberal leader, got after the Prime Minister right away, saying he was sure the latter would realize the importance "of having this cleared up as soon as possible."

PORTUGUESE FLYERS DELAYED IN PALESTINE

LISBON, Nov. 12. (AP)—The Portuguese aviators, Cardosa and Pimentel, flying to India, were forced down near Gaza, Palestine, because of a broken propellor, the Bureau of Aeronautics was informed today. The flyers have sent to London for a new propellor and expected to continue their journey today.

TRAGEDY END OF "TRIANGLE"

Society Matron in Oregon Victim of Stabbing

Investigating Authorities Fail to Fix Case's Status

PORTLAND (Or.) Nov. 12. (AP)—Her heart pierced by the serrated blade of a bread-knife, Mrs. Leone Bowles, 33 years of age, prominent society matron, died today in the apartment of a former secretary to her husband. Present when Mrs. Bowles died was her husband, Nelson C. Bowles, 34 years of age, and Mrs. Irma Paris, 25, until three months ago his secretary.

Detectives would not say whether the death was a case of suicide or murder.

Police reported Mrs. Bowles went to Mrs. Paris's apartment to question her about her relationship with Bowles. The two quarreled. Mrs. Paris telephoned Bowles, who hurried to the room.

Bowles declared, and Mrs. Paris confirmed his statement, that as the three stood discussing the situation, Mrs. Bowles went into the kitchen for a glass of water. A moment later there was a scream. The two ran to the kitchen and found her on the floor, the knife in her heart.

Bowles said they carried his wife to a bedroom. He then called his physician, a funeral director, his attorney and the police, in turn. The doctor arrived five minutes later. Twenty minutes after his arrival Mrs. Bowles died.

Police and deputies from the District Attorney's office questioned Bowles and Mrs. Paris throughout the day.

INSTRUCTOR INJURED BY AUTO BOMB

Purdue Teacher Wounded by Infernal Machine as He Opens Car Door

LA FAYETTE (Ind.) Nov. 12. (AP) A bomb arranged so that opening of an automobile door caused it to explode, today seriously injured William F. Heidergott, Purdue University instructor.

A portion of Heidergott's face was torn away by the explosion, but he was able to tell authorities he knew no reason for anyone having a grudge against him.

The instructor is 55 years of age. He has been at Purdue since September, 1919, in the department of practical mechanics. He maintains a home at Indianapolis.

Associates at the university said he is a quiet, unassuming man, and had no known enemies.

His wife, who has been living in Indianapolis, came here immediately after being informed of her husband's injury. A son Fred, who lived with his parents in Indianapolis, left Sunday on a hunting trip in Southern Indiana, and could not be found immediately. He has another son, Raymond H. Heidergott of Tucson, Ariz., and three daughters, Mrs. Frances Marshall of Los Angeles, Mrs. Marie Ager of Wineville, Cal., and Clara Heidergott of Indianapolis.

GENEVA STILL IN DEADLOCK

Armaments Limitation Plan Continues in Debate

American Program Receives Favorable Thought

Outline Might Be Used in Reaching Agreement

GENEVA, Nov. 12. (AP)—Delegates to the League of Nations Preparatory Disarmament Commission continued deadlocked today on a plan of limiting land and air armaments.

Hugh S. Gibson, American representative, in reiterating the opposition of the United States to limitation by fixing a budget of expenditures, suggested if the other powers wished to draw up a treaty based on budgetary limitation, while leaving the United States free to use her own method of direct limitation with full publicity, the plan would be acceptable to the United States.

AMERICAN PLAN

Spokesmen for several nations made friendly references to the American compromise plan today, although the French delegate, Massigli, was critical of it, contending budgetary limitation, while not perfect, is the best available method of achieving limitation.

Objections to direct limitation, by naming the maximum number of each article useful in warfare were voiced on behalf of Japan, France, Rumania, Czecho-Slovakia, Belgium and Jugo-Slavia.

The principal objection was it is inexact and impossible to execute without close supervision which might inflame nationalistic spirits.

MIGHT BE USEFUL

Japan declared its opposition to both direct and budgetary limitation of military effectives.

Employment of both methods, as suggested by Mr. Gibson, was urged by representatives of Italy, Great Britain, Russia, and Sweden and viewed favorably by others if neither one nor the other of the principal plans can be agreed upon.

Representatives of Russia, Italy, Sweden and Holland have declared their willingness to employ any or all methods if only real limitation could be achieved.

Several representatives said the combination idea, as advanced by the United States, might eventually be useful in reaching an agreement.

WORLD COURT ENTRANCE URGED BY CHURCHES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12. (AP)—The suggestion the "people of America would welcome restraint" in building the Navy up to the limit set by the London Treaty was embodied in a message adopted today at the closing session of the World Alliance for International Friendship through the churches.

The message urged immediate entrance of the United States into the World Court, the setting of an early date for the proposed general disarmament conference and "the reconsideration of such issues as Allied debts, reparations, immigration quotas and the like."

Restraint in building up to the naval treaty limits, the message said, would be favorably received "both for economic reasons and as an evidence of confidence in and good will toward the nations joining in the treaty."

"It is one thing to prevent war; it is a more difficult thing to create peace," the message continued.

It said that "in spite of all the treaties made" there has been "no actual reduction of armaments by any nation."

Suicide Atones for Bread Theft

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 12. (AP)—Even as Jean Valjean, Joseph Drusin, 39 years of age, unemployed and the father of four children, was to have answered to the law today for the theft of a loaf of bread. But today Drusin's children found his body hanging in the cellar of his home in Indiana township.

The Coroner said he killed himself.

PURE MASTODON FOSSILS FOUND

Mother With Unborn Baby Taken From Gobi

Hundred Species Including New Ones Unearthed

PIEPING, Nov. 12. (AP)—Untold ages ago a mammoth shovel-toothed mastodon about to become a mother bogged with a herd of her kind in a mudhole in the then fertile Gobi Desert. Trapped in the Gobi quicksands, she and her companion mastodons died before she could give birth to a baby mastodon.

The Central Asiatic expedition headed by Dr. Roy Chapman Andrews found the boghole and the remains of the herd, among the most perfect of the skeletons being that of the mother mastodon still carrying the smaller bones of the infant pachyderm.

Walter C. Granger, chief paleontologist of the expedition, removed the foetus from the rest of the skeleton, and is bringing it back with other finds to the New York Museum of Natural History, which now will have a complete age series of the shovel-toothed mastodons, technically known as platybelodon.

COLLECTION SETS RECORD

Dr. Andrews regards the collection of fossils made this year as a record result since operations were begun in 1922.

High lights among the discoveries, in addition to the mastodons, were specimens of a strange animal known as the coryphodon, resembling a long-legged rhinoceros. These were found in geological strata of an age which extends the evolution of the animal several million years beyond previous calculations.

Another prise rewarding the searchers was a deposit of skulls and jaws belonging to the chalicothere, which belongs to the same group as the horse and the rhinoceros, but has a great sharp claw instead of a flattened hoof.

MANY SPECIES FOUND

Close to a hundred different species, many of which are new to science, are included among the seventeen camel loads of fossil specimens now on their way down to Peiping from Mongolia. It is expected that this year's discoveries will tend further to confirm the theory that the Central Asian plateau was formerly a great center of mammalian life.

Something new in Christmas Gifts

This year you'll want to give her something different from the usual things that change hands at Christmas—something that will be a personal gift, yet a gift that she wants and needs.

And now you can give her just such a gift—a Frigidaire to which is affixed a beautiful sterling silver medallion on which we will inscribe her name or any sentiment you desire. And she will remember the expression of your love years after you yourself have perhaps forgotten the motive of generosity that prompted the gift.

What a happy solution you'll find this to be! And how happy she'll be that you found it! For only a woman can appreciate all that Frigidaire means—the help it brings to the kitchen.

She'll thank you for this aristocrat of Christmas gifts a dozen times each day. She'll thank you for the marvels performed by the "Cold Control" which enables her to make scores of unusual salads and desserts—for the Hydrator which keeps vegetables fresh and full flavored until used—for the Quickube Ice Tray which releases ice cubes instantly—for the cabinet of Porcelain-on-steel which keeps its beauty through the years.

And it's so easy to give her a Frigidaire! You can purchase any model you wish on special Christmas terms—a small down payment—the balance extended over a period of months to suit your convenience. Stop in our showroom and ask for full details today.

The "Medal of Honor" Frigidaire

Here you see the beautiful sterling silver medallion or "Medal of Honor" that's affixed to the cabinet of all gift Frigidaires, at no extra charge.

Thus, to this aristocrat of Christmas gifts, we give the personal touch your jeweler achieves when he engraves a rare piece of jewelry.

This medallion may be engraved with the name of the recipient of the Frigidaire, or with the names of both recipient and donor, as shown in the picture.

Or, if you prefer, you can present the medallion alone (in a handsome velvet case) on Christmas morning and let the fortunate one select her own Frigidaire.

PARLEYS BEGIN ON LEGISLATION

Hoover Discusses Program With Senator McNary

President Hopes to Avoid Special Session

Unemployment Matters to Be Taken Up First

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12. (AP)—President Hoover began conferences today with Congressional leaders looking to the expedition of the legislative program at the approaching short session in such a manner as to make unnecessary a special session of Congress next spring.

Unemployment legislation, including the expansion of the public building and roads work, speeding up the development of the upper Mississippi River and other inland waterways, and appropriations for seed loans will receive first attention from the administration.

APPROPRIATIONS NEXT

Enactment of the appropriation bills carrying funds to support the government during the next year and the completion of unfinished business come next on the tentative calendar.

Senator McNary, Oregon, assistant Republican leader, was a visitor at the White House today. He is going to press at the opening of the session for acceptance by the Senate and House conferees of the Senate's measure for government operation of the Muscle Shoals (Alabama) power and nitrate plant.

There is every indication the administration will resist any move for radical change in the recently enacted farm-relief program, and will insist the new Farm Board be given further trial.

The plan of the House Appropriations Committee to curtail government expenses and at the same time allow funds for public building programs to decrease unemployment was outlined today by Chairman Wood.

TAX CUT MAY CONTINUE

Chairman Wood is optimistic over the possibility of continuing for another year the 1 per cent tax reduction authorized by Congress on last year's incomes. The reduction aggregated $160,000,000, and was applied to both income and corporation taxes.

Wood said he bases his opinion on present Treasury figures and the belief greater customs revenue will come from the new tariff act "when it gets to working."

"VANISHING GIRL" FACES PRISON CELL

Young Woman Who Said She'd Wed Anyone for $1000 Convicted of Fraud

NEW YORK, Nov. 12. (AP)—A girl who offered her hand in marriage for $1000 faced a five-to-ten-year prison sentence for fraud today.

A Queens county court convicted Sally Le Blanc, whose parents live in Oxford, Miss., yesterday. She advertised to wed anybody who would give $1000 to her "aged and infirm mother." The girl used the name of Ruth Miller. A young Japanese, Suekzi Suzuki, had her arrested at Bedford, Mass., after she vanished with his deposit of $750.

The 21-year-old blonde blamed Jack Madeson and his wife, convicted with her, for her plight. All will be sentenced the 21st inst.

REPARATION MOVE SEEN IN PARLEY

British Speculation Rife on Meeting of American and English Bankers

LONDON, Nov. 12. (AP)—George L. Harrison, governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, conferred today with Montagu Norman, governor of the Bank of England. Despite his assertion they discussed only routine matters British financial writers attached considerable importance to their meeting.

They considered it likely the two financiers may have discussed the problem of war reparations and the possibility of a moratorium. They regarded the presence here of Owen D. Young, author of the Young plan, as giving support to their deductions. Mr. Young, it was pointed out, has visited Ambassador Dawes almost daily since he came here.

Most of the British financial writers professed to see as a motive of the meeting a discussion of gold supplies, reparations or proposals by which the giants of international finance could alleviate world economic conditions.

GLASS HITS DEMOCRATS FOR PLEDGE

Co-operation Plan Hit as "Apology for Victory" by Virginia Veteran

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12. (AP)—Denouncing the recent co-operation pronouncements issued by seven Democratic party leaders, Senator Glass, Democrat, West Virginia, today took these party spokesmen to task for their "apology for a Democratic victory at the election."

"It is beyond my comprehension," Senator Glass told newspaper men, "why anybody should assume that a Democratic administration of public affairs at Washington could constitute a menace to the business of the nation, not even if one should define 'business' to mean only the stock market."

Her mechanic was also hurt, but not seriously. Her plane was badly damaged. Mlle. Bernstein announced that she is undecided whether to wait here for parts for the craft and then continue her flight or return to Paris. In the event she decides to repair the plane and continue on to Tokio, she will have to remain here several weeks, it is believed, before the parts arrive and the repairs are made.

BAY CITY PLANS PORT DISTRICT

First Steps Taken Looking to Unified Control

San Francisco and Other Areas Would Join

Administration Like That of Los Angeles Visioned

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12. (Exclusive)—Initial steps toward the formation of a port district to operate independently of State and municipal control have been taken by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce as preliminary to a presentation of the plan to the State Legislature next January for official approval.

The plan has been worked out by the maritime and harbor committee of the Chamber of Commerce after several months of work, and is believed to give adequate protection to future port developments with organization machinery designed to meet the augmented needs of harbor growth. Under the plan the port district would not be limited to San Francisco, but would take in such other areas as popular approval might designate.

The plan comprehends an administrative body composed of a board of trustees to be appointed by the Governor to direct the business and affairs of the port. Their executive agent would be a harbor master, chosen by the trustees. The board would hold title to all water-front property in the district and the district itself would be operated in a manner similar to a private corporation.

Sponsors say the plan would enable the administrative body to handle developments and improvements on an independent basis and in a manner comparable to the port administrations of Los Angeles, Seattle, Portland and other cities.

Advocates said today the project has the indorsement of the Pacific American Steamship Association and the Shipowners' Association of the Pacific Coast.

KEEP FREE OF COLDS THIS WINTER

Use VAPEX at the first sign of a cold and no cold will grip you

WINTER is open season for colds. But this year don't be a victim of a lingering winter cold. With Vapex you can stop your colds before they have a chance to grip you.

Vapex is a remarkable inhalant discovered in England during the war. A drop on your handkerchief or a drop at each end of your pillow gives off a soothing fragrance that promptly relieves distress—opens the nose, clears the head, and allows you to breathe freely.

Vapex is very inexpensive. The $1 bottle contains fifty applications—an average of only 2c apiece. Millions of bottles are sold yearly. It is the only inhalant for colds approved by Good Housekeeping because it is safe for every one—even little children.

For safety's sake, always ask for V-A-P-E-X—the original inhalant—and do not accept an inferior product that claims to be "just as good."

DRY LAW ROW IN FULL SWING

Hoover Board Resumes Its Labors on Report

Opposing G.O.P. Groups at Grips on Question

Beedy Favors Showdown at 1932 Elections

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12. (AP)—President Hoover's law enforcement commission convened today to continue work on its prohibition report as Republican wets and drys came to grips on the liquor question as a possible issue in the 1932 Presidential race. The meeting of the enforcement commisisoners was executive and Chairman Wickersham stood on his recent announcement that all reports speculating on the commission's findings are "guesses."

With former Senator Wadsworth, New York, and Representative Britten, Illinois, Republican antiprohibitionists, in dispute with Senator Fess, Republican prohibitionist from Ohio, as to the latter's assertion the party will split if it favors repeal, Representative Beedy, Republican, Maine, came out in favor of making prohibition an issue in the 1932 elections.

BEEDY'S ATTITUDE

"I believe," Beedy said, "that the matter of prohibition should be thoroughly discussed in the 1932 campaign and that it will be much better if the people of the country have the opportunity to voice their opinions."

Beedy is a prohibitionist and has opposed, on the floor of the House, repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment.

The Maine Representative said he thinks it advisable to settle the prohibition question in the next general election and it will be a "helpful thing for everybody concerned."

Senator Fess, of Ohio, chairman of the Republican National Committee, and an avowed prohibition advocate, observed he had spoken in an individual capacity rather than as party chairman when he recently espoused a mobilization of the drys.

FESS STANDS PAT

In the face of the demands of Wadsworth and Representative Britten, Republican, Illinois, that he resign as party chairman, Senator Fess stood his ground, but there is a belief among his intimates he will quit the party post rather than be silent in any wet and dry battle of national scope.

Meanwhile, the law enofrcement commission, on whose report the Hoover administration is expected to take its stand on the prohibition question, resumed its conferences today in an effort to reach an agreement acceptable to the eleven members.

The word has come from some of the dry members on the commission that "astounding" things have been discovered and there is a promise from these same members "there will be no pussyfooting in the forthcoming report, but the commission is still far from agreement.

REFERENDUM IDEA

Coincident with the proposals for a showdown on prohibition in 1932, it is learned some prohibitionists on the law enforcement commission would like to see an expression of sentiment on the dry law after a ten-year trial.

This could only be brought about by a national referendum and it is the opinion of many that a national referendum can be obtained only by submitting a constitutional amendment for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendemnt to the States.

Amos W. W. Woodcock, Prohibition Director, reached the capital today from the Pacific Coast, from where he was recalled suddenly by Atty.-Gen. Mitchell. Woodcock said he does not know the exact purpose of his recall, and his tour of the nation has convinced him the present system of enforcing prohibition is the best method that could be devised.

The law enforcement commission at its brief meeting today heard representatives of the American Medical Association, in response to their own request, amplify a statement submitted on the problems of medicinal liquor.

Dr. William N. Mayer and Dr. William C. Woodward appeared. Three members of the commission were absent and adjournment was taken until tomorrow.

MARYLAND WET HAS HOPE

Meantime Representative Linthicum, Maryland, chairman of the House wet bloc, looked to the Seventy-third Congress, which meets in 1933, with the prediction "light wines and beer are in the offing," and that Congress would adopt a resolution to repeal the Eighteenth Amendment.

"I am confident the wets will have a majority in the House of the Seventy-third Congress," Linthicum said. "I have no doubt we then will pass a resolution for repeal. As to the Senate, however, I have insufficient knowledge, but I do know public opinion is against prohibition and the Senate will carry out the will of the people."

BUTLER SEES SMASH-UP IF PROHIBITION GOES ON

NEW YORK, Nov. 12. (AP)—Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, predicted tonight if the Republican party's platform in 1932 does not call for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment there "will come in the following November the biggest political smash-up that has taken place in the history of any American now living."

Dr. Butler, a prominent Republican, has long been known for his opposition to prohibition.

HOOVER TO EAT AZUSA TROUT

Two Dozen Fish Nurtured on Experimental Food Sent to White House

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12. (AP) President Hoover was presented today with twenty-four California speckled trout from the farm of Leigh G. Garnsey of Azusa.

The presentation was made by Representative Swing of California, who said the trout had been nurtured on an experimental food consisting mostly of shrimp.

BERLIN STUDENT FACTIONS FIGHT

Fascist Clique Turns From Socialists to Police

BERLIN, Nov. 12. (AP)—The serenity of Berlin's academic life was badly upset today when the university became the scene of a three-cornered fight in which one girl student was beaten and several male students were severely injured.

The clash started between Socialist and Fascist students and the police next took a hand, with the fight winding up between the police and the Fascists.

Seven Fascist students finally were locked up. The clashes began as a repetition of encounters yesterday between leaflet-distributing Socialist and objecting Fascist students but soon developed to such proportions that the president of the university and the Police Commissioner had to take a hand.

"Germany, awaken!" shouted the Fascists, mixing these cries with, "Out with the Jews." Then they turned their verbal guns on the police and sang mocking songs when the officers sought to establish order.

MAGIC PERSIAN CARPET WORTH $2,500,000 SHOWN

LONDON, Nov. 12. (AP)—In London now there is a magic carpet—almost as magic as any that has figured in fairy tales.

It is part of the $10,000,000 Persian art treasures which have been unpacked in secret at the Royal Academy vaults in Piccadilly for exhibition in January.

The carpet covers a huge octagon of the Royal Academy where the statuary usually is shown. It is a seventeenth-century "woven mystery" from a mosque never entered by unbelivers, and its beauty is exquisite poetry from a loom. Its worth is fabulous, experts agreeing that if it were put up for auction $2,500,000 would be a moderate bid.

Strange exotic flowers and graceful cypresses bloom amid its graceful cypress bloom amid its rainbow weave. The harmony of its coloring and the gorgeousness of its design are wonders the secrets of which are kept in the Persian strange places. For a time it will hang on a London wall

It is believed that none of the Persian treasures has ever been seen by Christians.

WALKER HEARD BY GRAND JURY

New York Mayor Testifies to Ewald Appointment

NEW YORK, Nov. 12. (AP)—Mayor Walker's own story of how he appointed former Magistrate George F. Ewald to the bench three years ago was told by the Mayor today to the extraordinary grand jury which has indicted Ewald and three others on office-bartering charges.

The Mayor was tardy by an hour. When he arrived he brought a signed waiver of immunity.

Ewald and his wife Bertha were indicted for payment of $10,000 in consideration of his appointment to a Tammany district leader.

Pronto se Presentarán los Escritos de Apelación de Keaton

Están ya preparados los escritos en el recurso de apelación de Frank D. Keaton, sentenciado a ser ahorcado el 21 del actual por el asesinato de Motley Flint, banquero de Los Angeles. Serán presentados en breve ante la oficina de la Suprema Corte en Los Angeles. Tal es la información suministrada por el abogado Paul d'Orr, que defiende a Keaton en este juicio.

Los escritos mencionados, en los que se harán constar los fundamentos para interponer el recurso de apelación, vendrán a la zaga de las copias de todos los autos del proceso.

Keaton mató de un tiro a Flint en la sala del juez superior Collier, cuando el banquero bajaba de la barra de los testigos, tras haber prestado testimonio en una acción civil. El argumento de la defensa de Keaton fue que éste obró en un momento de demencia; pero el jurado votó contra esa afirmación.

SUFFERING MAN GOES FOR AID

Carl Powell Does Two Miles in All-Night Crawl

Rescuers Find Companion, Fred Irby, Had Died

Mrs. Powell Also Hurt When Car Hurtles Over Cliff

SANTA ANA, Nov. 12.—His back broken when an automobile plunged over an embankment at Black Star Canyon yesterday afternoon, Fred G. Irby, 55-year-old Long Beach subdivider, met a lingering death last night on the mountainside while his companion, Carl Powell, 33, crawled and dragged himself all night, covering a distance of two miles, to summon help that arrived too late.

When rescuers reached the scene of the wreck today they found that Irby had died during the night, while Powell's wife, injured so badly that she was unable to walk, watched beside him.

Powell, exhausted by his courageous effort and weakened by his own injures, was taken to the County Hospital with his wife. Powell had several ribs broken and was literally covered with cuts and bruises. His wife also was badly bruised.

Powell had fought his way slowly and painfully along the mountain road for sixteen hours when he reached Meyers Camp, a private lodge in Black Star Canyon, this morning with news of the wreck. A telephone call to Santa Ana brought an ambulance.

Irby and the Powells started from Long Beach for Irby's property in Black Star Canyon after the armistice parade in Long Beach yesterday, the Powells being interested in trading some Texas property for Irby's holdings. They were in a new car belonging to Powell, who was driving. The accident occurred before their reached their destination, the car getting into soft dirt on a curve in the mountain grade and rolling forty feet over the bank. Irby and Mr. and Mrs. Powell released themselves from the wreckage, and Powell, who was the only one of the trio able to move, soon started his journey for help.

His wife and Irby remained near the wreck. No automobile passed that way during the rest of the afternoon or that night. Meanwhile Powell made his way along the road, forced to stop frequently to stifle his suffering and regain his breath.

Throughout the night he struggled along and finally reached the Meyer Camp. Irby lapsed into insensibility some time during the night and never regained consciousness, Mrs. Powell said.

'Harvard Man' Now Sought by Beach Police

LONG BEACH, Nov. 12.—Officials of the Pan-California Oil Corporation, 1306 Burnett street, can use a Yale man. The oil company and police are seeking a man who was employed as an office clerk after attracting the attention of company officers by parading in the vicinity with a sandwich man's sign stating that he was a Harvard graduate and needed employment.

He was employed under the name of Leo L. Cormer, working in the company office one month. Today the clerk is sought on suspicion of having absconded with $600 of Pan-California money from the safe. Other items listed against him include allegations that he failed to pay his hotel bill and garage bill for a car he stated belonged to a friend.

Police were notified by company officials today that the money was missed over the last week-end and that the new clerk was suspected and watched until he disappeared today.

San Diego Sure of Stop on New Air-Mail Route

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 12.—San Diego will be included on the new southern transcontinental air-mail route, which started operation last month from Atlanta to Los Angeles, according to assurances given local postoffice and Chamber of Commerce officials today by Edward H. Sharpe and E. C. Fleming, officials of American Airways, Inc.

E. A. Bowman, assistant postmaster, and Thomas Bomar of the aviation department, Chamber of Commerce, both were visited by Sharpe and Fleming, who declared that San Diego will be included on the new air route as soon as night lighting facilities are provided.

A survey of the route between San Diego and El Paso for night lighting at present is 70 per cent completed, Sharpe said, but added that it would be several months before the lighting equipment could be installed.

HUNTINGTON PARK TO GET NEW FIREHOUSE

HUNTINGTON PARK, Nov. 12.—Huntington Park is to have a new city fire station, which, when erected, will be known as Fire Station No. 2. The new building is to be built at the northeast corner of Irvington avenue and Newell street by F. F. Smith, the City Council having agreed to take a ten-year lease on the structure, at $100 a month. Work on the new building is to be started immediately. It will be of pressed brick, with white glaze tile trim and attractive in appearance. The structure is to be erected especially for a firehouse and will have a hose tower, a room sufficiently large for two pieces of fire apparatus. There will also be sleeping quarters for the firemen, recreation room and other facilities. The building is to cost approximately $6000, it is stated. With the erection of this building and the installation of fire apparatus and a fire-fighting force, the southeast section of Huntington Park will be given a large increase in fire protection.

GARDENA, Nov. 12. — The proposed annexation of Western City to this place will be decided at the polls tomorrow. LIBRARY AT ARROWHEAD DEDICATED

New Building Erected by Popular Subscription Has Formal Opening

LAKE ARROWHEAD, Nov. 12.—With dedicatory exercises participated in by civic and public officials of San Bernardino county and Lake Arrowhead Village, the new public library here, erected by popular subscription by the residents of this district, was formally opened today at 4 p.m.

The Women's Club at Lake Arrowhead Village started the move for a new library building several months ago; Dr. J. Fraser Barbrick acting as chairman of the building committee and Mrs. J. E. Henck of Sky Forest a member of the committee.

Sufficient funds were contributed to erect a handsome and commodious library building in the village, on a site donated under a long-term lease by the Arrowhead Lake Company.

The new library will be under the jurisdiction of Miss Caroline S. Waters, librarian for San Bernardino county.

Miss Waters addressed the gathering and Dr. Barbrick presided. Miss Helen Braissee, president of the Women's Club of Lake Arrowhead, also addressed the gathering, as well as Lew Williams, president of the Lake Arrowhead Chamber of Commerce. Charles S. Fellows of Lake Arrowhead delivered an address of welcome on behalf of the Lake Arrowhead residents, and the principal speaker of the afternoon was Roy H. Mack, secretary of the San Bernardino Chamber of Commerce.

Following the dedication ceremony dinner was served, followed by an evening of entertainment.

NEW SHORE DRIVE, PLAN AT VENTURA

Chestnut Street Extended as One of Four Roads to Give Access to Ocean

VENTURA, Nov. 12.—With the improvement of Chestnut street south to the beach, work is progressing rapidly toward the achievement of Ventura's fondest dreams—a magnificent shore drive along 3000 feet of ocean front.

Chestnut street was being extended 200 feet today toward the sea and a juncture with the proposed water-front boulevard, by a large crew under City Engineer Donald McMillan.

Truckloads of earth from the excavation for the new Courthouse annex were being dumped upon the sand over a strip, forty feet wide, in order to raise the surface of the new road above the danger from high tides.

On the bluff the street was being graded down and lined on each side with a drain. An oil surface will top off the stretch.

When Chestnut street is complete, a total of four improved roads will give access to the ocean along a front where a year ago was only drifting sand.

The three links that have been constructed recently are California, Oak and Palm street extensions. Only two remain to be built along the proposed shore drive. They are at the foot of Ash and Kalorama streets.

The right of way for the shore drive, 100 feet wide, for 3000 feet from Beach Park to Beach and Oak streets, were being investigated at title companies today by City Engineer McMillan and City Attorney Walter Fourt.

TWO YOUTHS HELD ON BURGLARY COUNT

POMONA, Nov. 12.—Burglary complaints were today signed before Judge U. E. White, in local Justice Court, charging Herbert Hawley, alias Herbert Brockhouse, and Jimmy Conrad, both of El Monte, with the hold-up of the Peter Maldows Service Station at Brea Canyon Road and Valley Boulevard early Sunday morning. The complaints were signed by Maldows, who identified the pair as the men who entered his service station and took $60 in cash and his gold watch, at the point of revolvers. The pair will be arraigned Thursday morning in the local court. Deputy sheriffs who made the arrest shortly after the hold-up, are reported to have obtained confessions from the youths of similar robberies in Sierra Madre, Monrovia, San Francisco, San Jose, and the theft of two automobiles in Los Angeles.

PITIFUL STORY RELATED

Tragedy of Poverty and Hunger Told by Young Mother Held on Child-Abandonment Charge

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 12.—A mother's love for her child was overshadowed by the tragedy of hunger and poverty and drove Marie Cullen, 26 years of age, to abandon her 4-month-old boy here last Monday when the child, wrapped in a blanket, was found in the waiting-room of the Union Railway Depot.

Police detectives who began a search for the mother of the infant ended their quest last night when they arrested Mrs. Cullen in an auto camp in Old Town. Arrested for child abandonment, the young mother today sobbed out a pitiful tale to police. She said she had attempted to care for the child but was driven to abandon it rather than see him starve to death.

"I have no money, no work, and m, husband hasn't been near me since the divorce," the young woman said.

"I couldn't get work and care for my tiny baby, so I decided to leave it where some one might find it and provide a better home than I could give," she said.

Police, who conferred with the District Attorney concerning prosecution of the woman on charges of child abandonment, said she perhaps would not be prosecuted but would be sent home to her parents in San Bernardino.

On the board of directors besides Mead are W. M. Neal, Searcy, W. B. Temple, Reeve Hobbie, F. P. Redner, P. J. Ronan, Dr. C. B. Homan, W. M. Reynolds and W. R. Cooley.

Armed Bandit Flees Before Potato 'Gun'

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 12. Screams of a woman, wife of Joe Jaffey, proprietor of a grocery store at 438 Main street here, frustrated a bold hold-up and saved the proprietor more than $100.

A bandit walked up to the counter and demanded the money in the cash drawer. Even though he shot into the air, Mrs. Jaffey rushed screaming into the back room. Her husband rushed out with a potato in his hand and cried, "I shoot you. I have a gun."

The thief turned on his heels, jumped into his car and was off but not before Bob Jurkervitch ran out from his neighboring place of business and secured the license number of the bandit's car. The police department found that the car was one stolen from a woman living in Oakland.

BENJAMIN PIERCE DIES

COVINA, Nov. 12.—Benjamin Pierce, 70 years of age, retired business man, died at the family home, 155 Orange street, late yesterday. He had made his home in Covina for twenty-eight years. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

COUNTY AUDITOR FACES CHARGES

Harry Raymer of Riverside Under Indictment

Not Seen Since Subpoena for Him Issued

Falsified Tax Redemption Funds, True Bill Says

RIVERSIDE, Nov. 12.—Following an indictment returned by the grand jury at Riverside at 5 p.m. today a warrant was issued for the arrest of Harry E. Raymer, County Auditor. Raymer is charged in the indictment with falsifying records; with giving false certificates to the County Treasurer and with grand theft. He has not been at the Courthouse since Thursday, last, and is reported to have been missing since then. Superior Judge Freeman set bonds at $10,000.

The charges are said to center around tax money paid him for the redemption of property.

Although he has served as the Auditor of Riverside county for several years, records show that Raymer was never elected to the position. Upon the resignation of former Auditor Charles O. Reid, in 1923, Raymer, then a deputy in the office, was appointed to fill out the term.

In 1926 Raymer did not run for office, the position being sought by Milton S. Clark and W. H. Fertig. The former was successful at the polls and took office January 1, 1927. However, on September 6, 1927, after a hearing in Superior Court, Judge G. R. Freeman declared the position of Auditor vacant. On that date, Raymer was apopinted by the Board of Supervisors to fill the position. He did not run for office in the election this year, Ray T. Hicks, Auditor-elect and present chief deputy in the office, being the only candidate.

Stage-Terminal Sites Inspected

SAN CLEMENTE, Nov. 12.—Officials of the Pacific Greyhound Lines held a conference here recently with Mayor Thomas F. Murphine in regard to a terminal for this city. Upon the completion of the new highway and lighting system new traffic regulations are proposed by the city. This would call for a new terminal of the stage line, as at the present time the stages stop on the main highway to load and unload passengers.

Carl J. Sundberg, assistant general traffic manager; J. H. Hodge, assistant general manager, both of Los Angeles, and L. F. Mershon, San Diego, represented the Pacific Greyhound Lines. They inspected the business section and marked places suitable for a terminal. They stated that as soon as possible a new terminal would be selected by the stage company.

TRAIN WRECKS AUTO BUT DRIVER ESCAPES

UPLAND, Nov. 12.—James A. Anderson of San Bernardino Road in the Cucamonga district is minus his automobile, but he has his life, which he also nearly lost. Driving his automobile across the Tenth-street crossing of the Pacific Electric Railroad tracks Anderson failed to see an oncoming train. In the resultant crash his automobile was demolished, but Anderson was only shaken and slightly bruised.

COURTHOUSE ANNEX BEGUN

T. G. Gabbert, Chairman of Ventura County Board of Supervisors, Officially Starts Job

VENTURA, Nov. 12.—Work on the new Courthouse Annex and County Jail officially got under way this morning as the first pile was driven into the ground, loosed by a cord which was severed by T. G. Gabbert, chairman of the Board of Supervisors.

More than 100 of the huge piles will be sunk for the foundation of the structure. Attending the ceremonies this morning with Gabbert were the other board members—W. S. Rotsler, E. D. Goodenough and T. S. Clark.

A. J. Dingeman, Supervisor who resigned last week, and Joseph D. McGrath, Dingeman's successor, appointed Saturday by Gov. Young, also were in the party.

Following the brief ceremonies McGrath took his oath of office, administered by Gabbert, in the board rooms.

NIGHT SERGEANT TALKS

Nocturnal Hours at Ontario Police Station Just One Thing After Another, From Pulling Teeth for Tourists to Escorting Women Home

ONTARIO, Nov. 12.—The ways of a policeman on duty at the police station are interesting, and his nights are not always drab and colorless.

E. P. Onderdonk, night desk sergeant, today revealed how it is that things are kept moving during the hours of the night.

One morning at 2 o'clock a tourist rushed into the police station wailing loudly over a toothache. He reported he had called all the dentists in town by telephone but couldn't get any results. Would the desk sergeant please pull the offending molar?

Onderdonk told him his office wasn't equipped for such molar operations, but the tourist said it didn't matter. He produced a pair of pliers and told him to go ahead. Officers painted the tooth with iodine, and then united their strength in extracting the tooth. The tourist was highly pleased at the operation.

Another night a tall, lanky tourist entered with an armload of postcards. He didn't have any stamps and requested the police to see that they got mailed back to his friends in Arkansas.

Calls are received frequently from mothers who want a policeman to come over to tend the baby while they go out some place. Other women call for policemen to escort them home on dark nights, and motorists make calls often for certain types of tools with which to work on their cars.

"OLD GRADS" COMING BACK

Douglas G. McPhee, of Class of '22, University of Redlands, to Address Homecoming Event

REDLANDS, Nov. 12.—Douglas G. McPhee, representing the alumni, will speak at the homecoming banquet at the University of Redlands to be held Saturday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the Currier gymnasium. McPhee, of the class of '22, and one of Redlands' most successful alumni, is at present the editor of Western Advertising and Western Business, published at San Francisco, and the leading magazine in its field issued west of the Mississippi. The address of the evening will be given by Dr. Frederic P. Woellner of U.C.L.A.

McPhee is a member of the editorial board of the University of Redlands Alumnus, and a former director of the alumni association. During his college career here he demonstrated his versatility by the many offices he held and the activities he entered. He served as president of the Associated Students, editor of the Campus and a member of the La Letra staff. While a student here he was a winner of the Southern California Oratorical Contest and third-place winner in the national Pi Kappa Delta oratorical contest. He also went on the eastern debate trip and was interested in dramatics. Since McPhee is a very able speaker, an enjoyable message is expected.

Prof. H. C. Merrill of the department of history since 1920 at the university has been secured as master of ceremonies. Prof. Merrill is a past president of the Kiwanis Club. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa from his alma mater, Colgate, and is one of the founders of the Redlands scholarship society, Delta Alpha. Dr. V. L. Duke, as chairman of the homecoming committee, will speak as president of the university.

Carey K. Berger of the class of '17 will sing several baritone solos during the evening. He was a member of the University of Redlands octet, while on the campus, and was with this group on its tour of the State. He was also winner of the Jones oratorical contest. Berger is now a member of the faculty of Franklin High School of Los Angeles. Until recently he has been assistant superintendent of the Whittier State School. Formerly he acted as director of part-time education of the Pasadena High School and past president of the alumni chapter of Phi Delta Kappa of Southern California.

Other features of the program will be announced later.

CAST FOR 'TAHQUITZ' COMPLETED

Intensive Rehearsals for Palm Springs Desert Play Begin There

PALM SPRINGS, Nov. 12.—With intensive rehearsals started today, complete cast of the 1930 Desert Play, "Tahquitz," scheduled to open here this coming Saturday, has just been announced by Phil Whiting, the director.

Wallace MacDonald, of film fame, and Dolores Brown, young screen and stage ingenue, will present the leading romantic roles, while the personnel of principals includes Jeffrey Williams, Kenneth Randall, David Henderson, Adelaide Schumann, Arthur Lovejoy, Hal Crane, James Nudeen, Jack Carington, George Gerwin, Elizabeth Ross and Eulalie Jensen.

Among the principals just added to the cast, Henderson is known for his appearances with Lucile La Verne in "Sun Up;" Crane is a writer and actor famed as the author of "The Little General;" Lovejoy has appeared for eight years in the Pilgrimage Play and many local productions; Randall has been starred in outdoor productions, and Nudeen has played the madman for the past eight years in the Pilgrimage Play.

In supporting roles will be fourteen Indian Thespians from the St. Boniface School at Banning and prominent members of the art and literary colony at Palm Springs. The play will be presented in a natural amphitheater in Tahquitz Canyon at the city limits of the resort, without the use of artificial properties of any kind, just as it was first produced ten years ago by the late Garnet Holme, wizard of California pageantry.

Student-Built Plane Damaged by Torch Fire

GLENDALE, Nov. 12.—The work of students in the mechanical arts department of the Glendale Junior College, extending over several months, came near going up in smoke when an acetylene torch came in contact with the airplane that they had constructed.

Firemen, students and instructors combined to beat out the fire that threatened not only the airplane but the entire Mechanical Arts Buildings, before it was controlled. The upper wing of the plane was damaged by the fire but no official estimate of the injury was reported, as the plane was constructed largely for educational purposes.

Just what the students hoped to accomplish with the plane remains a mystery, for, as one of the pupils commented after the fire, "all that we ever expected to do with the craft was to get it out and run it around the yard, without getting it into the air."

Bank Returns to Old Hours

SOUTH GATE, Nov. 12.—After the officials of the banks of the Southeast District, about twenty in number, entered an agreement several weeks ago to keep the banking institutions open on Saturday from 9:45 a. m. until 1 p.m. and remaining closed for the remainder of the day, Fred J. Theriot, president of the Firestone Park State Bank, and J. V. Hogan, cashier, state that, beginning with next Saturday, the bank will close at the noon hour, and will open in the evening at 6 o'clock for a two-hour period, returning to the former Saturday schedule.

The banking officials state that they have received heavily signed petitions from the merchants and the residents of their section of the district to return to the former Saturday opening schedule, so that the workers residing in this immediate section may have an opportunity to cash their pay checks and do their Saturday-night shopping without inconvenience.

This bank is the first to announce that the new Saturday plan will be voided, giving way to the former plan of Saturday opening hours.

Five Brush Fires Set Near Upland

UPLAND, Nov. 12.—Authorities are seeking to learn the identity of pyromaniacs, who, during the height of a heavy wind, set five brush fires in the vicinity, which were detected and extinguished before they could do any damage.

One blaze was set near Lone Hill. Members of Upland Post of the American Legion happened to be near by and responded to the call for help and in a short time extinguished the fire, after it had swept five acres.

Two fires were set in East Nineteenth street, one at Sixteenth street and the other south of Tenth street.

In one instance an automobile was seen speeding across a dirt road just at dusk. A moment later the fire sprang up and, aided by the wind, swept over five acres before it was halted.

PEN season for loose talk and loose thinking on what is oracularly called The iness Situation is right now in full swing.

homely fact is, business is neither as bad the croakers say, nor as good as the hopers ld like to believe.

ry hard-bitten realist who today sits closd with his worries in the Front Office knows sales are tough to get, but can be had.

he knows that general prosperity, like a or football victory, is not to be won solely the vocal pep of the cheering section.

O sane man expects boom business in America to return in parade formation n a given date, like an infantry outfit rting for duty.

re never has been a time in this or any r country when all businesses were prosng, or all businesses were not.

ht now, there are bright particular stars shining profitably in commercial twilight — in every line of merchandise that you ld name.

on-cutting will be generally in order when enough other firms late their stalwart example, and compel the record sales they desire.

you want to hasten that day in your case, now is a fine time to pplant the idle question "How's business?" with "Where's ness?"

r than that, take a good, unwishful, morning-after look at your uct, your sales plans, yourself.

Is the commodity you make and hope to sell, styled, finished, priced to present needs—if your market knew the facts about it would it sell itself?

Is your selling-energy out full-limit, are your sales and advertising plans extraordinarily gauged to extraordinary resistances—or are you cutting the power just as you are trying to make the hill?

About yourself, and this is more important than you might think: along with experience, imagination, judgment—have you a plenitude of plain old-fashioned Nerve?

If your business yields the right answer to these three simple and elemental questions, bet on America and don't worry about where you are going from here!

It is marching steadily ahead now as it has for thirty years, to the tune of an additional hundred thousand readers every year, exactly on the course it charted for itself a long, long time ago.

It is continuing to seek out and sift out, by force of its character, interest and authority, the hand-picked core and center of the wealthiest public on earth—that hub three-million-strong which turns the taste, thinking, buying, of the other millions in this land.

CONVENTION OF GRANGE OPENS

"Equality for Agriculture" Set Forth as Keynote

Taber, National Executive, Submits His Program

Six Suggestions for Farm Betterment Offered

ROCHESTER (N. Y.) Nov. 12.—With the keynote "Equality for Agriculture," the sixty-fourth annual convention of the National Grange opened here today. Delegates from more than thirty States heard National Master Louis J. Taber in his annual address urge a program which includes better marketing, reclamation and immigration restriction, and a more justly distributed system of taxation.

Mr. Taber's address sounded the keynote of the ten-day meeting, which will bring here more than 2000 delegates and unofficial visitors.

SUGGESTIONS OFFERED

The Grange master offered six suggestions to accomplish the readjustment which he said is needed to help agriculture establish itself on a firm economic basis. They are briefly:

(1.) Stabilization of values.

(2.) A higher price level for farm commodities.

(3.) More justly distributed system of taxation.

(4.) Extension of the Federal farm loan system.

(5.) Readjustment of the nation's freight rate structure.

SPECULATION ASSAILED

Criticising the speculation in grain on the Chicago Board of Trade, Mr. Taber said:

"As long as this present system remains with its violent price manipulations, it is obvious that there must be a method of protection by hedging for the safeguarding of the buyer and processor, but when hedging and short selling take the form of speculation and gambling in the necessities of life, the public is injured.

"Unfortunately for the American farmer, our present marketing structure operates with no concern as to the price he receives, it is a sad commentary on our present boasted wheat marketing program that, during the recent period of agricultural's greatest depression and the grain grower's consequent distress, the Chicago Board of Trade erected a $12,000,000 building, while the producer suffers near annihilation."

The National Grange master urged governmental action to stop gambling in "phantom wheat" and said the same medicine should be given to individual gamblers in the pit as was administered to the soviet government of Russia.

DEBENTURE DEMAND

Mr. Taber renewed his demand for the export debenture as a means of bringing about equality for agriculture. He called attention to the fact that the Grange always has supported the present Federal Marketing Act, was the first group to even suggest such legislation, and voiced insistence that this new governmental agency be given full chance to demonstrate its usefulness. He pointed out that while the new tariff act attempts to correct tariff inequalities affecting agriculture, nevertheless "the agricultural increases are practically offset by industrial increases, while increased farm costs will absorb a measure of increased income under the present tariff act."

One of Mr. Taber's outstanding declarations was in favor of a bureau of reclamation and irrigation transfer to the Department of Agriculture from the Department of the Interior, in order, he said, that present conflicting policies as between a surplus in agricultural products and the opening up of new farm lands may be checked.

PROHIBITION LAUDED

Mr. Taber characterized the Eighteenth Amendment "as the greatest moral reform of the century" and declared it must be sustained, declaring its supporters must awaken or they will lose the fruits of their great victory, he said:

"Education must be continued, publicity for prohibition, results obtained and the truth brought to the public. The Grange stands absolutely dry and will mobilize all its mighty energies back of national prohibition and increasingly rigid enforcement."

Mr. Taber recommended a program calling for extensive construction of farm-to-market roads immediately on the completion of trunk routes.

Financier Ends Life After Note to Undertaker

DETROIT, Nov. 12. (AP)—Bart H. Manning, prominent Detroit financier and clubman who shot himself early today, died tonight at Cottage Hospital, Grosse Pointe. He was 47 years of age.

Financial reverses were said to account for his act. He was reputed to have lost $2,000,000 in the stock market.

Manning posted a special delivery letter last night to Edgar C. Marshall, a close friend who is an undertaker. In that letter Manning announced his intention of taking his life and told where his body might be found.

Manning was found there by police, a bullet wound near his heart.

Mark Daniels's Spouse Granted Divorce at Reno

RENO, Nov. 12. (AP)—Mark Daniels, prominent landscape artist and former landscape engineer for the United States national parks, was divorced here today by Frances Turner Daniels, on grounds of cruelty.

Mrs. Daniels charged her husband drank to excess in recent years, causing her much humiliation at social affairs and resulting on several occasions in her having to take him home from parties.

Daniels is prominent in club life in San Francisco and Los Angeles and author of a number of articles on home building and landscaping.

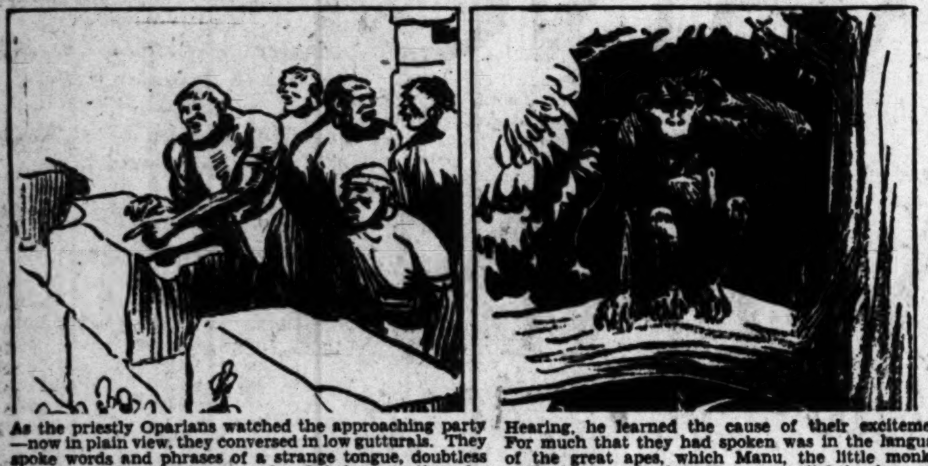
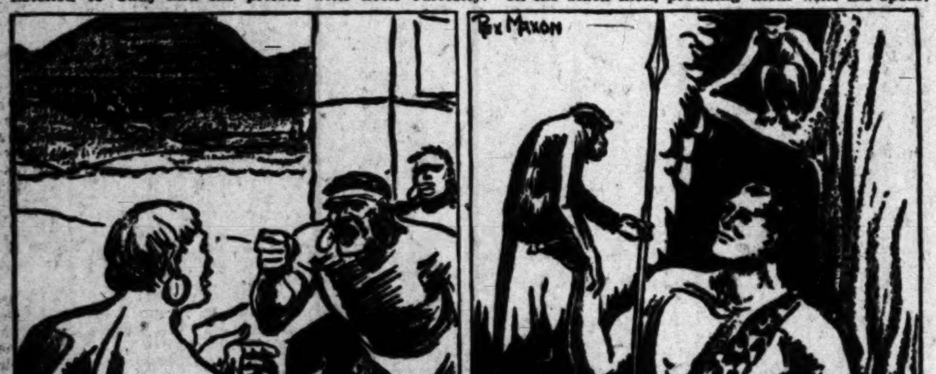
TARZAN AND THE GOLDEN LION

By Edgar Rice Burroughs



As the priestly Oparians watched the approaching party—now in plain view, they conversed in low gutturals. They spoke words and phrases of a strange tongue, doubtless forms of an ancient language handed down to them by that now extinct race whose cities and civilization lie buried beneath the tossing waves of the Atlantic. The strangers plodded laboriously beneath the now declining equatorial sun, across the rocky, barren valley. From amidst the giant tree foliage a solmen, sad-faced monkey, listened to Cadj and his priests with keen curiosity. Hearing, he learned the cause of their excitement. For much that they had spoken was in the language of the great apes, which Manu, the little monkey, understood perfectly. He swung lightly from the tree to the pavement and hid behind one of the massive granite rocks. Here, he watched in comparative safety one of the younger priests who was speaking. "It is he, Cadj. The great Tarmangani, Tarzan of the Apes. I see him plainly. He is urging on his black men, prodding them with his spear."



The High Priest scowled in rage. "Come he shall not," he cried, "call forth a hundred fighting men. We will meet these intruders as they come through the outer wall and slay them one by one." "But La," ventured a priest, "has promised the friendship of Opar to Tarzan of the Apes . . . That time many moons ago when the ape-man saved her from the tusks of infuriated Tantor." "Silence," screamed Cadj, "La shall never know until it is too late. He shall die this time, not as a sacrifice, but by my own hands." Jumping up and down in a sort of frenzy the hideous creature fairly frothed with anger. Manu, the monkey, hearing all this, almost burst with excitement. He knew Tarzan of the Apes; as all the migratory monkeys the length and breadth of Africa knew him—he knew him for a friend and protector. To Manu, the males of Opar were neither beast, man nor friend. He knew them as cruel and surly creatures who ate the flesh of his kind and he hated them accordingly. He was therefore greatly exercised at the plot he had heard discussed which was aimed at the life of the great Tarmangani—or "white ape," as Tarzan was called by the jungle animals.

January Fixed for Upturn in Steel Industry

NEW YORK, Nov. 12. — Although the immediate outlook remains unimproved, the iron and steel trade is banking on an upturn in January as precedent points to some measure of recovery at that time, just as it offers little hope of a change in trend in the remaining weeks of 1930, according to Iron Age.

It was undoubtedly with an eye to the first quarter of next year that the foremost steel interest took the initiative this week in an effort to stabilize prices on plates, shapes and bars. The naming of minimum quotations of 1.60 cents, Pittsburgh, was the first formal price announcement to be made in nearly two years by a leading maker of heavy steel products. The prices represent neither a reduction nor an advance, but are calculated to stiffen the resistance of producers to concessions, which have been most frequent on large tonnages of plates and shapes going into structural fabricating projects.

Consumers' stocks, already depressed, are being further reduced and on January 1, next, are expected to be the lowest in many years. The drastic character of the deflation of inventories is counted on to add force to the rebound in demand early in 1931.

Sinclair Oil and Prairie Deal Dropped

NEW YORK, Nov. 12. (AP)—It was learned at the offices of the Sinclair Consolidated Oil Corporation today negotiations for a merger with the Prairie Oil and Gas Company had been discontinued, due to inability to agree on terms satisfactory to both parties.

That the deal had run into a snag was indicated earlier in the week when an official of Prairie issued a statement denying reports that it had been concluded. Harry F. Sinclair, head of Sinclair Consolidated, is in Chicago attending the meeting of the American Petroleum Institute.

Failure of this merger imposes an obstacle in the way of ambitious merger plans which the Sinclair organization has been working out for several months. The company recently acquired the Pierce Petroleum Corporation, and has been reported in Wall street to be welding a nation-wide unit expected to have resources of about $1,000,000,000.

ANALYSIS ISSUED OF MIDWEST UTILITY

R. L. Dunn, Jr., & Co., San Francisco and Los Angeles investment house, has just issued a report on Mid-West States Utilities Company, which points out the fact that the company's Class "A" common stock is now selling at approximately four times its 1929 earnings, and other interesting information.

STRAUS SECURITIES SALES RECORD GAIN

Pacific Coast offices of S. W. Straus & Co., report an increase of 14½ per cent in October sales over September and a gain of 19 per cent over October, 1929. The Los Angeles office showed a sales gain of 8 per cent and the San Francisco office a gain of 30 per cent over September of this year.

MERGERS RUN INTO SNAGS

Failure of Sinclair Discussion Illustrates Difficulties in Trading During Depression Times

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Failure of the Sinclair Consolidated-Prairie Pipe Line negotiations to reach a satisfactory conclusion, as reported yesterday from New York, is another illustration of the difficulty in trading when stock-market prices are deflated sharply from the previous high levels.

In such times the parties to the proposed merger are farther apart on the question of values than in normal times. It is only natural for one company to insist its own values are unfairly appraised by current stock prices and to contend the values of the others are more closely aligned with prices.

HOLDERS OBJECT

It is also difficult to submit consolidation proposals to stockholders that provide for an exchange of stock on a basis sharply reduced from previous fancy prices. Stockholders as a rule fail to distinguish between price and value, and will not approve proposals that should potentially improve earning power but indicate a present loss at trading prices.

If the consolidation involves a trade on the basis of the appraised value of assets, the troublesome question enters of what the assets are entitled to earn. The selling company will argue for an average over a period of years with only incidental consideration given to earnings during the depression period. But the company on the buying side, not knowing how long depression will continue, will insist on more weight placed on depressed earning power.

Trades predicated chiefly on capitalization of income run into the same question of the weight applicable to present earnings. One party will endeavor to ignore or subordinate current earnings as unnatural and subnormal, while the other will give emphasis to the present trend.

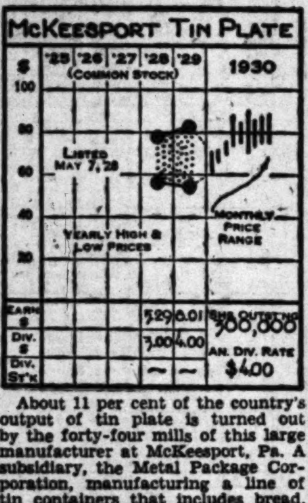
OTHER PROBLEMS

Questions of capitalization for the new company and financing of the consolidation also present more than the usual difficulty. It is not so simple to set up a capital structure when the money market does not clearly indicate what type of securities will best meet requirements over the next few years. Nor is it a simple matter to sell the securities chosen to the public, if the consolidation requires public financing.

When business is prosperous and investors and speculators are plainly displaying marked preferences for certain types of securities, the capitalization problem is greatly simplified. Then the fiscal experts are more certain of how much funded debt the new company can carry, how to adjust bond redemption and retirement programs, conversion privileges, proportions of preferred and common stocks, etc.

Any number of mergers are hanging fire at this time because of these difficulties. Many were under discussion at the time the stock market collapsed last year and have been continued in the hope an accord could be reached. But the rule of experience points to the consummation during depression times of only those trades in which one party is forced by financial necessity to agree to terms.

WHAT'S BEHIND YOUR STOCK



About 11 per cent of the country's output of tin plate is turned out by the forty-four mills of this large manufacturer at McKeesport, Pa. A subsidiary, the Metal Package Corporation, manufacturing a line of tin containers that includes bread, candy and cigar boxes, condensed milk cans, etc., uses about 25 per cent of the parent organization's annual production. The many new uses for tin containers developed by the company's chief customers, the large can manufacturers, have permitted a steady expansion of sales and earnings in the past few years. The extensive possibilities in the use of tinned foods would indicate no reversal of the trend.

In 1929, earnings were 52 per cent greater than in the previous year, with per share results in last year at $8.01. Despite the depressed state of general business, McKeesport was able to show a still further marked improvement over 1929 half yearly returns, $3.61 in that period comparing very favorably with the $5.04 earned in the first six months of 1930.

CAPITALIZATION

Funded debt .... None
Common stock (no par) .... 300,000 shares

Current data: It was estimated September 24, 1930, that total 1930 results will approximate between $9 and $10 a share on the outstanding shares of the company.

Transamerica Banks Out of Agency Field

Banks of the Transamerica system in the future will not deal in fire insurance but will handle such business through recognized insurance agents, according to an announcement yesterday by A. J. Mount, president of the Bank of America, N. A.

In a letter to Percy H. Goodwin, president of the National Association of Insurance Agents, San Diego, Mr. Mount said the conclusion had been reached that the insurance business is highly technical and should be undertaken only by brokers fully qualified in the various ramifications of the business. In the past, Americommercial Corporation, subsidiary of Transamerica, has acted as a general fire-insurance agent.

The decision to abandon the fire-insurance field as a general agent was also reached because the bank deems it more advisable to build up its wholly owned fire-insurance company, Pacific National Fire Insurance Company, than to continue the fire-insurance activities of Americommercial Corporation.

The National Association of Insurance Agents for many years has been resisting the encroachment of financial institutions on the insurance business and this action by the Transamerica banks is expected to strengthen the association's position in this regard, according to its officials.

Retailers are holding down purchases to absolute requirements and in all Southern California areas it is reported that all lines are below a year ago with collections very slow and with only a slim chance for recovering this year, according to the summary.

For the past five months Mr. Chaffey has been traveling in Europe and will return to Los Angeles the latter part of this month.

Tire Inventory Total Declines

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Production of pneumatic casings by United States tire manufacturers in September, according to Rubber Manufacturers' Association, totaled 3,365,444, or 24 per cent below August production of 4,165,611 and comparing with output of 4,460,250 pneumatic casings in September, 1929. Shipments in September were 4,405,176, against 5,174,875 in August and 5,623,465 in September of last year.

Excess of shipments over production in September resulted in further cut in inventory. Stocks of pneumatic casings on September 30 totaling 9,811,764, against 10,847,705 on August 31, and 12,875,189 at end of September, 1929, declines of 10.6 per cent and of 10.6 per cent and of 10.6 per cent and 23.8 per cent, respectively.

NEW OIL REMEDY OFFERED

Institute Advised to Stop Gas Wastage; E. B. Reeser Named Head; L. P. St. Clair Honored

CHICAGO, Nov. 12. (AP)—Another remedy for the ills of the oil industry was prescribed before the American Petroleum Institute today—C. B. Ames, vice-president of the Texas Company, urging legislation to prevent wastage of natural gas.

In a paper before the unit operation division, Ames praised the efforts already made as well as the future plans for limiting production. He suggested that by stopping the 2,000,000,000 cubic feet of gas that is being blown in the air every day, the United States could not only cut down production to a point where the oil industry might recover, but also save millions of dollars annually and conserve an irreplacable resource.

The gas, which he said is being wasted principally in California, Oklahoma and Texas, brings to the surface more than 400,000 barrels of oil per day and also produces large quantities of natural gasoline which is not needed at this time.

WOULD BOOST CRUDE

"A reduction of 400,000 barrels of crude per day and a reduction of the natural gasoline output derived from the wasted gas would have an immediate effect upon the crude situation of incalculable value to the industry," Ames said, adding that "better refinery prices and reduction of stocks above ground would follow."

Pointing out the oil and gas resources are irreplacable and when they are once exhausted they are permanently exhausted, Ames urged each State take advantage of the Federal statutes enabling it to stop the flow of wasted gas.

Ames agreed with previous speakers in saying the utilization of oil pools was a theory "so obviously sound that there is practically no division of opinion as to its desirability."

One of the earlier papers, prepared by John P. West of the Prairie Oil and Gas Company, Tulsa, said the unit plan was not only "legally and from all leasing standpoints sound and practical, but it is in line with economic thought and an elaboration of the co-operation and conservation movement."

Discussing the subject from still another angle, T. E. Swigart of the Shell Oil Company, Los Angeles, took up the engineering and economic aspects and asserted unitization is the best suited policy to accomplish the desired results—cooperation to avoid evils of competitive development, regulation of output to avoid overproduction, and fair division of current and ultimate revenues from underground deposits of oil and gas among rightful owners.

Swigart quoted figures to show unit development and operation of oil pools could have produced earnings as much as 170 per cent higher and reduced production costs by as much as 64 per cent.

RESEARCH APPROVED

The directors today approved the continuation of fundamental research in petroleum begun five years ago with gifts of $250,000 each from John D. Rockefeller and the Universal Oil Products Company. The institute directors approved a plan for raising a special fund of $100,000 a year to continue this research into the occurrence and recovery, and the composition and properties of petroleum. Individual companies will be asked to contribute to the fund.

The directors, who were in session nearly all day, also re-elected E. B. Reeser of Tulsa president of the institute and named the following vice-presidents: L. P. St. Clair, Los Angeles; Robert P. Penn, Dallas; R. C. Holmes, New York; E. G. Seubert, Chicago. Other officers were W. R. Boyd, Jr., New York, executive vice-president; A. L. Beatty, New York, treasurer; Lacey Walker, New York, secretary.

COVERING MOVE HALTS SETBACK

Opening Declines Canceled in Afternoon Rally

General Price Level Shade Higher at Closing

Total Turnover in Sessions 3,334,000 Shares

NEW YORK, Nov. 12. (AP)—The speculative pendulum swung widely on the stock market today. Early declines of 2 to 5 points sent prices to new lows, but the reaction was equally vigorous and final quotations were 1 to 5 net higher on a turnover of 3,334,020 shares.

The rally, like yesterday's, came in the afternoon. Its basis was an oversold situation in the market which needed little stimulation to put the shorts to covering. That impetus was afforded by the half-cent rise in copper prices, the first advance in red metal this year, and when it was announced the response was prompt.

The day's business news was mixed. Copper's return to 10 cents a pound offset the October increase in stocks of the metal. But with a production curtailment program believed to be virtually assured and a further stiffening of prices expected, the outlook for the industry appeared better. Pennsylvania crude-oil quotations were reduced, steel operations showed a drop of about 4 per cent for the past week, and loadings of freight declined, although the loss was less than seasonal.

Shorts who had little faith in the rally, in view of the fact scores of stocks had just touched new lows, and who continued to sell after the advance had started, found their immediate position uncomfortable, for the market closed at the top. The upward move began in the copper stocks, which have had such scant cheer in these many months of declining earnings and dividend

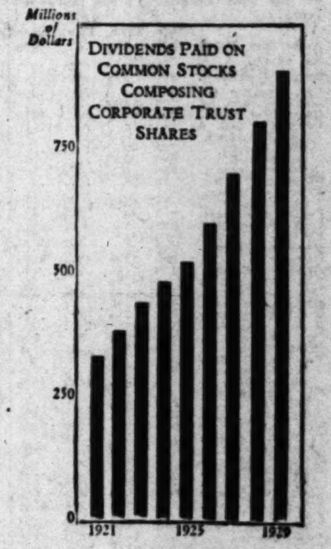
THE investment strength and popularity of Corporate Trust Shares are not based on an exceptional cash return in "peak years" but on the consistent year-in-and-year-out record of dependability established by the 28 leading corporations whose common stocks comprise this fixed investment trust.



It is true that Corporate Trust Shares paid the largest cash returns of any comparable trust for 1929. But of far greater importance is the long record of consistent growth in profits of the 28 underlying companies which have paid dividends without interruption for an average of 33 years.

These shares are issued in simple, convenient bearer form with dividend coupons attached. These coupons provide for a minimum cash return of 70c per annum or over 7% on today's price and are backed by a reserve fund on which interest is paid to shareholders. Taking this 70c per share as cash income and reinvesting the balance of the indicated annual cash distributions in additional shares, an investment in Corporate Trust Shares in 1913 would have shown an average appreciation of approximately 26% per annum for the past 17 years.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Stocks Rally in Spirited Fashion After Early Bear Attack Marks New Bottoms

After a vigorous wave of selling had swept more than a dozen issues into new record low ground on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday, a brisk buying movement was initiated which resulted in a sharp and immediate rebound. The rally gained momentum on a report of an advance in copper prices and was sustained to the close, leaving final quotations at the highest levels for the session with irregular gains and losses compared with Monday's close, the last previous trading day.

Union Oil, Union Associates and Standard Oil of California featured with the most notable recuperative demonstration. Union Oil hit a new bottom at 25 1-4 and closed at 27 3-8 for a net gain of 1 3-4 points. Union Associates swung up from 24 1-2 to end at 26 3-8, up 1 5-8 net. NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Nov. 12. (AP)—Curb shares made further irregular recovery today in sympathy with the flurry of short covering on the big board. The market was a little less active than yesterday, sales aggregating 731,800 shares.

The copper shares moved up a point or two, but as the copper group in this market is comparatively small the increase in copper metal prices did not have as stimulating an influence on the general list as it did on the big board. Noranda and Newmont each gained 2, and Roan Antelope, South African producer, mounted 1. Bunker Hill & Sullivan, which produces other nonferrous metals, also rose 2 points.

The recovery was again most conspicuous in the utilities, but it lacked yesterday's vigor. The market sold off early and did not get far above yesterday's final prices in the late rally. Electric Bond & Share and American Superpower were active features, and together with Middle West, American Gas and St. Regis they gained about a point.

Oils were somewhat irregular. Cities Service recovered ½, closing at 19, and Indiana and Gulf were about steady. Kentucky rose a point, but Humble sagged about 2 to a new low.

In the industrials, U. S. Gypsum rose 2 points in response to an extra dividend of 50 cents. Fox Theaters "A" rose 1½ in sympathy with strength in Fox Film. American Cyanamid rose ½ to 10½. Anglo Chilean Nitrate touched a new low at 13½, and closed at 14, off 1.

In the investment trusts, the Shenandoah, Blue Ridge and Selected Industries preferred issues sagged a point or two to new lows. Goldman-Sachs Trading, however, rallied ½ of a point. United Founders dropped to 9, then rallied to close at 10, up ¼.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low and both low and close when same as the high.

Not to Worry Over the Money You have Worked for

Most of us work reasonably hard for our money. We expect it to buy us peace and contentment and security in after years. Once we have accumulated a nest-egg, we should not have to worry constantly about its safety. Our money should work for us as faithfully as we have worked for it.

Scores of thousands of your neighbors, from an experience dating back to the very beginning of the century, will tell you that Southern California Edison Preferred is an investment that you do not have to worry over. It is sold at $25 par and is purchasable for as little as $5 per share per month. It pays dividends by check regularly, four times a year. Returns are not fabulously high, but they are famously sure. Your name and address on the coupon below will bring our most recent folder describing this security.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Nov. 12. (AP)—Many new lows for the year were established in the bond market today as a heavy tone dominated trading in the investment division, despite the rally which developed in equity issues near the close.

Only a small section of the list presented a firm appearance consistent with the easy tone of the money market. United States governments were again strong and a few high-grade rails and utilities advanced fractionally. Otherwise a lower trend was in evidence, being particularly marked in second and third-grade rails and industrials.

A feature of the irregularly lower trend of foreign bonds was the outbreak of liquidation that sharply depressed German loans and was communicated to some other European obligations. German 5½s, the international loan floated under the Young plan six months ago, dipped 1¾ points to a new low price at 73½.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low and both low and close when same as the high.

Massachusetts Investors Trust

LEADERSHIP
"HOW QUICKLY CAN I SELL MY SHARES?"

Since 1924 the bid price for Massachusetts Investors Trust shares has been firm for any quantity offered—the price always based on the net asset value of the portfolio.

Despite the trying days of last November, never for a moment was the bid withdrawn. Few other trusts maintained their bid price during this period. The investor in M. I. T. shares is positively assured that under all conditions he may easily and quickly convert his shares into cash.

Investors will sooner or later learn to distinguish between those trusts which are readily marketable at all times—and those which are not.

Massachusetts Investors Trust has set a standard of marketability that other reputable trusts will follow.

From This High-Grade Utility Bond

Obligation of one of the nation's foremost public utility systems

DUE TO a technical situation, these bonds have not followed the general market trend of other high-grade seasoned obligations. They are, in our opinion, attractive investments at present prices. Public utility bonds of comparable merit are now selling on the average to yield approximately 5.50%.

These bonds originally offered in 1928. Listed and actively traded in on the New York Curb Exchange. Earnings of the company after depreciation, 2.05 times interest requirements on entire funded debt. Legal investments for life insurance companies in the state of New York, in the opinion of counsel.

Price: Market, to Yield about 6.15% reductions, and today's good news was quickly translated into substantial gains. Kennecott and American Smelting rose 3 points, Andes 5, Anaconda, Cerro de Pasco, Calumet and Arizona and Phelps Dodge 1 to 2, and the inactive Chile 9.

When the covering became general, United States Steel, down 2 points to 139 1-4 early, rebounded to close at 144, up 3. American Telephone turned a 4-point decline into a net advance of 4 1-2. National Biscuit closed 2 points higher, a recovery of 4 from its low. Amusement shares, which with the food and utilities had led the forenoon break, got back what they had lost. Loew's down 3 points, finished only 1-4 off. Fox rallied 3 points.

Many rails, including Union Pacific and St. Louis Southwestern touched new lows and made only irregular recovery, although Atchison gained 4 net.

Eastman Kodak was up 5.

Stronger Tone Rules Trading in Grain Pits

CHICAGO, Nov. 12. (AP)—Brisk upturns in price took place in all the grain pits today after all cereals had undergone a setback to fresh bottom records. Simultaneous with the late rise of grain values was much talk the record of past cycles of low prices for commodities indicated recoveries were to be looked for. Significance also was attached to reports Farm Board allies would require actual deliveries of about 10,000,000 bushels on December wheat contracts, and the world's available surplus of wheat was 32,000,000 bushels less than estimated.

Closing quotations on wheat were nervous, ⅜@2⅝c a bushel higher than Monday's finish. Corn closed at ⅛c net decline to ⅞c advance, oats ⅛c off to ⅜c up, and provisions unchanged to 32c down.

Corn had a sold-out appearance after early declines, and the market scored a jump of about 3c from the low point. Oats followed wheat and corn.

Provisions were unsettled, but averaged lower, reflecting downturns in hog values.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—The fair supply of cattle on the midweek sessions were slow to move on early rounds, owing largely to stronger asking prices. However, business picked up later in the forenoon and nearly everything changed hands. Steers sold on a strong to 15c higher basis, while she stock held fully steady. California, intermountain and southwestern territory furnished most of the supply.

A load of 1049-pound California steers cashed at 8.00 and was of top medium quality. Odd head of intermountain steers ranged from 7.00@7.65 and three loads of Mexican type steers from the Imperial Valley brought 6.90 and 7.00, averaging 797 and 817 pounds.

Several sizable lots of medium heifers brought 6.25@6.75, with feeder heifers at 5.50@6.25. Nearly two loads of 1107-pound Idaho cows of good quality brought 6.15 with 1087 to 1204-pound Californias and Utahs at 6.00. Bulk of the common to top medium cows scored 4.50@5.75, but sales over 5.50 were limited. Low cutters and cutters ranged from 2.50@4.25 with a load of Arizona feeder cows at 3.35. Good weighty bulls brought 5.60@6.00, with bulk plainer kinds at 4.50@5.40.

CALVES—Calves met with a ready demand at strong to 25c higher prices. A few medium to choice vealers ranged from 10.00@14.00 with a few at 9.50 and below. Lighter weight southwestern calves went to killers at 7.50@9.00 with the heavier weights averaging up to 432 pounds going to feeders at 7.00@7.85.

HOGS—Demand was light and the two loads offered were slow to sell at 10@20c lower prices. A load of 183-pound easterns made 10.40 for yesterday's top, while a load of mixed 180-pound New Mexicos sold at 10.15. A few local fed brought 9.50@10.00 with rather plain packing sows at 8.00.

SHEEP—Nothing was offered early but a deck of trucked-in local fed lambs arrived during the forenoon to sell at about steady rates, common quality considered. The lambs averaged 78 pounds and brought 8.00. Medium to choice lambs, 75 pounds down, are quoted at 6.75@8.10, with medium to choice ewes quoted 3.00@4.00.

Commonwealth of Kentucky
Bridge Revenue 4½% Bonds

(Payable from Bridge Revenues)

$5,101,000 Project 1 — $1,362,000 Project 2 — $944,000 Project 3

Due July 1, 1950

Price 97½ and Accrued Interest, Yielding About 4.70%

A Sinking Fund to be provided from gross tolls of each project, it is estimated, will be sufficient to retire the bonds of each project before maturity.

Exempt from all Federal Income Taxes. Tax Free in the State of Kentucky.

Legal Investment for Savings Banks and Trust Funds in the State of Kentucky.

The following information is taken from official sources:

State Highway System: Kentucky, through its agency, the State Highway Commission, has in recent years extensively modernized its highway system, and is now carrying out the unification of its primary highway system by replacing certain ferries with bridges on some of the principal highways.

Bridge Projects 1, 2 and 3: Bridge Project 1 comprises seventeen intrastate bridges, eight of which are now under construction. Bridge Project 2 is the interstate bridge to be constructed over the Ohio River between Maysville, Kentucky and Aberdeen, Ohio, and Bridge Project 3 is the interstate bridge to be constructed over the Ohio River between Ashland, Kentucky and Coal Grove, Ohio.

Each bridge project is to be operated by the Commission and is separate and distinct from each other project and the gross tolls of the bridge or bridges in each project are applicable solely to the bonds to be outstanding with respect to that project.

Additional bonds may be issued for the nine additional bridges to be included in Project 1 but only to the extent that estimated average tolls for five years, as provided in the indenture, equal at least twice the interest charges on all bonds issued or to be issued for such project.

Completion and Operation: The Commission covenants that the gross tolls of the bridges in each project shall be used only for the service of the bonds of that project and, upon completion, all the cost of operating, maintaining, repairing and insuring the bridges shall be paid from other State funds. The annual interest requirements on these bonds will be covered more than twice by the estimated average annual gross tolls during the first five years of operation.

Security: These bonds are to be issued by the Commonwealth of Kentucky through its agent, the State Highway Commission, which has covenanted to charge tolls sufficient to provide for the payment of interest and retirement of all bonds prior to maturity.

Although the bonds are in no sense a general charge against the Commonwealth, nevertheless the good faith of the Commonwealth is pledged to give its moral support to the payment of both principal and interest of the bonds.

Elimination of Competition: All competition by existing ferries at or near the sites of the bridges included in Projects 1, 2 and 3 is to be eliminated prior to or concurrently with the opening of the bridge or bridges for traffic and this condition is to be maintained during the life of the bonds by purchase of the respective ferries by the State Highway Commission from funds other than those resulting from the proceeds of these bonds.

Construction: The plans and specifications of all of the bridges now to be constructed have been approved by engineers.

We recommend these bonds for investment and shall be pleased to send circulars describing the issue in detail.

Not a machine-made institution!

SIZE OR SEARCH FOR EXCESSIVE PROFIT . . has not changed this old-fashioned, small-town financial institution . . during its growth to three State of California records . . and we old-timers have directed the MUTUAL Building and Loan Association OF POMONA . . through 37½ years without a single reorganization.

We have not sold out to selfishness, new theories of how to get 36 side-profits from borrowers, or any of the changing ideas and ideals which would have made us ashamed among neighbors and friends in Pomona Valley.

WE CARRY UNLIMITED LIABILITY . . behind $3,400,000 paid-in capital, surplus and reserve . . to protect $16,000,000 resources . . safely invested in first trust deeds . . steadily amortizing to insure 6% and safety . . to every client of the MUTUAL Building and Loan Association OF POMONA.

We haven't forgotten economies, and while YOU may not be impressed with the simplicity of 10th floor offices in Los Angeles, through the years of our success, nevertheless you DO like conservatism, sound policies that have been proven, and unassuming safety.

We make no pretense of being financial authorities. But, friend and brother, we KNOW this building and loan business, and how to pay you 6% with safety, after 37½ years through four major depressions.

MOTION PICTURES

Bard's, Eighth, between Broadway and Hill—"The Spoilers."

Boulevard, Washington at Vermont—"Her Wedding Night." Two humorous gentlemen help Clara Bow out of an amusing mess.

California, Main and Eighth—"El Secreto del Doctor." A good story, but not too well handled. Made in Paris.

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center—"Just Imagine." A fantasy and simply swell. El Brendel and Maureen O'Sullivan.

Chinese, 6925 Hollywood—"The Big Trail." Spectacular in setting and photography, this production demonstrates the power and sweep of Grandeur film.

Criterion, 642 South Grand—"Billy the Kid." An exciting series of escapes intensified by the large film. John Mack Brown.

Figueroa, Figueroa at Santa Barbara—"The Spoilers." The third version and not too remarkable. Gary Cooper.

Filmarte, 1228 North Vine—"The Villa Rose." A long, but logical solution of a crime. Interesting.

Forum, Pico at Norton—"The Dawn Patrol." Air thrills and a fine story make this an unusual and well worth-seeing production.

Loew's State, Broadway at Seventh—"Renegades." Opens today.

Majestic, Broadway at Ninth—"Big Boy." Al Jolson's best, if you go for him.

Million Dollar, Broadway at Third—"Monte Carlo." Delightful entertainment by Lubitsch, Jack Buchanan and Jeanette MacDonald.

Pantages, Hollywood at Vine—"Playboy of Paris." Disappointing in spite of Maurice Chevalier.

United Artists, Broadway near Ninth—"Feet First." Reviewed in today's Times.

Warners' Downtown, Hill at Seventh—"The Life of the Party."

STAGE

Belasco, Hill at 11th—"The Bird of Flame." The exotic tropics and that charming vampire, Dorothy Burgess.

El Capitan, Hollyw'd Blvd. nr. Highland—"Parlor, Bedroom and Bath." Charlotte Greenwood strides onto the stage, and the play matters not at all. Destined for a healthy and wealthy run.

Hollywood Playhouse, Vine near Hollywood Blvd.—"Mister Antonio." The favorite Leo Carrillo returns in an ancient vehicle that creaks.

Music Box, Hollywood Blvd., nr. Gower—"The Apple Cart." George Bernard Shaw's prediction of the future is ably portrayed by Alan Mowbray and fellow-actors.

Vine St., Vine near Hollywood Blvd.—"The Green Bottle." Clutching hands and other things that go into a mystery play formula are here in profusion. Oscar Apfel is the featured player.

Letter Bringing Good News Finds Pair Self-Slain

TRENTON (N. J.) Nov. 12. (AP)—If Mrs. Margrette Davis and her 21-year-old daughter Gertrude had waited until the mailman came today they might have changed their minds about suicide.

Their lawyer, Harvey S. Moore, wrote them yesterday about a property settlement of $80 a month just arranged for their support.

Today, before the letter had been delivered, the janitor found them dead together in their apartment, the rooms filled with gas and the window seams stuffed with paper.

A letter to the lawyer, mailed at midnight by Mrs. Davis, said, "You will hear of a bomb going off in our apartment today."

Ancient Chinese Wall Uncovered

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 12. (AP)—What appears to be another section of the Great Wall of China has been discovered in the Gobi Desert by the Sven Hedin expedition, its leader informed the newspaper Dagens Nyheter by telegraph today. It is in the neighborhood of the River Ebsingol, north of Kinta.

NAME OF NEW DRAWN IN QUIZ

Ex-Postal Chief's Lease Deal Under Senate Inquiry

Letter Introduced Involving Detroit Transaction

Indianan Credited as Writer Brands Charge False

CHICAGO, Nov. 12. (AP)—The name of Harry S. New, Postmaster-General during the Harding administration, today was drawn into the Senate investigation of asserted irregularities in the awarding of postoffice leases.

R. D. Brown, Indianapolis contractor, who was awarded the lease on Roosevelt postoffice in Detroit in 1923, was quoted in one letter read into the record as having said that he attended school with the Postmaster-General and as having stated, "I can get any lease I want."

The letter was to Jacob Kulp, Chicago contractor, who bid against Brown for the Detroit lease, from E. N. Munro, Kulp's Detroit agent. Munro wrote that the statement was made during the course of a conversation between him and Brown concerning the bids.

Kulp produced figures showing the highest of his bids for three Detroit sites under consideration in 1923, was for $66,500 annual rental, while Brown's lowest bid was $69,640 annual rental. Nevertheless Brown received the contract.

Senator Blaine of Wisconsin, who heads the committee, taking evidence, said Brown probably will be summoned to Washington to testify at the conclusion of the Chicago hearings.

The inquiry was opened after charges were made the government is paying exorbitant rates for leasing postoffice property.

BROWN CALLS MUNRO STATEMENT RIDICULOUS

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 12. (AP)—R. D. Brown, Indianapolis contractor, tonight termed as "ridiculous" and "plain prevarications" statements he had told E. N. Munro, Detroit agent for Jacob Kulp, Chicago contractor, that he went to school with former Postmaster-General New and could "get any lease I want."

The statements were contained in a letter from Munro to Kulp, introduced today at a Chicago hearing of the Senate committee investigating postoffice leases.

"I don't even know Munro; I never heard of him," Brown said. "So far as I remember, I never met any agent of Kulp's except Kulp himself and James W. Good, who was attorney for Kulp."

"Mr. New is old enough to be my grandfather," Brown went on. "He must be over 70, and I am only 44. The thing is ridiculous."

STEAMSHIP LINE SUED BY ACTRESS

Edith Ransom Demands Million Charging Matson Boat Shanghaied Her

SEATTLE, Nov. 12. (AP)—Attorneys for Edith Ransom, actress, filed a $1,000,000 suit in Superior Court today against the Matson Navigation Company charging she had been "shanghaied" in Honolulu and taken to Yokohama.

The former star of "White Cargo" also charged in the suit the company had caused her arrest in Seattle on her return to the United States.

The trouble arose, the suit said, after she went to Honolulu to act as hostess for the company at a hotel. The company broke the contract, she charged.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12. (AP)—F. A. Bailey, vice-president of Matson Navigation Company, said today Edith Ransom, who filed a $1,000,000 damage suit against the company in Seattle today, charging she was shanghaied aboard a Matson vessel, in reality was a stowaway.

Woman Jailed as Girl's Kidnaper

ROBINSON (Ill.) Nov. 12. (AP)—The story of a woman who posed as a man for nine months while working on a farm in Mississippi and, when unmasked, abducted the daughter of her employer was told today to Sheriff Wallace following the arrest of Mrs. Janet Graham, 25 years of age.

A charge of kidnaping awaits Mrs. Graham, alias Jimmy Johnson, as the result of information supplied by the father of Myrtle Younger, 15, Mayersville, Miss. He said he had trailed the pair to this city.

OIL NEWS

BY HOWARD KEGLEY

State-wide oil curtailment will be continued indefinitely, according to the new agreement being circulated by the various field committees assigned to handle conditions in the oil fields in California.

Circulation of the new agreement started this week. It will become effective November 15, and no expiration date is fixed. In the resolution it definitely states that the production of crude oil in this State, together with the amount of oil in storage, is in excess of market requirements, and it is essential that the present condition be remedied by equitably adjusting the supply to the demand through the cooperative effort of all producers.

It has been generally accepted that the operators who have not signed the old agreement, will not agree to the provisions in the new one, and when new potentials and allowables are set at future meetings of the fact-finding committee, the surplus will be divided between companies willing to handle the overproduction. Oddly enough, several of the operators who in the past declined to share in the oil curtailment program in one Los Angeles basin field, have consented to observe it in other fields.

Under the new agreement, H. Paul Grimm, oil umpire for a majority of the State's oil fields, has been reappointed and is vested with power to check gauges at all wells, to inspect records of production and deliveries, and to fix and determine from time to time the portion of the production allocated to certain fields by the general committee. No revision of the curtailment program is planned and the committees that have been working in conjunction with the umpire's office in the past will continue to serve.

Operators to Curtail

Nearly 70 per cent of present production in the Venice field has been pledged to the oil curtailment agreement being circulated among the various operators there by a special committee appointed at a recent general meeting called for the purpose of encouraging companies to aid in stabilizing crude oil prices.

The deadline set for all operators to join the curtailment movement is Saturday, and by that time it is believed that a majority of the operators will have consented to curtail daily production. As a result of new completions at Venice, its daily yield yesterday soared to 41,400 barrels, and officials frankly admit that it will go higher as soon as the productiveness of the lower and shallow zones is fully demonstrated.

Five new projects at Venice have just been placed on production, increasing the total number of producers there to eighty. There are perhaps a dozen that may be restored when cleaned out to bottom. The Barnsdall-Cypress combination's Burk No. 13-A came in at the rate of 700 barrels daily, and the operator's Burk No. 9 recorded an initial yield of 1200 barrels daily. Frank Allen, independent operator, brought in his No. 1 for 450 barrels daily while the Pan Gulf Petroleum Company's No. 1 and the California Northern Oil Company's No. 4 are swabbing.

Steady Yield

Since completing several days ago, the Dabney-Johnston Oil Corporation's No. 77 in the southeasterly portion of the Signal Hill field, has been producing at the rate of 2400 barrels of oil a day from a depth of 7300 feet. This new producer is near the McKeon Oil Company's No. 7, which is putting out about 950 barrels daily. The West American Oil Company's No. 1 was brought in for 360 barrels daily. Yesterday, Signal Hill flowed 99,500 barrels of oil, as against 95,000 barrels, the allowable set by the fact-finding committee.

Drilling Permits Decine

The number of drilling permits dropped last week, according to the current report of the State Mining Bureau. Of the fourteen permits issued, being ten less than the number issued the preceding week, five were for the Venice oil field, two in the fields of Kern county, one at Kettleman Hills, one each at Dominguez, Signal Hill, Ventura-avenue field, Elwood, Lompoc district and San Luis Obispo county.

Following are permits for Venice: A. T. Jergins Trust's Troxel No. 1, Walter M. Crawford's No. 2, Toy Rebhausen Company's No. 2, Rich Petroleum Company's Swartz No. 1, George Wolfe's No. 5.

Other permits included the following: Dixie Canden Oil Company's No. 1 at Signal Hill, Associated Oil Company's De Frances No. 12 at Dominguez, Shell Oil Company's Taylor No. 66 in Ventura-avenue field, Vaqueros Major Oil Company's Union-Annex No. 3 in Lompoc district, Barnsdall-Rio Grande combination's Tideland Permit No. 88-7, Miracle Petroleum Corporation's No. 1 in San Luis Obispo county, Reward Oil Company's No. 4 in north Belridge district, General Petroleum Corporation's Sill No. 8 in Kern River, Noth American Consolidated's Blauvelt No. 1 at Kettleman Hills.

Gas Waste Less

Since the Superior Oil Company's new absorption plant was placed in operation to treat gas from the Huffman No. 1 on Sec. 29, 21-17 on the north dome of the Kettleman Hill oil field, loss of gas is said to have declined as a result of satisfactory handling. The amount of dry gas which escapes into the air after being treated in the plant, can now be held to the minimum and the most valuable part is converted into casing-head gasoline. The gas not converted to commercial uses is used in operating the plant.

INQUEST SET IN OIL FIRE FATALITIES

Two Workers in Inglewood Field Die and Others Hurt in Blazes Will Recover

An inquest will be conducted at 9:30 a.m. today at the Beaver & Matson undertaking parlors, Inglewood, over the bodies of William L. Murray and S. D. Falls, oil workers who died early yesterday morning as the result of burns received in the fire and explosion that devastated the York-Smullins oil well in the Inglewood-Potrero field Tuesday afternoon.

Albert J. Snow, third man injured in the same blaze, will recover. The three victims of the fire were at work on the well when a spark is believed to have ignited natural gas coming from underground. The explosion and fire followed.

J. H. O'Connor, E. F. Parker and T. F. Cagle, oil-well drillers, burned when a fire broke out Tuesday in the Venice area at the International Petroleum Corporation Company lease, were reported on the road to recovery yesterday. Both the Inglewood and Venice fires were brought under control before they spread to other oil properties.

Realty Board Elects Eleven New Directors

Members of the Los Angeles Realty Board yesterday elected eleven new directors for the board to serve for the next two years. The directors will formally take office January 1, but in about two weeks will meet with ten of the present directorate and elect a president, two vice-presidents, a treasurer and secretary.

New directors added to the board are B. A. Burton, W. Ross Campbell, Robert L. Chambers, John J. Garland, C. W. Grant, A. C. Hastings, E. M. Loftus, George R. Le Baron, E. Avery McCarthy, G. D. Robertson and Roy W. Wheeler.

COUNCIL POSTPONES PARLEY ON OIL TAX

The ordinance levying a tax of 1 per cent of gross income upon oil wells within the city, scheduled to come before the City Council for consideration yesterday, was postponed until tomorrow. The Venice field oil operators have suggested instead a flat license fee of $100 per derrick the first year, with $50 per year thereafter.

CHEST LACKING THIRD OF QUOTA

Report Luncheon Held After Four-Day Silence

Amount Subscribed Now Totals $2,011,436

Committees to Continue in Effort to Fill

Following a period of four days during which no public reports have been made on the progress of the Community Chest campaign, workers gathered for a report luncheon yesterday at the Biltmore to hear what those four days of activity have added to the grand total of campaign figures.

To date the amount subscribed is $2,011,436, or 62.86 per cent of the goal of $3,200,000, leaving $1,188,564 yet to be obtained before workers and officials are willing to call the task finished.

Members of the million-dollar committee teams, headed by R. H. Ballard and Harry Chandler, indicated their determination to continue their work until their divisions go over the top and the same sentiment was echoed by leaders of all other divisions of the army of 15,000 volunteer workers.

That their efforts have not slackened merely because the designated period for the drive has passed, was shown in the general increase in percentages throughout all divisions yesterday, when reports indicated that the majority of teams have passed the halfway mark and are well up in the 60 and 70 per cent register.

TEST OF CIVILIZATION

After an invocation by Dr. Thomas J. O'Dwyer, Dr. Carl C. Patton, pastor of the First Congregational Church, was introduced as the speaker of the day. Declaring that it is surprising how slow this community seems to be to recognize its responsibility to its dependent members, he said that in so far as it continues to disregard this obligation, it is but adding to its burdens for the years to come.

The test of the civilization of any community, he said, is not in the height of its buildings, the length of its railways or the extent of its physical development, but in its answer to the question: 'How far does it feel responsible for those in sorrow, in trouble and in want.' And as this is the test of a community, so is it also the measure of every person in the community, he declared.

He commended the campaign workers on their devotion to the task and told them, to realize the bigness of the thing they are doing, for the Community Chest, he said, is not only an agency of relief but an experiment in education, in the development of a community spirit and in the art of being truly human.

LARGE TEAMS REPORT

Mayor Porter expressed the hope that the workers would continue their efforts until the Chest quota is reached, and Mrs. Robert B. Burdette, president of the Women's Athletic Club, spoke briefly on the need of taking care of our own family before all other consideration.

The Ballard team reported 62 per cent of its goal yesterday and the Chandler team 71 per cent. For the entire central division, with a goal of $1,750,000, the percentage to date, is 71.39

An appreciable advance in the residential district totals was reported yesterday by Mrs. Albert Crutcher, when she announced that the district has reached 62.53 per cent of its quota of $200,000. She also made awards of merit to the following for having reached the highest percentage of their goals: Mrs. E. A. Doran, 304 per cent; Mrs. E. C. Pyle, 121 per cent; Mrs. Frank Duval, 124 per cent; G. G. Spires, 101 per cent, and Clay Welter, 128 per cent.

ANOTHER LUNCHEON

Mrs. Crutcher spoke of the fact that since the Los Angeles Community Chest drive started, there have been twelve drives in other cities of the country, and each one has reached its quota in the time designated for the drive.

Another report luncheon will be held tomorrow in conference rooms 1 and 2 at the Biltmore, at which time the business district trophy will be awarded to the team having the highest percentage of its quota.

The larger donations announced yesterday follow:

NOTED OLD BUILDINGS DOOM NEAR

Council Sends Low Bid on Spring Street Demolition Project to Works Board

The low bid for the demolition of buildings along the line of North Spring street, extending from Temple street to Sunset Boulevard, was forwarded to the City Council yesterday by the Board of Public Works. The Council, in all probability, will authorize the board within the next few days to award the contract to B. C. Karn at $28,080.

The contractor is given sixty days in which to tear down the buildings. The county will pay $5695 of the cost, this representing county buildings which must be razed.

Included in the buildings to be razed are the famous little old County Jail, now used as a storehouse, and the ancient Hall of Justice, where many famous trials were conducted.

Dramatic incidents have occurred within the walls of the old jail building, such as the escape of Clara Phillips, the escape of Herbert Wilson, the parson mail robber, and the murderer of Herbert Cox, Wilson's pal, for which Wilson now is serving a life term in San Quentin.

In the two small courtrooms in the old Hall of Justice, now used for traffic violations, Harry New, Madelaine Obenchain and Arthur Burch and others were tried.

SEWER PLEA APPROVED

A petition asking for the construction of sewers in the Shenandoah street and Eighteenth street district yesterday received the approval of the City Council.

CITRUS RECORDS BROKEN

Cash Return to California Growers for 1930 Crop Sets New High Mark of $135,000,000

The California citrus crop this year has brought $135,000,000 to the growers of the State, exceeding by approximately $16,000,000 the total for the previous year and thereby bringing to California the largest cash return in the history of its citrus industry, according to a report issued yesterday by E. G. Dezell, general manager of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange. This substantiates the forecast published exclusively in The Times indicating that the cash receipts would total a record-breaking figure.

The increase has been due to higher prices this year, thereby offsetting a decrease in production, the report discloses. The exchange co-operatively markets almost all of the State's citrus fruits.

Total shipments of citrus fruit from California and Arizona in 1929-30 were 59,656 cars, compared with 88,363 the year before, says the report.

"The outstanding financial record made by California citrus fruit in the past season is even more remarkable when general business conditions throughout the country and lower buying power are considered," said Dezell.

"Twenty-three years of continuous Sunkist advertising to educate the American public in the health values of California citrus fruits have had marked effect. This, coupled with proper control and distribution of the crop through co-operation between producers, and standardized practices in grading and packing the fruit has been a most important factor in placing the California citrus industry in the favorable position it holds today among other agricultural products."

Returns to exchange shippers on the crop of the season ending October 31, last, reached $104,902,615.03, the value of cars yet unsold

SAN JUAN SHIPWRECK RECALLED

Aggregate of $2,000,000 in Claims Being Heard Here as Sequel to Tragedy

Tragedy, which followed the ramming of the steamer San Juan, a passenger vessel, by the Standard Oil tanker, S. C. T. Dodd, on August 31, 1929, off the coast south of San Francisco, was revived yesterday in a hearing before United States Commissioner Williams of San Francisco, sitting as special master in admiralty. Seventy persons lost their lives in the wreck, and claims made are from heirs.

Commissioner Williams is hearing claims, aggregating $2,000,000 against the Standard Oil Company of California and the Los Angeles and San Francisco Navigation Company, the latter being the owner of San Juan. While the claims aggregate $2,000,000, they have to be brought down to $300,000, the amount of the insurance.

One of the first witnesses was Mrs. Maude Dansby, who said the crash wakened her and she plunged into the sea, swimming about for some time before being picked up. She asserts personal injuries. Her baby also was saved.

Others testified regarding the loss of relatives in the wreck.

EX-AIDE OF CLARA BOW HINTS AT CONTRACT SUIT

Daisy DeVoe

Clara Bow's little row over the matter of "firing" her former secretary and confidante, Miss Daisy De Voe, young and pretty blond, may grow up into a life-sized battle in Superior Court, according to intimations made yesterday by the deposed secretary. Miss De Voe is to confer today with her attorney to determine what action is to be taken by her under a verbal contract she says she has had with Miss Bow for five years, two of which she has served.

In discussing her discharge by Miss Bow last Saturday, Miss De Voe yesterday told of what she termed two hectic, troublesome and sleepless years she spent as a secretary and also shed a bit more light on Miss Bow's asserted weakness for leaning against the gambling tables. She says Clara has lost approximately $12,000 at the gaming tables in addition to the $13,900 she dropped at Calneva at Lake Tahoe, but which she didn't pay.

Although Miss De Voe did a lot of talking yesterday about her former boss, Miss Bow had very little to say on the subject.

"The more I talk the worse it gets, so I'm not saying much," the actress declared. "If I cannot let go a secretary without a lot of fuss why should I talk? I fired Daisy for a personal reason and this reason is nobody's business but my own. So that's that."

Miss Bow denied a new admirer had anything to do with letting

AQUEDUCT LINE INDICATED

Engineer Weymouth's Address at City Club Hints Parker Route to Be Recommended

Selection of the so-called Parker route as the best line to be followed by the proposed Colorado River aqueduct was plainly indicated by Chief Engineer Weymouth of the Metropolitan Water District in an address before a joint meeting of several engineering societies last night at the City Club.

Although Weymouth refrained from stating which route he and his assistants have decided upon, the nature of his presentation of the facts in connection with the Parker route appeared to leave little doubt but that it will be recommended.

He will make his complete report with his recommendation to the board of directors of the district at their regular meeting tomorrow. During his discussion last night he made no reference to costs of the several routes, explaining that he was not free to discuss costs at this time.

The routes he discussed included the Black Canyon, Bull's Head, Parker, Pichacho, Bridge Canyon and the so-called all-American canal route. The latter he condemned chiefly because it follows too closely the great San Andreas fault, making it liable to serious damage or destruction from earthquakes.

The Parker route would cross the San Andreas fault on the surface. It is what is known as a pumping route, with a power drop of a little more than 400 feet at the coast end east of Colton, making a total lift of about 1100 feet to be made by pumping. The route provides for ideal intermediate storage of the water between the river and the coastal plain.

Terminal storage facilities would be provided for several of the routes in several localities such as the Puddingstone reservoir of the county flood-control district, the Brea hills country and the Perris region. In his brief discussion of storage facilities Weymouth did not touch on the proposed Pine Canyon reservoir site which Pasadena is working on in San Gabriel Canyon.

AIR SUPREMACY CONCEDED NAVY

United States Outstrips All, Says Aerial Chief

Assistant Secretary Ingalls Drops From Sky

Mystery Plane Revealed as King of Fighters

New plans for the United States Navy's retention of its world supremacy in the air were outlined at Long Beach yesterday afternoon by David S. Ingalls, assistant Secretary of the Navy for Aeronautics. He dropped out of the sky after a three-hour flight from San Francisco in a hurtling blue bullet that proved to be the new Curtiss mystery, "Hell-Diver" fighter.

The tall, tanned youngster who administers the Navy's affairs aloft is barely in his thirties, yet he has to his credit twelve years of notable achievement in both aviation and the legal profession, his career starting as a naval pilot in France during the World War. He is here on a nation-wide inspection of all Navy aviation establishments, both ashore and afloat.

GREATEST AIR FORCE

"Next summer the Navy completes its five-year aviation development program which, at a cost of $85,000,000, will have given the fleet 1000 modern planes," he explained. "Naturally, I believe that we have the greatest air force of any navy in the world and we intend to hold this supremacy. That is why I am making this trip.

"When Congress meets next month we want to be prepared to tell the Naval Affairs Committee why the Navy needs $32,000,000, starting next July, to maintain our air fleet at the proper state of efficiency. I believe that the United States Navy leads the world today in aviation, but this necessitates our supplementing our forces with more modern aircraft carriers and keeping ahead of the other fellow in development of plane types.

ONLY ONE EXTANT

"This Curtiss Hell-Diver that I am flying is the only one of its kind in existence, a two-seater fighter that will outperform and outmanuever any other military type plane in existence. Its complete success convinces me that the two-seater will be the ultimate development in fighting plane design.

"We already have in commission on the Saratoga a squadron of these planes with 425-horsepower Wasp engines and they have been very successful. But this particular plane is equipped with a new Wright Cyclone motor that develops 605 horsepower and I have flown her at a speed of 180 knots. We do not know what her ceiling is, but we have put her up to 19,000 feet in twenty minutes at only part throttle and we do know that at full throttle she will climb 2800 feet per minute. She has a diving speed of 250 knots and a nine-hour cruising radius."

Mr. Ingalls was met at the Long Beach base by Admiral Frank H. Schofield, commander-in-chief of the battle fleet; Vice-Admiral Richard H. Leigh, commanding the battleship divisions; Capt. Alonzo H. Woodbine, aide for Naval Reserve; Lieutenant Commander Wilbur J. Ruble, aide to Admiral Schofield, and Lieut. Esten B. Koger, commanding the Long Beach field.

STAFF AND SHIPS

Accompanying him in his own plane is D. B. Brauer, engine expert of the Wright Aeronautical Corporation. With him on the tour is Capt. John Towers, assistant chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics, flying a special Vought Corsair observation plane, and Lieutenant Commander R. P. Molten, his aide, flying a special Boeing fighter, equipped with the Townend radial ring. Mr. Ingalls's Hell-diver is equipped with the new Curtiss radial ring around the motor, which is said to give her an added speed of twelve knots, and is further streamlined by "pants" over the landing wheels.

Mr. Ingalls was the guest of Admiral Schofield yesterday evening aboard the fleet flagship California and at 1 a.m. today he sailed for the drill grounds aboard the battleship New Mexico, to see the dreadnaught fire her annual short-range battle practice. Tomorrow he will fly to San Diego to complete his inspection of that base before flying to Washington via New Orleans.

"BUDDY" DAVIS GOES FREE

District Attorney's Office Moves for Dismissal of Once-Convicted Julian Case Figure

Harold L. (Buddy) Davis, chief deputy District Attorney under Asa Keyes, now serving a term for bribery, shortly before noon yesterday walked from Superior Judge Wood's court a free man after having been indicted and convicted of having accepted a bribe.

It was after the former county official's conviction had been branded by the higher courts of the State as unwarranted on the evidence submitted and the conviction set aside by the District Court of Appeal, Second Division, and this ruling affirmed by the California Supreme Court that Chief Deputy District-Attorney Stewart yesterday made his motion for a dismissal and the case was disposed of by Judge Wood.

Davis, flanked by Jerry Giesler, his attorney, who wrote the brief which brought about the reversal, appeared in Judge Wood's court yesterday morning and remained seated there for several hours before his case was called. When it was announced by the judge it took Stewart less than two minutes to make his motion and end the case which began April 30, 1929.

"I am one of the counsel who prosecuted this case," declared Stewart to the court. "At that time," he continued, "we placed before the court all the evidence and testimony we had. Since that time no new testimony has been uncovered. The two highest courts in this State have found the conviction of Mr. Davis to be unwarranted by the evidence and testimony and, therefore, at this time we ask for a dismissal." The motion was granted without comment by the court.

Davis was indicted shortly after the Keyes trial when Ben Getzoff, convicted with Keyes, told Dist.-Atty. Fitts that he had paid Davis $7500 as a bribe to so handle the Julian overissue case, then on trial, as to bring about the dismissal of E. H. Rosenberg, one of the defendants. Getzoff, shortly after telling his story, was granted probation by the court.

During his trial before Superior Judge Wilson Davis denied the

AFTER reading Prof. Cornell's printed specifications as to the right kind of wife, every young business man will cast an assessing matrimonial eye toward his faithful secretary.

It will not be long now until, on any side street, you will see the ardent lover standing with a stop watch, timing a young lady with horn-rim glasses and running pants, to see—before popping the fatal question—whether she can make 100 yards in the required thirteen seconds.

No doubt there will be many heart-broken partings—the Romeo with streaming eyes and heaving breast—sobbing out the dreadful verdict that he can never take her to the altar—on account of her being so slow at the take-off that she only made the hundred in 14 flat.

THE PARAGON

Incidentally, if there really were any young lady who could pass Prof. Cornell's test—social secretary, business expert, home philosopher, track athlete, college highbrow, Gloria Swanson clothes, scientific mother—she would be Secretary of State.

"ABIE'S IRISH ROSE"

Ann Nichols has lost her lawsuit against the motion-picture company which—she claimed—stole the plot of "Abie's Irish Rose."

In a way, everybody stole it; but nobody in particular. Had the talented Ann collected her claimed $2,000,000, I should certainly have sued her for $3,000,000 for the mental anguish endured from seeing all this tiresome tripe about the Jewish boy who loved the Mick.

Incidentally — having earned something like $3,000,000 from the play, Ann will probably struggle through the winter and eat regularly.

WAS THIS CLUBBY, MARY?

When a young Texas columnist made catty remarks about Mary Garden, she withered him so with her devastating charms that he had to give her a tea party, a bouquet of flowers and a profuse apology. And all he got in return was to have Mary say his clothes were funny.

If her rule holds good, Miss Garden will have to give a tea party to Galli-Curci. She says that although Galli-Curci's brand of opera may be obsolete, the Mary Garden type of opera continues to wave.

If the ravishing Garden really thinks that the future of opera is on the talkie screen, I suggest that she glance over the box-office returns of the few operas that have been tried.

NOT ROOM ENOUGH

How two automobiles could contrive by any human ingenuity to have a fatal collision at Coyote Wells mystifies me. There is so much vacancy around Coyote Wells that the German army could pass the French army marching abreast and have room enough left over to tuck in the British navy.

STERILIZATION POLICIES FIXED

Probation Department Urged to Keep Hands Off

Juvenile Judge Blake Sets Course of Action

In Future State Officials Would Get Scant Aid

Requesting the county probation department to refrain from taking any part in the sterilization of mentally deficient or subnormal juveniles except when they are requested to do so by State officials, Samuel R. Blake, juvenile court judge, yesterday urged W. H. Prescott, probation officer, to take every precaution to avoid a repetition of several cases made public during the last fortnight.

Judge Blake points out that the power to sterilize certain persons rests entirely in the hands of State officials and that neither his court nor probation officers have any jurisdiction in the matter unless their advice is sought. Judge Blake's letter urges the following policies:

(1.) That probation officers cease to work for State authorities in getting the consent of parents for sterilization operations.

(2.) That no assistance be given the State whatever, except on written request in a specific case.

(3.) That parents, desiring to know the truth of what may happen to their children if they sign a consent be fully advised and not kept in darkness.

The situation became known last week when relatives of Margarita Villanueva, 15 years of age, and Valentine Brown, 15, complained that probation officers had sought their consent to sterilization operations.

Judge Blake also made it clear that not all girls sent to the Sonoma State School for Girls are submitted to the operation.

Comedian's Family Grows on Tour

Mary - Elizabeth Ann Brown is really a Hollywood baby, although she was born in Chicago. Mary-Elizabeth Ann is the brand-new daughter of Joe E. Brown, film comedian. And she didn't see Hollywood until she was 2 months of age.

Several months ago Joe departed on a personal-appearance tour of the country during the annual close down of activities at the Warner studio. He was accompanied by his wife.

While in Chicago Mary-Elizabeth Ann was born on September 13. The Browns returned to Hollywood last week.

The screen comedian also is the father of two boys, Joe E., Jr., and Don, both of whom are attending a local military school.

TRADE CLUB WILL LUNCH

Charter members of the Foreign Trade Club of Southern California will be honor guests at a luncheon today in celebration of the organization's growing influence as a factor in the international commercial relations of this area, President James H. BOARD WILL STUDY BUS LINE PLEAS

Officials Agree to Confer After Hearing Conducted Before Committee

Railroad and bus officials yesterday expressed a willingness to discuss with the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation improved bus service in Los Angeles following a hearing before the board's motor vehicle committee on proposed bus extensions.

The hearing yesterday was for the purpose of giving petitioners for bus services and extensions a chance to present their desires. Representatives of the Pacific Electric and Los Angeles Railway motor coach divisions were present.

Edgar C. Smith represented the Washington-La Brea Improvement Association; J. Joseph Coyne, the Crenshaw Boulevard Improvement Association; E. J. Morgan, the South La Brea Avenue Improvement Association; Arthur Johnson, the Greater La Brea Avenue Association, and Carl Bush, the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce.

Consensus of opinion of the petitioners was that the Vine and La Brea bus line should be extended down Crenshaw to Washington street, that extensions should be provided for establishing communication between the southwest district and Hollywood, without the necessity of going by way of the downtown district of Los Angeles, that a line should be established down Angelus Mesa to Leimert Park.

Another point brought out was that residents of the La Brea and Redondo districts want extension of a bus line on either La Brea or Redondo to Washington street.

Nonagenarian Veteran Dies Armistice Day

Funeral services will be conducted at 3 p.m. tomorrow at the chapel of Pierce Brothers, 720 West Washington street, for Levi B. Crouch of 1125 South Westlake avenue, who was one of the oldest Civil War veterans in Southern California and who spent his early years in adventurous wanderings through the then unsettled West. Interment will be at Inglewood Park Cemetery.

Mr. Crouch, who was 96 years of age, contracted the illness which led to his death several weeks ago and last week was removed to the Veterans' Hospital at Sawtelle, where he died on Armistice Day.

When the Civil War broke out he was the first volunteer in Washington county, Iowa, joining Company H of the Second Iowa Infantry. After the war he joined a band of pioneers and traveled to Salt Lake City, later wandering among the boom mining towns.

In 1873 he returned to Iowa and in Keota married Miss Susie Chesney.

He leaves three sons, a daughter, seven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. His daughter is Mrs. Agnes Pickering of this city and the sons are George W. Crouch, local attorney; Charles C. Crouch of San Diego and Frank Crouch of Oklahoma City.

being estimated. The delivered value to the wholesale trade was $130,166,901.05. More than $25,000,000 of this sum represents freight and refrigeration.

NUMBER OF CARS

In the past year, the report discloses, California and Arizona shipped 44,619 cars of oranges, 1808 cars of grapefruit and 13,229 cars of lemons, totaling 59,656 cars. Exchange shipments of 46,377 cars represented 77.7 per cent of the total movement, compared with 74.3 per cent last season.

Remarkable in view of the generally depressed conditions throughout the country in all lines of business is the small sum charged off for the year from bad debts by the exchange, said Dezell. This amounted to but .011 of 1 per cent of the net returns.

"This reflects the alertness of exchange representatives in the markets," he said, also pointing out that with aggregate returns of $1,108,600,000 to exchange shippers during the last twenty-six years, credit losses equaled but .0071 of 1 per cent of the f.o.b. returns.

During the last season the total supply of oranges and grapefruit in the markets of the United States and Canada showed a decided reduction from that of the preceding year and of most recent years, the report indicates.

CROP CONDITIONS

Total returns to the grower on Southern California Exchange navels were greater than in 1928-29, although the volume from this district was only 53.3 per cent of that of last season. The total exchange navels from all districts was 13,879 this season compared with 24,363 in the previous year and 15,662 in 1927-28, says the report.

Cold weather affected the 1930 Valencia orange crop, but the fruit ran to desirable sizes, it is stated, and prices were materially helped by the shortage in the total orange supply in the markets at the time the fruit was moved. The Southern California Valencia crop this year ran slightly more than half of the previous year's total—the 1930 crop equaling 15,561 cars.

Exchange shipments of grapefruit in 1929-30 totaled 1634 cars, of which 39.6 per cent originated in Southern California. Florida's grapefruit shipments showed a material decline in the last year.

LEMON RETURNS GOOD

The lemon growers in virtually every section of the State enjoyed a satisfactory season in the last year, Dezell stated. The returns per box exceeded those in any previous season, and the net returns for the crop equaled approximately those of the record season of 1928-29.

Total shipments of lemons during the season equaled 14,447 cars, including loose lemons sold through the exchange citrus distributing plant, compared with 16,118 in 1929, 13,600 in 1928 and 14,679 in 1927. Receipts of foreign lemons were heavy compared with the previous year. The total supply of United States and foreign lemons from California and imports (mostly from Italy) aggregated 17,566, compared with an average of 17,363 over a five-year period.

Commenting on the favorable results of continued and consistent advertising, Dezell declared that, in the face of adverse business conditions and depressed buying power in the United States, the results of advertising this year "clearly indicate a cumulative value of twenty-three years of national advertising and merchandising effort behind exchange fruit which insures Sunkist an enviable position with both consumer and trade."

"Of the total amount of $13,113,709 invested since the inception of the Sunkist campaign in 1907, $10,664,382, or 81.3 per cent, has been devoted to consumer advertising and $2,449,328, or 18.7 per cent, to dealer service activities with the wholesale and retail trade since the establishment of this phase of the advertising department in 1915," he said.

LARGE SUPPLIES

The Fruit Growers' Supply Company transacted business amounting to $9,033,959.81 in the past year. Growers were supplied with boxes, tissue wraps and nails amounting to $5,898,609.59. Orchard supplies—fertilizers, orchard heaters, oil and equipment—purchased by members aggregated $2,147,905.99. The supply company's general expense, it was stated, has shown a substantial decrease each year, amounting in 1929 to $195,000 below that of 1925.

A substantial refund amounting to $217,743.40 was made effective for the benefit of the citrus growers in the last year. This was brought about when railroads agreed to refund the terminal charges on oranges of 3 cents per 100 pounds collected at New York City and New England and Eastern Canadian points. The Interstate Commerce Commission approved the refund. Of the total sum, $126,895 was paid during the season just closed.

Notwithstanding the fact that California citrus fruit crops this last season were light and prices high, exchange membership increased and an excellent foundation was laid for further growth, said Dezell. Five shipping organizations joined the exchange during the past year. The annual survey through associations covering the year ended June 1, 1930, showed a net gain of 8456 acres.

offers complications. Elderly literati like Gertrude Atherton, for instance, will find it an annoyance to have to finish each written book by leaping into the sacred well of the Mayans or swimming the Hellespont.

No doubt, for the wife of an author, Prof. Cornell would add the requirement that the bride be able to double for her husband in doing stunts.

ASSESSMENTS CONFIRMED

Assessments for the sewering of McKinley avenue between Manchester avenue and Century Boulevard were confirmed yesterday by the City Council. The Council continued until the 24th inst. the hearing of protests against the improvement of the Moorpark street and Tyrone avenue district, and until the 26th inst. the hearing of protests against the improvement of Barrington avenue and Rochester avenue district.

Promoter Held in Mail Fraud

William N. Steward, an oil and mining promoter, wanted in Spokane, Wash., on a charge of using the mails to defraud, was arrested yesterday in the local stock exchange. It is stated he is wanted in connection with his promotions in oil and mining companies.

It was also said that Steward was released from Leavenworth prison in July, last, after serving time on a similar charge. He appeared before United States Commissioner Head and was released on bail of $3500. He waived hearing on removal to Spokane.

Dr. Fiske Gets Delay in Trial for Girl's Death

Suffering from a serious heart ailment that may result in his death at any time, D., William C. Fiske, Hermosa Beach physician charged with murder for the death of Miss Vera Nelson, who died as a result of an illegal operation, yesterday appeared before Superior Judge Hardy and asked that his trial be delayed. Judge Hardy continued the case until December 8.

Dr. L. L. Lindsey testified in court that Dr. Fiske is suffering from an acute heart ailment and may never live to be tried on the murder charge.

Student Wife Gets Alimony

Until Mrs. Evelyn Farr Mojonier is graduated from University of California at Los Angeles and is able to teach school, she will receive $50 a month from her husband, Malcolm M. Mojonier, Superior Judge Westover ruled yesterday.

Attorney Max Lewis for Mrs. Mojonier stated his client would not oppose a motion to reduce alimony from $100 a month, made by Mojonier, who recently remarried, if she could collect the money until she is graduated. The court, however, reduced the amount from $100 to $50, and will reduce it to $25 a month for the couple's child, after Mrs. Mojonier gets a job.

STATE DECLINES TO RETRY KEYES AIDE

Harold L. Davis

COURT FREES "BUDDY" DAVIS

charges made by Getzoff and contended that the former Spring-street tailor and bribery broker had bought his way to liberty with his account of a bribe that never was paid. Davis was represented by Paul B. D'Orr during the trial.

Found guilty by a jury of six men and six women after hours of deliberation, Davis spent almost a year in the County Jail while Giesler appealed his case. When the Court of Appeals reversed the lower court Davis was released under $10,000 bond and the State appealed to the Supreme Court, which on October 27, of this year, held with the Court of Appeals.

With the dismissal yesterday Judge Wood discharged Davis from custody and exonerated his bond.

CLARA'S EX-AIDE HINTS LAWSUIT

Daisy go. There is no new boy friend, she said.

This is the only point upon which Daisy and Clara agreed yesterday. Daisy says the man that is causing all the trouble is one who wanted to interest Clara in a business deal.

"I turned thumbs down on the deal and he got sore," Daisy asserted. "Then he started gunning for my secretarial job and he got it. Last Saturday he told me Clara didn't want me around any more. I went and asked Clara about it. She said what he had told me was quite correct. She wouldn't tell me her 'personal reason.'

"I moved out because I didn't want to hang around where I wasn't wanted. I went again to ask Clara but she again refused to tell me why I was discharged. I am going to try and see her today and if I can't get satisfaction from her I'm going to see her attorney."

For two years Miss De Voe claims she has pulled Clara out of "plenty of messes" and saved her plenty of money.

"Clara you know," she continued, "suffers from insomnia and she doesn't sleep. As a result she kept me awake all night. I worked twenty-four hours a day for her and if there were forty-eight hours in a day I would have worked forty-eight. I didn't kick because I had her best interests at heart. I could never leave her alone at any time. I had to be on hand all the time to watch her."

Two years ago, Miss De Voe stated, she was employed as a hairdresser for Clara during the making of "Wild Party." At the completion of the picture Clara persuaded her to leave her studio position, in spite of a raise she was to get, to act as her secretary to handle her business affair and to be a companion. She verbally engaged her for a period of five years, in the presence of witnesses, according to Miss De Voe's statement.

For two years, she says, she served faithfully in this capacity and then "for no reason at all" Clara discharged her with three years yet to go on their asserted verbal contract.

The reports about Clara gambling at the Lake Tahoe resort were about correct, Miss DeVoe stated, excepting that Clara thought she had lost $1400 and not $13,900. Miss DeVoe said she tried to explain to Clara that the 50-cent pieces represented $100 but that Clara didn't seem to get this through her head.

The reason she placed her name on one of the checks was because the resort owner asked her to, Miss DeVoe said. The very next day, Daisy said, she telephoned Clara's bank and told them to stop payment on the checks.

Clara says that with the discharge of Miss DeVoe she turned over all of her business affairs to her bank. She denied a man had assumed Miss DeVoe's duties as her secretary.

Yesterday it also developed that a certain admirer of Miss Bow's had called at the District-Attorney's office relative to the business affairs between Miss Bow and Miss DeVoe. The Prosecutor, however, declined to take any action and the matter was dropped.

SCREEN STUNT FLYER MUST PAY ALIMONY

Bob Blair, stunt flyer for the screen, must pay his wife $50 a month alimony until their divorce is settled, Superior Judge Westover ruled yesterday. Attorney A. C. Webb, for Mrs. Blanche Blair, sued for divorce asserting that Blair did too much "night flying," leaving her at home alone. Attorney Richard Cantillon, for the flyer, has filed an answer denying the charges.

Today's Bible Text

He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; to him that overcometh will I give to eat of the hidden manna, and will give him a white stone, and in the stone a new name written, which no man knoweth saving he that receiveth it.—Rev. ii:17.

MODERN ENGLISH

In order to keep up with the slanguage of the younger generation the grown-ups will just have to read the funnies every day, too.

ONE SOLUTION

If Mayor Walker could bring about a match for charity in which the All-American team was one of the opponents, there wouldn't be any question as to the amount of his "gate" for the charity performance.

SEEMED THAT WAY

If you should happen to ask the members of the Golden Bear team, the astronomers were all wet in their calculations regarding the approach of the meteor shower. They would tell you that it occurred on the afternoon of November 8, at the Coliseum.

PERFECT WIVES

There may be such secretary-wives as described by Dr. Cornell of Northwestern University in an address to students, but we are afraid that 999 out of every 1000 professional men must be content with the kind that Cupid chooses to foist upon them.

GARDEN TOURS

Even charity has its evolutionary stages. Whereas, formerly reluctant dimes and quarters had to be wheedled away from people by intriguing "grab-bag" parties, oyster suppers, card parties and charity balls, now they will pay a dollar to see beautiful gardens. Both Pasadena and Santa Barbara have demonstrated, in their Garden Tours, just how hungry people are for beauty. And the proceeds in each case go to worthy causes.

TUNNEY WINS DECISION

A judge and a jury have awarded to James Joseph Tunney the decision in the fight of Timothy J. Mara, sports promoter prominent in Tammany Hall, to collect 25 per cent of Tunney's earnings as heavyweight champion. An adverse verdict would have decreased Tunney's bank balance more than $526,000.

Tunney's career is offered for the thoughtful analysis of the college professor who advised his students to be snobs and marry the boss's daughter. Here was a youth who raised himself from obscurity largely by his own efforts and in the face of defeat and discouragement, who won the highest pugilistic title fairly and cleanly, who is thrifty, who has a highly creditable war record and who obtained and seems to have retained the affection of an estimable young woman of excellent social standing. Yet instead of being a popular hero he has received sneers instead of cheers, and hearts enshrine in his place a man who is his exact opposite in most particulars.

Evidently there is no formula for success that always works.

HEARST IN OAKLAND

A secondary result of the recent election which has not received as much attention as it perhaps deserves is the adoption by Oakland voters of a council and city-manager form of government. The change followed a City Hall scandal, in which one Councilman was sent to jail and two others resigned, but that is not the most interesting thing about it. That is that the change was supported heartily and enthusiastically by the Hearst-owned Oakland Post-Enquirer, up to the time Mr. Hearst was arranging a triumphal banquet for himself to be given by the Oakland city administration, and that after that time not a line of editorial matter in favor of the change was printed. Further, Hearst's San Francisco Examiner, across the bay, attacked it bitterly in the closing days of the campaign.

The Oakland Tribune remained the only newspaper supporter the new charter had and it won its fight by 5000 majority.

Of course no one would think for a minute that Mr. Hearst would sell out the people of Oakland for a "testimonial dinner;" his extraordinary change of front must have been merely a coincidence.

WHY SUPPORT THE CHEST?

Those whose sympathies are easily moved by human suffering are not difficult to convince of the necessity of contributing to the Community Chest, which is the method chosen in Los Angeles to obtain support for organized charity.

Unfortunately these are not always able to give much.

There are in Los Angeles many hard-headed, analytical business men of means, who are not sold on the Chest idea, or who refrain from contributing as they should contribute, because of opposition to this or that organization drawing support from the Chest or for other similar reasons. These need to be reminded that organized charity is a necessity of the social organization as it exists at present and that if this necessity is not met conditions are certain to result which will be much more costly to the community and to them personally than the comparatively small sum sought.

The Chest method of obtaining funds is in some respects theoretically objectionable. Nothing is perfect and no one can have everything to his liking. Doubtless every charity ought to stand on its own merits and be supported according to its own deserts. But the alternatives to the Chest are also objectionable, and in the opinion of the majority, the objections to a general scramble for contributions with the devil getting the hindmost far outweigh those to the adopted plan.

Everyone pays lip service, at least, to majority rule, and it is majority rule which has put the Community Chest method into operation here. Theoretical defects of the plan, therefore, may as well be disregarded. Organized charity must be supported and this is the method of supporting it. There is no other!

Those who "do not believe in the Chest" do not, therefore, have a really valid excuse for not contributing. They say, in effect, that they do not believe in maintaining hospitals and other institutions for the relief of the unfortunate; that is the logical effect of such declarations. What such people need is to look with an unprejudiced eye at the actual workings of the plan in Los Angeles; they will discover that it has actually functioned fairly successfully for the past five or six years and that it is improving in efficacy.

It has not eliminated all the waste and duplication of effort that could be cut out under an ideal system, but practically it has done away with a vast amount of it. It has done wonders in spreading money around where it would do the most good; it has operated with a nominal overhead; and it has saved the contributing public an enormous amount of annoyance. And no one has invented an ideal system for obtaining charitable contributions, or is likely to do so while human beings remain fallible. When human nature gets so it makes no mistakes there will be no need for charity.

The fact that the Community Chest plan has been put into effect in a large number of cities is no mere accident. It has won its way because of its advantages and in spite of its defects, and it continues to be used and will continue to be used until something better is devised.

From the standpoint of mere self-interest, the well-to-do are logically required to give liberally to this institution, even though they may criticise it. It is a bulwark of the established order, since it allays suffering and prevents unrest that might easily become dangerous to organized society if it were allowed to continue unrelieved. Radical propaganda feeds upon the unadjusted errors of the social system; soap-box orators are furnished plenty of ammunition when they can point to examples of indifference to the welfare of the poor and unfortunate. From the point of view of the Reds, the best thing that can happen is for the Community Chest to fail of its quota. The dollar that is not given to the Community Chest might as well be put in the disturbance fund of Moscow, the net effect is in the aggregate, almost the same as if it was used to print revolution literature or manufacture red flags.

If it were not for organized charity, the cost to taxpayers of policing their communities would be double or treble, the criminal toll would be enlarged, the expenditures on courts and prisons vastly increased. The Community Chest contributions are cheap insurance against social disorder. This is a base view to take of a noble effort, perhaps, but it is a fact that it seems necessary to emphasize in view of the apparent indifference of some of the wealthier citizens to a higher appeal.

These must contribute as well as criticise. There is no objection to criticism; it may be valuable in pointing out mistakes. But those who criticise without contributing are not helping the situation.

HOOVER ON ADVERTISING

Praise of advertising as a "vital organ of our entire economic and social system" was voiced by President Hoover Monday night in an address to the Association of National Advertisers at Washington. The President declared it to be "part of the dynamic force which creates higher standards of living," and pointed out how, by aiding in mass distribution, it cheapens cost.

The President laid stress upon the necessity of truth in advertising and keeping faith with the public by advertisers, and praised the Better Business Bureaus and other agencies for policing the business, which, he said, cure abuses without government interference.

Years ago advertising would hardly have been considered a subject of sufficient dignity for Presidential discussion, but President Hoover found no difficulty in portraying it as an important contribution to modern civilization, or in advocating its expansion.

"You contribute," he said, addressing the advertisers, "to hurry up the general use of every discovery in science and every invention in industry. It probably required 1000 years to spread the knowledge and application of that great human invention, the wheeled cart, and it has taken you only twenty years to make the automobile the universal tool of man. Moreover, your constant exploitation of every improvement in every article and service spreads a restless pillow for every competitor and drives the producer to feverish exertions in new invention, new services and still more improvement.

"Incidentally, you make possible the vast distribution of information, of good cheer and tribulation which comes with the morning paper, the periodical and the radio, and your contributions to them aid to sustain a great army of authors and artists who could not otherwise join in the standards of living you create."

Advertisers have long known these things about their business, but it is something to have the seal of Presidential approval.

THE SOVIET WAR SCARE

There is nothing amusing in the situation to the eight Russians accused of being implicated in a grandiloquent plot for a mass attack on the homeland of the soviets by most of the nations of Europe. To them it is a deadly serious matter, since they will almost certainly pay with their lives for the necessity the Stalin dictatorship is under of blaming somebody for Russian internal conditions and for failure to produce promised betterment. Their predicament turns into tragedy as fantastic a comic opera as Gilbert and Sullivan ever imagined.

It is credible enough that exiled Russians in various parts of Europe may have dreamed of some such mass attack and may even have put such dreams into words, but it is absurd to suppose that any responsible heads of governments ever gave serious consideration to the scheme, which, according to Moscow, was timed to take place last summer and was only prevented by discord between Italy and France and by doubt as to Germany's attitude. Discord between Italy and France is no new thing and neither is doubt as to Germany's attitude; such influences would have been powerful enough to have prevented even momentary acceptance of such a plan. The height of absurdity arises when Pacifist Ramsay MacDonald's government is named as one of the chief plotters.

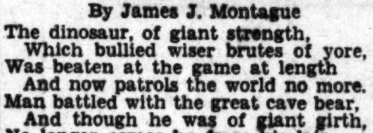
The plotting shoe, of course, is really on the other foot. Plenty of crack-brained plots against other governments are hatched at Moscow and would arouse little interest save for the fear they excite that some idiotic attempt will be made to carry them into execution. Moscow really shouldn't object to counter-plotting of the same character. Of course, not even Stalin can really believe that any concert of Europe is directed at his government. The announcements are obviously made to fool the Russian people and keep the dictatorship in power.

GRAPE RACKETEERS

Dispatches from New York stating that the California grape market in that city has come under the control of Manhattan racketeers appear incredible, but evidence continues to pile up to support them. Facts come to light to show that gangsters have used strong-arm methods to force down the prices of our grapes and are now dictating their distribution in New York.

The New York Mirror says that two weeks ago squads of the henchmen of the leaders of the racket were sent to "do duty" over the principal distributing centers—Washington Market, Mott Haven yards, Sunnyside yards and Wallabout market. "Since the opening of the season," says the Mirror, "grapes have been placed on sale at $1.10 for a twenty-four-pound basket. Since the threats of interference have reached the stage of possible gang violence, orders have been sent out by the Unione Sicilione to sell the grapes at any price from 55 cents up. It is hoped by the Unione that the price cuts instituted by them will discourage the interference and avert bloodshed, which is inevitable if the 'muscling' process is not discontinued at once."

It is evident that the New York gangsters would not have been able to intimidate the large grape dealers and force down prices had it not been for the overplus of grapes on that market due to unauthorized shipments from California against clearinghouse advice. This should teach a certain type of grape producers that if they are to keep New York buyers from playing hob with our product they should strengthen their organization along the co-operative lines already laid down.



TO A CORN BORER

By James J. Montague

The dinosaur, of giant strength,
  Which bullied wiser brutes of yore,
Was beaten at the game at length
  And now patrols the world no more.
Man battled with the great cave bear,
  And though he was of giant girth,
No longer comes he from his lair
  To walk the earth.

Great beasts have lived their little hour
  Yet now but few of them remain,
They have been banished by the power
  Residing in superior brain.
And soon the gaunt gorilla pack
  Whose members often walk erect
Must perish for their utter lack Of intellect.

Yet you, who have no strength at all,
  Who lack all weapons of offense,
Who through the Stygian gloom must crawl
  Because of your incompetence,
Still fight with mighty man for bread
  The while you creep the cornfields through,
And though there's nothing in your head
  You lick him, too.

Though you are small and he is great,
  Though you are dumb and he is wise,
He does not ever hesitate
  To take advantage of his size.
How you such wisdom can defy,
  And sneer at such a heavy hand,
And still survive, is more than I
  Can understand.

THE new theater on Broadway between Sixth and Seventh is to be called the Los Angeles Theater, and the announcement says it is the "first theater to be named in honor of the city."

LOS ANGELES THEATER TO-NIGHT CAMILLE

Jay Hunt, veteran actor, who lives at No. 6115 Orange street, writes us that "in 1890, my wife and I appeared in the Los Angeles Theater on Spring street, the same that now is called the Lyceum Theater and is a picture house. Maude Granger, then a very popular actress, was the star. Harry Wyatt was manager of the theater at that time. We played a three-night engagement, but changed the bill every night because the city then wasn't big enough to provide more than one good audience for each play. The plays were 'Article 47,' 'Inherited' and 'Camille.'"

What Lots of Us Need

Conversation between high school girls, overheard on a Hollywood trolley car:

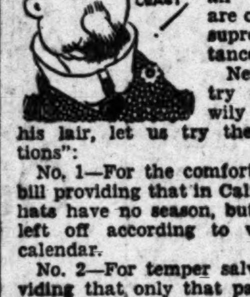
"I think we need a class treasurer."

"But Myrtle is class treasurer."

"That's right. What I mean is that we need a class treasury."

For More Interesting Elections

Leeside: Each passing election shows us that we must make elections more interesting, if we expect tired business men to pay any attention to them. Especially is this true of the "propositions." When a ballot is made a mile long by "propositions," who is going to read them all unless they are on matters of supreme importance?



THE BALLOT MUST BE ENTERTAINING, AT LEAST

Next time we try to coax the wily voter from his lair, let us try these "propositions":

No. 1—For the comfort of man. A bill providing that in California straw hats have no season, but be worn or left off according to weather, not calendar.

No. 2—For temper salvation. Providing that only that part of streets be torn up which can be repaved immediately.

No. 3—Muzzles for radio hounds. Providing that all radio enthusiasts who try to get Kamchatka at 3 a.m. be sent there, chained and gagged.

No. 4—Compensation for loss of golf balls.

No. 6—For silent good nights. Providing that dawn-party celebrants say good night only in pantomime.

Give us propositions like these, and we shall prove that the men of California are patriotic enough to not only turn out and vote, but to read some of the propositions clear through before doing so.

Yours for more and better pluralities, JOSEPH CAWTHORN.

Lady Bootblacks

The lady barber has been with us these many years, but feminine bootblacks only recently appeared in a street shine stand. On Hill street, near Fourth, the Red Devil Shine Stand has opened for business and the "devils" are young women wearing red coveralls.

Shoe shining is hard work, as the arm and back muscles of any seasoned shiner attest, but those young women do an excellent job of it. "It really isn't any harder than beating up eggs," one of them told us, "and you seldom get an extra tip for beating eggs."

Realizing that further questioning might prove expensive, we folded our tent like the Scotchman and silently stole away.

Alarmingly Quiet

Anxious neighbors of ours came over last night to ask if any of our twenty-mule-team quartet of boys was sick. They hadn't heard them breaking anything up all afternoon.

The reason was that the mail had brought the boys two delightful books for children. One was Monica Shannon's "California Fairy Tales," a book which Doubleday-Doran brought out some time ago and which ought to be in every California home with children in it. The other was "The Talking Bird," an Aztec story book by Idella Purnell and John M. Weatherwax, which Macmillan's has just published.

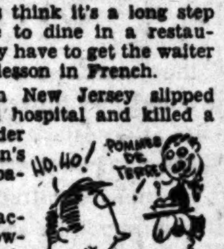
It's certainly helpful to have good books for the children. It's such a saving on the furniture and rugs and eardrums.

Joshua Little Says

A play by Shaw is a good deal like a big football game in one respect. A lot of ladies who can't understand it wouldn't miss it for anything.

Some fellows think it's a long step toward culture to dine in a restaurant where they have to get the waiter to give 'em a lesson in French.

Gangsters in New Jersey slipped into a general hospital and killed a man there under the surgeon's care. Such impatience!



Lots of practical people nowadays send their children to college to learn how to get money. And the way they dig into dad for it shows that they are apt pupils.

DICTATORS VS. DEMOCRACY

BY FRED HOGUE

I

Brazil, with a population of more than 35,000,000, with a territory greater in extent than that of the forty-eight sovereign States of our own country combined, after more than forty years of peaceful rule under the representative institutions of democracy—Brazil has passed under the despotic control of a military junta.

Almost bloodless was the revolt, plotted and carried into effect by the army and navy. When put to the test, representative government found itself without adequate defenders.

Corruption in high places and a widespread economic depression are the alleged causes for the collapse of democratic institutions.

But when I read the statistical records, I discover that Brazil has enjoyed during the last decade a prosperity unprecedented in the history of the nation and the people. The poverty of which the people complained was not objective, but subjective, not a material condition, but a state of mind.

In this, the experience of the people of Brazil is but a repetition of that of a score of peoples in different parts of the world; and the coup d'etat offers another example of objective progress and subjective poverty.

I know from a personal contact something of the living conditions in the important States of Brazil. Compared with conditions of some other countries that I have visited there was little actual poverty, the kind of poverty under which people die of starvation and exposure.

But I found a large part of the people of Brazil discontented, in mental anguish from subjective poverty. They found no enjoyment or contentment in the comparative material well-being, because they were consumed by a corroding envy of the few who possessed more. A condition of life which, to their grandfathers, would have been one of unhoped-for luxury was, to them, a condition of abject poverty.

What was lacking in Brazil is lacking in most the world today, a lack of the philosophy of content. Because some have acquired through industry, thrift, a happy destiny, through any means an income of $10,000 a year, no one will be content with less. Those with a $10,000 income live in a condition of subjective poverty because there are others that have more, and so, "ad infinitum."

The world's wealth has quadrupled in the last hundred years, the average pay of the wage-earners has more than quintupled; yet the wails of poverty and distress were never so universal. The luxuries of one generation become the necessities of the next. The more rapidly wealth increases, the more insatiate becomes the desire for wealth.

In former centuries there was more objective misery and more subjective content. Diogenes, content with his intellectual wealth, was not too proud to live in a tub. He was content with a place in the sun; but his Greek descendants of the thirtieth generation are content only with a place in the shade.

The world's annual production of gold is more than thirty times that of the year when the American republic was founded; but the supply of gold does not now equal a millionth part of the demand for gold.

Since the world has passed into an industrial era, the love of money has become the dominating passion. If Mephistopheles were to open a market for souls any morning in a modern metropolis, all the fabulous treasures of hell would be exhausted before noon.

Probably 10,000 families in this country—possibly 50,000—spent more for automobiles last year than for food. Those suffering from objective poverty cannot afford an automobile; and those suffering from subjective poverty cannot afford to be without one.

We pay, on the average, more for our pleasures, without a thought of the morrow, than our forbears paid for the actual necessities of life.

The richer the world becomes objectively, the poorer it becomes subjectively. The tragedy of the present civilization is loosing the substance to grab at the shadow; and the greater tragedy is that this state of mind cannot be remedied by conversation.

Governments, by wise legislation and executive prudence and foresight, can aid materially in the amelioration of objective poverty. Social organizations, like that of the Community Chest, and charitable institutions have accomplished what a century ago would have been considered miracles. Institutions supported by tax levies provide a refuge for those in real distress. Every community now takes care of those of its members physically or mentally incapacitated for self-support.

This is a relief of objective poverty which, prior to the last hundred years, was almost nonexistent. But no government is so omnipotent, no people is so rich collectively that it can offer material relief for subjective poverty.

Only those who have learned to limit their desires to their incomes can enjoy subjective wealth; for there are no material panaceas for states of mind.

Guglielmo Ferrero, the great Italian historian and philosopher, has done more perhaps with his pen to analyze these states of subjective wealth and poverty than any other writer. He is of the opinion that the innate weakness of representative government is that it raises hopes in the minds of the governed for a standard of living which the productive power of the earth and of organized industry cannot satisfy.

He finds this condition intensified by the World War. For four or five years half the peoples of the world were living on borrowed money and spending lavishly. Then the period came when no more money could be borrowed and what had been borrowed must be repaid with interest.

Through waste and lavish expenditure peoples, like individuals, become impoverished; and when peoples feel the stress of hard times they are not slow to lay the blame on the government. The last twenty years form an era of revolutions unprecedented in the history of the world. But revolutions are always destructive, and they seldom fulfill the expectations of the mass of the participants. We point to our own revolution as a shining example of the triumph of democracy. The ultimate results more than fulfilled all expectations. But it was followed by a period of economic distress that threatened at times to wreck the new republic. The colonies were impoverished by the struggle and the mass of the people blamed their economic distress on the form of government.

Washington and Adams were roundly denounced for their conservatism; and for a time the fortunes of our representative institutions trembled in the balance. There are letters extant in which Washington despaired of the future of the republic. A rabid radical element sought to ally itself with the terrorists of the French Revolution, just as there are radical elements that now seek an alliance with soviet Russia.

Only the fortitude of the stern Anglo-Saxon race, only the indomitable determination to preserve what had been won in the desperate eight years' struggle, enabled the thirteen colonies to consolidate their victory.

When representative government was put to the test in South America it did not find such resolute and sturdy defenders. The Latin races proved too volatile for the exercise of such tenacity and fixedness of purpose. Through corruption in high places, the democratic institutions had become so weakened that they fell at the first shock of military despotism. They proved to be houses builded on the sands.

Now the moving finger of destiny has written. Deploring the fall of representative institutions will not re-establish them. The world is confronted by what the French term the "fait accompli." What has been won by the sword will, for the present at least, be maintained by the sword. The military dictators are supported by the army. They are in control of the whole machinery of government, including the government-owned transportation systems.

Our government, acting in unison with the leading powers of Europe, has given official recognition to the military dictatorships. Some may allege hasty action, may assert that more time should have been given to the people to organize and resist. But experience has repeatedly demonstrated that military dictatorships, if they can offer temporary stability and security, are preferable to interminable civil wars and the absence of government.

It would not be true to say that democracy in South America has been stabbed in the house of its friends. It has been bound and gagged by an arbitrary military censorship. But this has happened because it permitted its house to be occupied by its enemies.

This object lesson must not be lost on other self-governing peoples. Our own security rests in an increasing vigilance in the selection of those to whom we intrust the reins of power. We must not be lulled into the false security that caused the downfall of representative governments in South America.

No good purpose would be served by outside interference with the present South American governments. We must not permit what we deem to be the best to become the enemy of the good. If they are willed, for the present, to endure a regime of more or less benevolent military dictators; it is their affair.

The grass will still grow lush green on the broad plains of Argentina, regardless of the form of government in Buenos Aires; the daughters of Argentina will not be less fair.

Not one pinnacle has fallen from the giant crags in the blue waters of Rio Bay. Rio de Janeiro is a beauty spot of the world in October, just as it was in May. These volatile, gracious, lovable Latin peoples do not take their politics too seriously. They accept changes of government, however, effected, with a nonchalant smile.

What to us would be a disaster is to them only a contretemps. If this were not so the changes of government would not be effected so bloodlessly and with so slight a dislocation of the social and industrial life of the people. The moonlight will not be less lovely; there will not be a single discord in the Brazilian musical harmonies, the fandango will not be danced less lightly because what was once the President's palace is now occupied by a military dictator.

Our friends in the South American states of yesterday will still be our friends tomorrow, if we will but have it so. If they can forgive the perfidy of their military chiefs, it is not for us to hold rancor. For, after all, it is their affair.

FINE WARES FROM INDIA ON DISPLAY

New Wilshire Boulevard Shop Has Rare Fabrics and Exquisite Jewels

BY OLIVE GRAY

A magic door hung with rare East Indian fabrics. Passing through you feel that you are encompassed with the very atmosphere of the Far East.

Soft-footed attendants unroll for the delectation of your eyes rich carpets with warp and woof of genuine golden thread; brocades exhaling the aroma of centuries, drape the walls; and attention is focussed upon cabinets gleaming as if in the sun's bright rays, their effulgence exhaling from gems of superb coloring—jewels beyond computation in mere dollars. It is said, in fact, that these treasures were wont to be computed in ancient days, not in money's worth, but in swords' worth.

Strands of beads composed of emeralds larger than we ever see them, are carved and glowing; long strings of matched pearls held together by rubies, cabachon and polished with infinite care—not cut—but retaining their natural shape and size; enamels, jades, crystals, everything of which we have dreamed about East Indian magnificence, is spread before us.

In the soft unhurried tones habitual to dwellers in that historic land, Ganesha Lal relates to us fascinating stories, historic sketches connecting the objects shown with those centuries long before America was on the world's maps. He calls attention to the marvelous carpet, stolen from the Peacock Throne and transported by elephant train across the desert, guarded by many swords against pursuing bandits.

Asked why our city was chosen for display and sale of these rare treasures, Ganesha Lal declared it is because he believes Los Angeles to be the center of greatest importance in the United States for the distribution of news; "and," he added, "I hope to tell your people of my country's industrial achievements, of our knowledge of weaving and gem setting, which was in effect many, many centuries ago—to teach these facts as I pursue my business, and to unteach somewhat which has been mistakenly supposed about our India."

Lal Chand Mehra, lecturer for the University of California extension division, was in attendance to explain many interesting objects and it was from him that we learned the history of the house of Ganesha Lal called, as he said, the Tiffany of India. Many of the rare objects shown and especially the fine brocades, have been in this family for centuries.

This fascinating shop opens its doors to the public today in the Professional Building, 3869 Wilshire Boulevard.

Swift, 74 years of age, formerly representative of the International Harvester Company in Mexico, Cuba and France, received probable fatal injuries this evening while walking to the Pacific Electric station to meet his daughter, Margaret Swift, returning from Los Angeles.

At Huntington Drive and Fletcher avenue he was struck by an automobile driven by Everette Candelaria, a chauffeur, living at 1015 West Second street, Los Angeles.

Mr. Swift suffered a fracture of the skull and because of his age little hope is held out for his recovery. Candelaria is held by police pending investigation of the report he was driving in a reckless manner.

In addition prizes aggregating $1000 will be given in the fourth annual specialty show of the Pacific Coast French Bulldog Club to be staged as a "show within a show" in connection with the event.

MARK TWAIN'S DOUBLE HERE

William I. L. Rigdon, Mark Twain's double, who is 77 years of age, and lives in Topeka, Kan., was a visitor in Los Angeles yesterday. Mr. Rigdon is making a tour of the United States.

NEIGHBORS ROAR IN VAIN ABOUT LION

Police Commission Defers Action on Protests Aimed at Young Pet of Actor

When the Police Commission yesterday took under advisement its decision on whether to revoke the permit of Bert Nelson Snyder, vaudeville actor, to keep lions at his home, 3341 Appleton street, about which neighbors have complained, the latter wanted to know what would happen if a lion got loose.

"Not being clairvoyants we do not know," answered Commissioner Drake.

The board held up its action pending a scrutiny of the law.

Seven irate neighbors appeared. The actor, who stated that he will leave in a few weeks for an absence of eight months in Mexico and Australia with his pets, said that a week ago his lioness was removed to a ranch thirty-five miles away as the result of the protest. The only one he has at his home now is a baby lion, which was injured in a train wreck and which he is trying to nurse back to health with sun treatments, he said.

The neighbors charged that the animal is kept in a cage made of chicken wire and is more active than the owner admits. Also they assert it roars, frightening their children.

A next-door neighbor of Snyder spoke in behalf of the cub, saying it is not as much of a nuisance as some dogs in the neighborhood.

Snyder declared lions do not roar until they are 2 years old, adding the cub is only 9 months old.

Quinn Aroused by County Lack of Flag Displays

Supervisor Quinn, former State and national commander of the American Legion, yesterday expressed his displeasure at the lack of the proper display of the national colors on county buildings during the Armistice Day celebration.

The Supervisor, acting chairman of the board in the absence of Sidney T. Graves, asked that an investigation be made to fix the responsibility for such a meager display.

Aside from the American flags flying from the tall pole in the courtyard and from staffs of other county buildings, which is the custom every day, there were no extra decorations for county buildings.

SELF-RULE FOR FILIPINO HELD RUIN

Former City Councilman Opines Independence Idea Fanned by Americans

Philippine independence, if granted by the United States government today, would be a calamity to the people of the islands, depriving them of the prosperity which they enjoy through the marketing of their tobacco, sugar, cocoanuts and other products, according to an opinion expressed at the City Club yesterday by Charles J. Colden, former Councilman and president of the Harbor Commission, who recently returned to Los Angeles from a tour of the world.

"The majority of Filipinos seem to realize that they are better off under present conditions than they would be under complete independence," said Mr. Colden. "Sugar planters in the islands told me that a great deal of the propaganda for Philippine independence is instigated by sugar growers and dealers of America and Cuba who want to get rid of Philippine competition. The people of the islands, generally, are well-fed, well-clothed and well-housed. While only one-half of the children are in school the other half are anxious and ready for education and it would be a pity, at this time, for the United States government to withdraw its protection and assistance."

Describing conditions in the Hawaiian Islands, Mr. Colden said that that Territory is a true melting pot for various nationalities, that it has practically no race prejudice and voiced the opinion that "our flag in Hawaii is justified by the prosperity there and the general good feeling that prevails among the inhabitants."

Another speaker was Cosmo K. Bellew, motion-picture actor, who discussed his art and who humorously deplored the fact that because there are so many actor folk today and they are so well-known "an actor can't get away with strutting about, as did the heroes and villains of the old days."

"Seriously, it is a sad day when mystery is eliminated from religion and art," said Mr. Bellew.

Officers Who Killed Bandit Given Praise

Detective Lieutenants Chester Lloyd and Harry Wilde of the Los Angeles Police Department, who shot and killed Jack Fleagle, notorious outlaw, at Branson, Mo., October 14, were lucky but did their duty splendidly, according to a communication received by the Police Commission yesterday from Police Chief H. D. Harper of Colorado Springs, Colo., and W. D. L. Banning, president of the Colorado Bankers' Association.

"We had the assistance of a number of splendid men on the occasion of apprehending Fleagle," the Colorado officials wrote. "Each was assigned to a special piece of work.

"Wilde and Lloyd were in a lucky place when the showdown came. They did their duty in a splendid way."

Fleagle fell from a hail of bullets from the guns of the two officers in a Pullman car at Branson.

The commission ordered the letter published in the Police Bulletin.

Screen Cries Smother Real Yells for Help

When Kenneth Hillgartner, electrician, happened to take hold of a live wire in the projection room of the United Artists Theater yesterday and couldn't let go, he yelled for help.

Unfortunately for him Harold Lloyd also was yelling for help in the picture, "Feet First," being shown in the theater and no one paid any attention to Hillgartner until he was seriously shaken.

Dr. Frederick W. Acker, who was called, declared the man had a narrow escape from death. Hillgartner was taken to his home.

MISSING MOTHER SOUGHT

Aid of the Sheriff's office was sought yesterday in a search for Mrs. Hazel Brown, 32 years of age, who disappeared in 1923. The request was made by Mrs. Florence E. Cuppett, 128½ West Fifty-ninth Place, a sister, who states that since Mrs. Brown's disappearance two of their sisters have died. The missing woman left two small children now in the care of relatives.

Flames Damage School Building in Long Beach

LONG BEACH, Nov. 12.—Fire, originating in the book room of the Edison Junior High School, Seventh street and Daisy avenue, at 9:30 p.m., did damage estimated at $10,000.

Neighbors saw smoke issuing from the building and when firemen investigated they found a serious blaze in progress in the inner store rooms of the structure. Three book rooms were gutted by the flames, which went through to the roof. The loss is about equally divided between books and equipment and damage to the building, school authorities estimated.

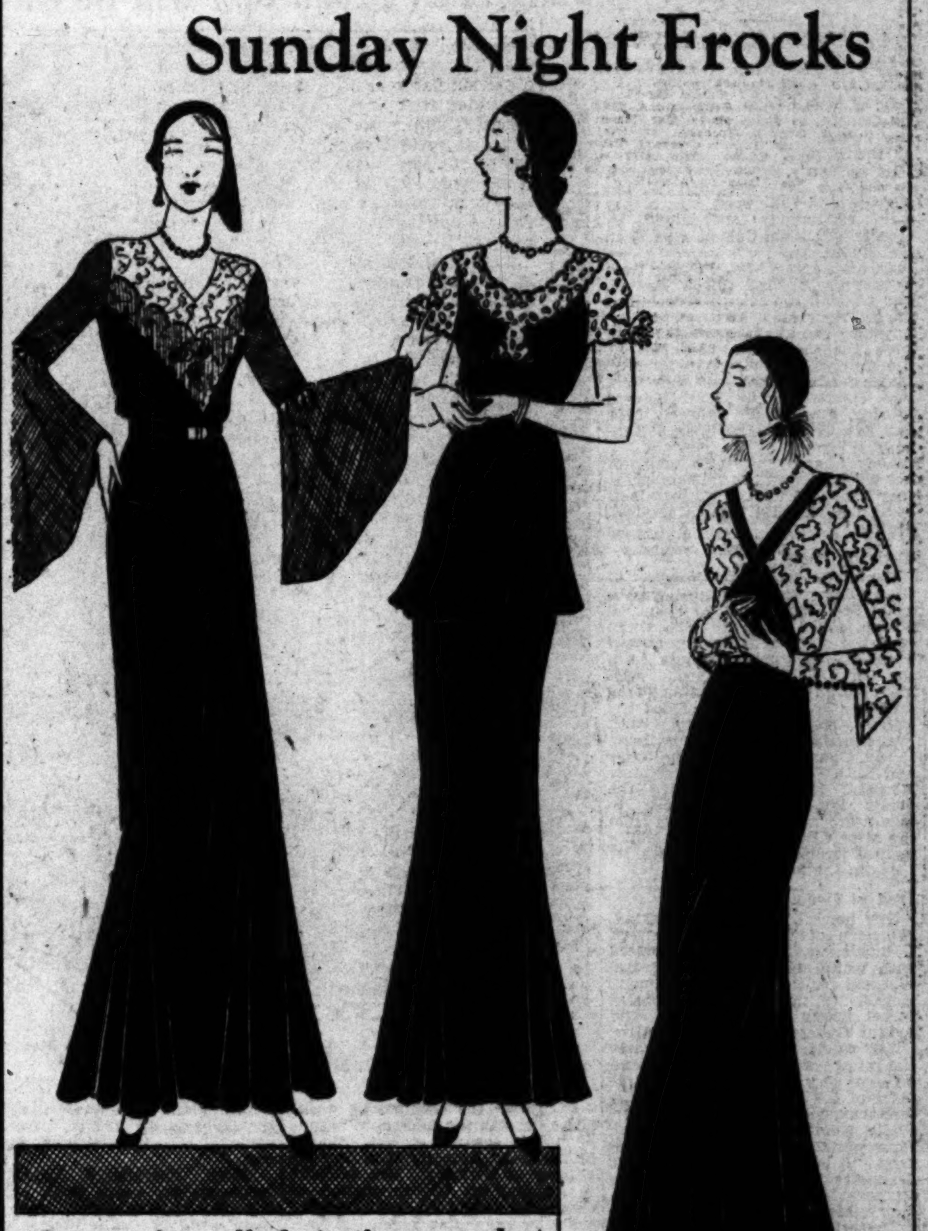
Sunday Night Frocks



Smart for all but the grandest affairs — these so-called Sunday Night frocks—which women wear every night in the week!

Extremely important in Autumn's fashion-scheme, they appear in eyelet chiffon, lame cloth or plain chiffon.

They have just the right touches of beaded ruffle sleeves, or the flowing type; sleeves of chiffon and lace.

Many are finished with a graceful chiffon jacket.

All are interpretations of the mode Parisian, and are remarkably effective.

Of Interest to Women

Society

by JUANA NEAL LEVY

Lady Margaret Sharpe and her attractive daughter, Mrs. E. Eliot Palmer, wife of the American Consul-General in Vancouver, B. C., and the Yukon, who is her house guest at the Rancho de la Vista, Highlands, San Bernardino county, passed the last week-end in Los Angeles and Hollywood, where they were charmingly entertained by George Townsend Cole at a party in his studio.

Accompanying Mrs. Palmer from Vancouver is Miss Sheila Russell, and they all were much entertained during their stay here.

Among the affairs given for them were the Halloween breakfast at the California Club, given by Miss Mollie Adelia Brown, and they were also entertained by Mrs. Howard Waring, Mrs. W. P. Caldwell, Mrs. Jay Lawyer and Mrs. Spence Kennelly.

Lady Sharpe entertains many of her old friends at the rancho, where they motor up for the week-ends, it being just one mile from Arrowhead Springs.

Yachting Party

Captained by Matt Peasley of Cappy Ricks fame, the three-masted yacht San Wan, owned by Frank O. Moran, sailed down to San Diego over the week-end, having aboard a coterie of young students from the Girls' Collegiate School. Miss Mary Moran was the charming young hostess and the guests included the Misses Frances Elfendahl, Ruth Franklin, Jane Helm, Virginia Helm, Helen Chandler, Edith Hightower and Ruth De Vienne. Mrs. Winnie Howland Johnson chaperoned the party. Mr. Moran is planning to take a group of the older boys from the Moran Boys' School on a three-months' cruise to the South Sea Islands in the near future.

Wed at Home

The home of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Andresen of West Myrtle street, Glendale, was beautifully decorated with white chrysanthemums and greenery for the marriage ceremony last Friday night of Miss Roberta Isabel Schau of St. Helena, and Arthur George Andresen of Seattle.

Soft candle light shed a glow over the altar of white blossoms and greenery banked before the fireplace of the living-room. Before the ceremony, which was read by Rev. Philip Kemp, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal Church, O. W. Andresen sang, "I Love You Truly." Mrs. Jeannette Oberne of Los Angeles accompanied, also playing the wedding march.

The bride wore a gown of brown chiffon and lace with corsage of orchids and lilies of the valley. Mrs. George Rivers of St. Helena was her only attendant, in frock of rose colored chiffon and carried pink roses. William Arthur Rose of Hollywood was best man.

Mrs. Andresen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Schau of St. Helena and was graduated from the University of California. Mr. Andresen's parents are Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Andresen of Seattle and he, too, was graduated from the University of California. They will reside in Los Angeles.

Preference Dinner

Kappa Epsilon Chi Sorority of Occidental College gave its preference banquet at the Town House honoring the Misses Frances Grotthouse, Nadine Rainville, Helen Collins, Mildred Staples, Betty Bien, Marjorie Chamlee, Muriel Mosler and Mae Dodson.

The Oak Room was the setting, and beautiful flowers in autumn shades were used in decorations, covers being arranged for thirty guests. A delightful program of harp music was presented during the evening by Miss Nancy Cavanaugh. Miss Muriel Carlson is president of the sorority and Miss Virginia Bailford vice-president, while Miss Pauline Boulger was chairman of arrangements.

Returned Home

Congressman and Mrs. M. H. Thatcher have returned to their home in Louisville, after a most delightful visit to Southern California and Washington. They came west to act as hosts of ceremonies at the christening of the scout cruiser Louisville. Many pleasant functions were arranged in their honor, notably among them the reviewing of the harbor aboard the cruiser of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Blackwood. Congressman Thatcher, formerly Governor of Kentucky, and Mr. Blackwood were former law partners in Louisville.

A Stand for the Cleaner Can

Bind several canning-jar rubbers together with string and use this little stand underneath your cleansing powder box. You will prevent that nasty rusty ring this particular box always leaves wherever you stand it.

Clean Ash Trays

Ash trays should be emptied and washed each day when the room is straightened up and dusted. Many housewives neglect this and the room has an unpleasant musty smell from the filled ash trays.

Chef Wyman's RECIPES

Every Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

CALIFORNIA TORTE

Beat the whites of five eggs until stiff and dry, and fold into them one cupful of sifted sugar, folding it in a little at a time, beat the yolks of five eggs until thick, and fold into them a half a cupful of flour, that has been sifted twice with one teaspoonful of baking powder, add to the yolks one cupful of chopped, seeded raisins and half a cupful of finely chopped walnut meats. Carefully fold the beaten whites into the mixture, place in a buttered and floured deep round cake tin, and bake in a slow oven. Unmold on a serving dish and just before serving cover with orange-flavored whipped cream.

LAMB HASH

Heat four tablespoonfuls of oil or butter in a saute pan, add one medium-sized onion chopped, two seeded, chopped green peppers, and cook slowly without browning until the onion and peppers are soft. Add three or four cupfuls of cooked lamb, cut in small dice, one and one-half cupfuls of chopped cold boiled potatoes and one cupful of meat stock, four pimientoes cut fine, and a seasoning of salt and paprika. Cover the pan, set it in the oven and let it cook slowly for three-quarters of an hour. Turn out on a hot platter, sprinkle with chopped parsley and garnish with toast points.

STRAWBERRY BAVARIAN CREAM

Two cupfuls of ripe strawberries, one cupful of sugar, one tablespoonful of gelatine, one cupful of cream, four tablespoonfuls of cold water, wash, hull and mash the berries, add the sugar to them, and stir until the sugar has dissolved, strain through a fine sieve. Soak the gelatin in the cold water, and set it over boiling water until it has dissolved, then stir into the strained strawberries and sugar. When cold, place it in a pan of cracked ice and beat it until it becomes thick. Then fold in the cupful of whipped cream, rinse a cold mold with cold water, and pour in the mixture. Allow it to stand for several hours in the ice box, turn out on a shallow plate, garnish with whipped cream and whole strawberries.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

Will Dull the Blades

Keep the sharp carving knives separated from each other. Either have strips of leather in which to slip them or keep them in separate compartments of the dresser drawer. You will lose that sharp edge from contact with the other blades.

Planned at Home

Decide what you want for your meals before you start out to market. Even if you do not keep absolutely to your decisions your meal will be much better balanced than if you go marketing without any thoughts at all on the subject.

Drinking Water for Babies

Drinking water for babies under a year old should be boiled in a covered pan for twenty minutes, cooled and then poured into sterilized bottles. Cork tightly and set aside until ready for use.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY
Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

WATCH THAT WAISTLINE

Many people who are over 40 years of age realize that they weigh too much, but hesitate about reducing because they have read so much about the danger of losing weight, but the truth of it is, that they are in more danger if they do not reduce. Between 40 and 45 is the time of life when most people begin to put on a great deal of weight and become candidates for pneumonia, heart trouble, kidney trouble, diabetes, diseases of the arteries and anemia.

Experts of the great life insurance companies state that after the age of 35 it is a slight advantage to be even a little under normal in weight. These experts say that the worst type of fat from the standpoint of long life is the fat which is packed on the abdomen. A good way to find out if you have too much weight at this point is to draw in a breath and measure your chest. Now measure your abdomen. If your chest is anywhere within three to five inches greater, than your abdomen you are not dangerously overweight, but if your chest and abdomen measure the same or if your abdomen is larger, you should immediately start to reduce.

After thirty-five overweight not only handicaps your appearance but is a shortener of life itself. In fact, it might be said that the longer your waistline the shorter your lifeline after the age of 35. If you want to keep going full speed to a long life, see that your weight does not get above normal.

Many people do not know how to begin a reducing regime nor how to continue with it. The permanent cure of overweight depends upon the evolution of diet so as to use only the amount of food necessary for repairing and building up the normal tissues of the body and no excess need be taken above this requirement.

The quickest and most infallible method of reducing the weight to normal is to use a fasting cure in some form. A fast with small amounts of water and the juice of citrus fruits is perhaps the best procedure for the average case. Weight can be reduced from a half to a pound daily with marked improvement in all the bodily functions. An apparent increase of energy will be noted which is caused by the body being freed of its burden of incumbrance. The mind power will be strengthened, and the ordinary occupations may be practiced with increased vigor. Deep breathing exercises should also be taken.

The diet following the short fast should be carefully chosen, avoiding the starches and sugars until the normal weight has been reached. If the proper amount of protein and green vegetables is used the body will be supplied with all of the elements essential for the perfect growth of cells and tissues.

An overweight body may be maintained for years without any sugar or starch or fat if enough protein is used together with the nonstarchy vegetables to supply the organic salts and vitamins.

After the weight has reached normal the carbohydrates and fats may be gradually introduced into the daily menu. A little experimentation will show the one inclined to be stout just how much of these fat-producing foods may be tolerated without the danger of again gaining excess weight.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

A Bedtime Story

PETER IS TEASED

If in your heart you seek to please
You cannot if you try to tease.
—Peter Rabbit.

Teasing is a bad habit. Yes, sir, it is so. It never makes friends and it does make enemies. Besides, it hurts the feelings of others. It destroys friendships, and friendships are very precious. He is rich indeed who is rich in many true friends.

Peter Rabbit was being teased. At first he didn't mind it, but after awhile it got so that he avoided his old friends and neighbors whenever he could. You see they had all heard about how he said that he had heard a strange song in the night in the Green Forest, and how he had vainly hunted for the singer. No one had seen or heard a feathered singer in the Green Forest so, like Jumper the Hare, they all thought that Peter must have dreamed it.

"Had any more dreams?" Sammy Jay would ask whenever he found Peter in the dear Old Briar-patch, and he took pains to visit it every day. Then he would fly away chuckling.

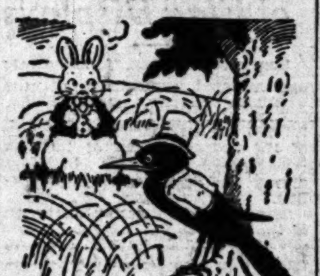
Reddy Fox would come around and gravely invite Peter to go with him over to the Green Forest to look for that unknown singer, and grin in the most provoking manner.

Blacky the Crow would go out of his way to visit the dear Old Briar-patch almost every day. "Hello, Peter," Blacky would say. "What is the news from dreamland? You should be more careful what you eat, Peter. Never go to sleep on a full stomach if you don't want to dream."

"I didn't dream," Peter would retort. "There was a strange song over in the Green Forest. I heard it and I wasn't asleep. That singer may not be there now, but he was there that night and some day I'll find out who it was and then it will be my turn to laugh."

Even little Tommy Tit the Chickadee couldn't resist the temptation to tease Peter a little, and Drummer the Woodpecker and Yank Yank the Nuthatch would ask Peter if he had found that strange singer yet. Do you wonder that Peter grew cross and avoided his old friends whenever he could?

But all this teasing made Peter more determined than ever to find out who that mysterious singer was. He spent most of his time over in the Green Forest hoping to hear that song again. He grew careless and several times had the narrowest of escapes. Once Reddy Fox surprised him there and Peter had a hard run for his life. Once Peter dodged just in the nick of time to escape the great claws of Hooty the Owl, and it was wholly because he was so intent on finding that unknown singer that he forgot to be on the watch for enemies, a thing that none of the little people of the Green Forest and the Green Meadows ever can afford to do.



"Hello, Peter," Blackey would say, "what is the news from Dreamland?"

Once Peter was sure that he heard that song again, but it was so far away that it was very faint and he couldn't tell where it came from. This time he took care to tell no one, for he knew that it would result only in more teasing. But it made him more determined than ever to get at the bottom of that mystery.

"I never can be happy again until I do," Peter would say to himself. "If that strange bird has gone away he'll be sure to come back sometime and when he does he'll sing again. I'll find him or my name isn't Peter Rabbit."

Gradually his friends stopped teasing Peter. The joke had grown so old that it was no longer interesting. They gradually forgot all about it. But Peter didn't forget. He was always on the watch for a strange feathered singer, and never went into the Green Forest without hoping that this time he would solve the mystery. You see his curiosity hadn't been satisfied; it was as great as ever. So he was always looking and listening and he never left the Green Forest for the dear Old Briar-patch without a feeling of disappointment. At the same time he never lost faith that somehow, some day he would find out all about it.

WHAT SHALL WE TELL THE CHILD ABOUT SANTA CLAUS?

Just after Christmas last year a reader wrote, "Everyone has such different ideas of what to tell their children about Santa Claus. I wish you would express your opinion." At that time I pointed out that the subject was "dead" since Christmas was over, but I would answer her questions next year.

That seemed only yesterday, yet here another Christmas is just around the corner, and there are more children asking about Santa Claus and more parents demanding, "Shall I tell them about Santa Claus as if he were a real man when I know absolutely that he isn't? Won't the children lose faith in my truthfulness if I do?"

Do parents suffer such guilty pangs when they read children the Mother Goose classics? Do they feel themselves overcome with remorse and shame when they talk about John Bull and Uncle Sam? There never were any such persons as those two, and yet their reality warm the child's early years.

WHAT SANTA REALLY IS

All around us we have personification of impersonal, immaterial things, which we can understand better when they are translated into personalities. Take, for example, the Goddess of Liberty, Justice with her scales. They become realities because we invest them with the aspect and garments of human beings, and they express something which otherwise would be difficult to express.

Santa Claus is that type of personality. Once years ago there lived a monk called St. Nicholas, whose goodness to children won him an eternal reputation. Out of this early reality there has grown up in every country the legend of a mythical individual who spends all his time working for the happiness of children. He is not an actual person, for actual persons cannot accomplish miracles, but he is a spirit and his spirit accomplishes miracles. It is the spirit of good will and the desire to confer happiness which lead mothers to sit up half the night finishing the doll's new wardrobe. It leads father to stand for half the night sawing and hammering and painting to make the doll bed that Susie has longed for. While we cannot actually see the spirit of good will, it is a reality just the same, measured by its deeds.

TELL TRUTH FROM FIRST

It is deplorable to tell children that every corner Santa Claus is a real one, ready to bring them the toys that have been earned by good behavior. It is undesirable to lay stress upon the reality of Santa Claus. It is thoroughly admirable to tell children of the spirit of good will and happiness and of the desire to unselfishly bestow it, which is personified by the jolly, red-flannelled, white-whiskered Santa Claus. There can be nothing harmful in telling this as a story.

The tiny child should understand that his dressed-up father, or the bell-ringing saints on the corner are just "pretend" Santa Clauses. No one can see Santa Claus, but we can see his deeds. We can understand his spirit and try to emulate it by working hard and unselfishly to make some one else happy. Then it is easy for even the smallest child to understand why so many people seem to be Santa Claus. The joy and warmth of the delightful old legend and the happy old saint can be felt by everyone.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Home Hints

Ribbons should be pressed on the wrong side to prevent shine.

Apples should be pared with a silver knife to prevent discoloration.

Rinse off the lemon squeezer as soon as you are finished with it. It will save you much time later on.

One housewife has the wall in back of her gas stove painted with waterproof varnish after each general painting. Spots can be wiped right off of this surface.

Drain the fried bacon on a piece of brown paper before placing it on the heated platter. Then it will never appear at the table swimming in fat.

A Few Slips

If in your painting, Housewife, you have slipped off the edge onto the mirror or window pane, don't be annoyed. Be nonchalant and after the paint has dried with hubby's old safety razor blade remove all traces of the slips. It is much easier than trying to remove the wet paint at the time of the accident.

Decorated Candles

If you are given a pair of elaborately decorated candles and are quite certain they will soil easily, give them a coat of clear shellack before ever using them. Dust will not adhere to them readily and they will stand quite a deal of wiping with a clean damp cloth when they do get soiled.

Not So Drastic

Never use ammonia or washing soda on an aluminum vessel. Vigorous scrubbing with a metal sponge should also be avoided. Aluminum wears out under such drastic treatment and will respond better to a softer polish and very fine steel wool.

Too Smelly

Water from boiled cabbage and onions should not be emptied down the sink, as it causes the odor to permeate the house. Pour it on the ground, as it will act as a fertilizer for many things, such as fruit trees, rhubarb and hardy plants.

Accept No Substitutes!

Our heroine's evening is off to a bad start, due to the boy friend's crude ideas about transportation. Many a party has fizzled the same way, when somebody tried a substitute for sparkling Mission Dry. This tart delicious taste cannot be imitated, because all three Mission Dry juices—orange or lemon or grapefruit—are sealed in their black bottles right at the groves. Insist on the genuine.

The work as outlined yesterday, to cost $257,000, calls for a channel widened and deepened from Washington Boulevard to an outlet in the Pacific Ocean at Playa Del Rey. The money would be used for acquiring right of way and preliminary work in the digging of the channel. This channel would be used temporarily to carry the drainage of approximately 134 square miles in the area through which the creek runs until the project is finally completed with water gates, jetties and improved embankments. When completed the project will have cost approximately $400,000, engineers declare.

Ballona Creek in flood times overflows and hundreds of acres of land are menaced by water of the creek leaving its banks.

The project is similar to the one now being worked out at the mouth of the San Gabriel River at Alamitos Bay where the county flood-control district is straightening some 4000 feet of the river's channel to relieve residents of flood waters in that area.

Imagine! Genuine Handmade Oriental Rugs!

9x12 size, $285 10x14 size, $435
12x18 size, $595

Economically and unquestionably the time to buy an Oriental Rug! Never before such a fine selection of patterns and colors, as well as values in the finer types of Oriental Rugs at Bullock's. A purchase made at such a great advantage that the lowest former prices on similar types were 50 PER CENT MORE! This strong statement requires an explanation, so the story of how Bullock's obtained these Rugs follows:---

When one of the largest and more reliable distributors of Oriental Rugs in this country found himself with a far greater supply of finer types of Oriental Rugs than he could possibly handle, he offered part of them to Bullock's at a great concession. This offer was made with the understanding that Bullock's could make a personal selection of patterns and colors. These Oriental Rugs are beautiful, luxurious . . fine examples of Eastern weaving. So that you can imagine Bullock's wasted little time in acquiring them to sell to Bullock's customers at prices almost unheard of in the Oriental Rug world.

Anyone knowing Oriental Rugs will recognize the superior quality of these . . will realize too that Rugs of this character and rare beauty are remarkable at such prices. Your opportunity at last, to have the Oriental Rug you have long desired and to obtain it at greater savings than Bullock's has ever before offered on rugs of like character.

PARLEY ON TRAFFIC CALLED

Merriam and Others to Discuss Grave Problems at Citizens' Committee Meeting Tonight

The question of whether the average driver is a moron or too highly intelligent to pay attention to the mere detail of driving, or just commonly dumb and careless will be discussed at Ebell Club tonight, at the second annual meeting of the Los Angeles Citizens' Traffic Safety Committee of One Hundred.

Lieut.-Gov.-elect Merriam of Long Beach will attack this problem from the technical side of mental analysis, as well as striking the keynote of the coming administration's policy in the solution of the increasingly grave problem of street and highway safety. Dr. Edward S. Merrill, psychiatrist and member of the California Society of Mental Hygiene, will report a scientific study of the automobile safety problem over a period of years.

Mrs. Joe Crail, president of the Ebell Club, will be honorary chairman of the meeting and Councilman Holland acting chairman.

Aroused public opinion against careless and vicious driving will be one of the basic factors of the program to be adopted, it is said, for the ensuing year. Committees on statistical research, traffic control, law enforcement, adult education and juvenile education will be appointed.

Others prominent in the social and civic life of Los Angeles who will be present at tonight's dinner meeting are Mrs. William Read, Mrs. Charles F. Turner, Dr. Elizabeth Mason Hohl, Mrs. B. R. Holloway, Mrs. Philip Von Rolf, Mrs. Ben Wesley, Mrs. W. R. Schumann, Mrs. Will Lee Austin, Miss Ethel Swope, Miss Enid Beck, Judge and Mrs. Dailey S. Stafford, Mr. and Mrs. Orra Monnette, Mr. and Mrs. Millson W. Downs, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Taylor, A. T. Mercier, Deputy Chief Davis, Coroner Nance, E. L. Bruck, J. Roy McClay, Rowland P. Fontana, J. R. Rowe and Dr. Herbert Marshutz.

MALOLO

Harold Lloyd scores again! His new comedy, "Feet First," now playing at the United Artists Theatre, is the big hit of the year, a triumph in the presentation of humor on the screen.

You'll laugh uproariously at those funny situations filmed in Honolulu. And you'll remember for many a day to come all the little subtle touches of artistry which Mr. Lloyd gives to the scenes on board the beautiful Malolo.

It is significant that the Malolo was chosen for the making of "Feet First." She is the Pacific's 4-day liner to Hawaii, unrivalled in luxury and spaciousness. Every sailing from San Francisco carries a distinguished passenger list.

After you see "Feet First," you'll want a trip to Hawaii on the Malolo. Just ask any travel agency or:

CONTEST ATTENDED BY CROWD

Barker Brothers Tourney of Table Setting Watched by Many Women of City

BY OLIVE GRAY

Each day, as the table-setting tournament at Barker Brothers continues, larger throngs are attracted to the Galerie, where the contest is in progress. Not only members of women's clubs engaged in the tournament throng the broad aisles, but friends and interested spectators are present, eager to know the decisions and questing for information as to the correct table appurtenances and ways of placing china, silver, linen and ornaments for the many occasions represented in the tournament.

Tuesday, the setting of luncheon tables, brought forth some lovely innovations in keeping with Armistice Day. The daily first prize, a crystal candelabrum, was captured by the Highland Park Ebell Club, Mrs. A. T. Poehlman setting the table for her club. Second honors went to the Santa Monica Bay Women's Club with Mrs. L. H. Case in charge.

Yesterday, bridge tables were the theme, the Echo Park Mothers' Club winning first prize, a handsome jardiniere in Italian pottery, the prize going into possession of the winning club which was represented in the contest by Mrs. A. J. Barnes and Mrs. Love.

Today, formal dinner table will be set in the tournament; tomorrow tea-tables and Saturday, buffet supper tables.

The tables are being judged, daily by a committee from local newspapers.

The points in judging are based on general effectiveness, originality, beauty of color and correctness.

The club receiving the highest score at the end of the week will receive the grand prize, which is a Hospitality Chest of 1847 Rogers Brothers flat silver service in pieces of eight to be awarded by the International Silver Company. Following the award of the grand prize, a talk on "Hospitality and Silver" will be given at 1 o'clock in the auditorium at Barkers' by Mme. Beatrice Bachelder, silver adviser of the International Silver Company.

JOHN WAYNE GETS FOX LEAD

"Big Trail" Actor Replaces Victor McLaglen in Role; Charlotte Greenwood to Star in "Meet the Wife;" Lester Vail Plays Opposite Joan Crawford

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

A shuffle and deal of new roles is taking place at Fox studios.

JOHN WAYNE

John Wayne, for instance, who seems to be marching right along upward to fame and fortune following his appearance in Fox's "The Big Trail," has been assigned to the leading male role in "The Painted Woman," from Larry Evans's novel, which Irving Cummings will direct.

Wayne will take the role instead of Victor McLaglen, who has just been loaned to Paramount. McLaglen has been placed back in the leading male role in "Land Rush," which Benjamin Stoloff will direct for Fox. It seems he can enact both the Paramount role and the Fox part without difficulty.

COMEDIENNE TO STAR IN FARCE

CHARLOTTE GREENWOOD

While no contracts have been signed, if present negotiations do not go awry that most entertaining of comediennes, Charlotte Greenwood, will play the featured role in Christie's film talking version of "Meet the Wife."

Miss Greenwood at present is now playing the lead in "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath," which winds up at El Capitan Theater Saturday night. Miss Greenwood has just finished two pictures for Christie which officials of that organization pronounce hits.

Lester Vail With Joan

That pleasing young leading man, formerly of the New York stage, Lester Vail, has been signed as Joan Crawford's leading man, we learned yesterday, in her newest Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer starring vehicle, "Dance, Fools, Dance." Miss Crawford's next picture will be "Torch Song," we also find.

Grace LaRue Comes Home

Grace LaRue

Grace LaRue, musical comedy and vaudeville headliner, and wife of Hale Hamilton, who is now playing a featured role in "Dance, Fools, Dance," returned from New York last night. She has been visiting in the East and shopping for plays during the past two months.

There is a possibility that Miss LaRue will enter talking pictures, but Hamilton told us yesterday that he knew she was bringing several plays west with her to read; and it is understood that she may appear locally in one or perhaps more of these, if she finds roles that suit her.

Nance O'Neill in It

The accomplished actress, Nance O'Neill, appears to have become a real member of filmdom.

Miss O'Neill was cast yesterday by Fox for a featured role in "This Modern World," which Sprague is directing.

Zasu Pitts and Lawrence Grant likewise have been given important characterizations.

Russian Director Departing

Sergei Eisenstein, noted Russian director, is to leave within a few days for his native Russia, we learned yesterday.

Eisenstein directed some notable Russian films in his own country, and was put under contract to Paramount, but subsequently contractual relations were called off.

Eleanor Hunt Signed

Eleanor Hunt, clever actress, has been signed by Christie to play opposite Ford Sterling in a new comedy not yet titled. Work is to be commenced next week.

Miss Hunt was formerly of the stage, playing opposite Eddie Cantor in "Whoopee" in New York. She also played opposite him in the film.

Torrid Vacation for Vamp

A volcano would seem to be a fitting place for a screen vamp to spend a vacation, and that's just the place which Rita LaRoy, Radio film player, with a fine sense of the eternal fitness of things, chose as her temporary resting place.

Miss LeRoy has just returned from Cozo Springs, a resort located in the heart of an old volcano in the Mojave Desert. There she spent a week's vacation.

Singer Signed by Fox

Jeanette MacDonald, it is reported, has signed a contract with Fox. Miss MacDonald formerly has been associated with Paramount, appearing in "The Love Parade," "Let's Go Native" and "Monte Carlo."

NOBLE IDEA DRIVE GETS UNDER WAY

World Golden Rule Plan Headquarters Formally Opened at Biltmore

Formal opening of the world's Golden Rule Plan headquarters took place at the Biltmore yesterday when with many friends of the organization in attendance. Mrs. Elizabeth Holbrook, chairman of the woman's division, was in charge.

The plan was conceived by Edison Hornady, who plans to bring to the attention of the public the application of his philosophy of life based on a distinctive presentation of the golden rule in child training, in business conduct and in traffic problems. A speakers' bureau has been formed which will provide for a presentation of this project before any group making a request. Among the volunteer speakers listed are Dr. Chang-Sei Kim of Hangchow, China, temporarily in Southern California; E. B. De Groot, Willis Owen, W. P. Willimott and others.

The author of the plan stresses the multiplying power of a noble idea when it has been set in motion. He believes the golden rule idea will be contagious in office or factory and has the power to transform every relationship that it touches. Hornady also believes that were this rule made the operating power in traffic many of the accidents and fatalities now so common would be avoided. Headquarters are in Room 19, first floor of the Biltmore.

Pig'n Whistle Official Gains

Sidney Hoedemaker, general manager of the Pig'n Whistle Corporation, is recovering from an operation for appendicitis at the Good Samaritan Hospital after a week's critical illness.

He was taken to the hospital early on the morning of the 5th inst. and an operation was performed by Dr. Donald Frick and Dr. Sidney Burnap. Dr. Burnap said Hoedemaker's condition was satisfactory last night and that he is expected to recover.

SINGER'S WIFE SUES, TELLING OF DISCORD

Theodore H. Waters, film singer, abused his wife and tore up her clothing, according to a divorce complaint by Mrs. Norma Waters, on file in Superior Court yesterday. On one occasion he told her, "It is all I can do to keep from killing you," she asserts, and at another time he pushed her out of bed. On still another occasion when he came home late, she charges, she detected lipstick of a strange tint on his lips and handkerchiefs. The couple have two small children.

LLOYD BLENDS FUN AND THRILL

'Feet First' Shows Star Doing Steeplejack Stunts

Comedian Also Plays Clever Scenes as Stowaway

New Contribution to Mirth at United Artists

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

If entertainment that induces laughter be the real goal of the picture-goer right at present—and I believe that it is—then there is a sure-fire choice available. It is Harold Lloyd's comedy, "Feet First," on view at the United Artists' Theater. Lloyd seldom, if ever, fails his audiences, and this time he comes forth with a film that is not only amusing, but also a thriller.

Of course, Lloyd has done thrill pictures ere this. There was the old "High and Dizzy" for one, and "Safety Last" for another, but they are now perhaps more than half forgotten. Too, in a majority of its gags, which show the star scaling a skyscraper, "Feet First" goes well beyond its predecessors. And it adds the comedy of word to the comedy of action.

"Feet First" opened yesterday to showgoers who uproariously signified their approval of Lloyd gags, and who held their breath and perhaps even squirmed in their seats when they visioned him perilously hanging to the side of a high building for there is the reality almost of drama to the finishing episodes of the production.

Personally, I found most original the experiences of Harold Horne, the hero, when he was traveling as a stowaway aboard the liner bound from Hawaii to California. Many of the laughs in this part of the picture are captured in a new and adroit fashion, and even familiar tricks of comedy are polished up so they have an unexpected brightness.

I know of nothing funnier, for instance, than the explosion of a trick cigar in one of the scenes. It is the way this good old expedient of comedy is used that makes it so amazingly amusing, and one must perforce laugh long and heartily over this as well as many of the newer ingenious devices of humor.

LLOYD IN SHOE STORE

Lloyd appears as the errand boy in a shoe store. Ambitious for success, he writes to the correspondence schools. Having learned the recipes, he crashes into an exclusive club with a view to achieving social and business connections. Here he is introduced about by an inebriate gentleman, with various malaprop complications.

The social connections the star gains are directly responsible for his being held aboard the ship sailing from Hawaii. He simply can't get away to go ashore, and then commence his fantastic efforts to obtain first, sleeping accommodations, second, meals, and third a dress suit so that he may attend dinner with the fashionable gentry who have taken him up. It is scarcely necessary to relate that all this keeps Lloyd very, very busy.

How the locale of the star's comedy is transferred from the ship to the skyscraper evidences ingenuity. He has to deliver some "papers" in a hurry to the mainland, and in the midst of his endeavors to escape pursuing officers aboard the vessel, who have discovered that he is a stowaway, he hides in a mail sack.

An airplane carries him to the destination, but when he is attempting to escape from the mail sack, he rolls onto a platform such as is used for painting or washing buildings, and is immediately hoisted into the air, still trying to cut his way out of the canvas bag.

The rest may be imagined. It is like "Safety Last," of course, but a novel paraphrase of that earlier picture. "Feet First," all things considered, is one of Lloyd's liveliest and most engaging comedies.

LEADING LADY PLEASES

Barbara Kent as the heroine evidences an even more pleasing presence and manner than in "Welcome Danger," and she was very acceptable in that picture. She is undoubtedly one of the best opposites that the star has ever had.

Such actors as Robert McWade, Arthur Houseman and Alec Francis add to the quality of the picture. McWade is especially prominent. Lillianne Leighton is also very competent. Noah Young is admirable in a dumb bit. Sleep and Eat, who might almost be taken for Stepin Fetchit, is fine as a foil in the skyscraper sequences. Henry Hall is seen in a character part.

The picture was directed by Clyde Bruckman from a story on which John Grey, Al Cohn, Felix Adler and others collaborated. There was a whole battery of authors, including probably Lloyd himself, as well as Bruckman. Paul Gerard Smith wrote the dialogue.

In a musical short reel that accompanies the feature Ginger Rogers exhibits personality plus. A Robert Bruce scenic and organ selections by Gaylord Carter are effective contrast to the laugh feature. The Bruce scenic shows some exquisite views, especially of the Shenandoah seen off the Oregon coast at twilight.

Rebellion of Indian Film Actors Told

When Raoul Walsh was preparing to film the Indian attack which forms one of the thrilling sequences of "The Big Trail," now playing at Grauman's Chinese Theater, there was a rebellion on the part of hundreds of Indians who were to play the part of the attackers. The braves flatly refused to wear anything but eagle feathers.

It remained for two Crow Indian girls on location to solve the problem by offering to sell from their stock on hand. Inasmuch as their stock, the only in the entire camp, provided them with a monopoly, they were able to set their own price.

John Wayne and Marguerite Churchill furnish the romance in the film which depicts hardships of the sturdy trail-blazing pioneers. El Brendel, Swedish character comic, provides humor with his portrayal of the blundering traveler.

Gifted Player Takes Unusual Role

DOUBLE BILL OPENING AT PARAMOUNT

Film Comedy and Eastern Stage Show Included on Theater Program

Paramount's comedy drama, "Fast and Loose," and the eastern stage show, "Snap into It," will have western premieres at the Paramount Theater today.

The picture, "Fast and Loose," is from Avery Hopwood's story, "The Best People." The cast includes Miriam Hopkins, Carol Lombard, Frank Morgan, Charles Starrett, Henry Wadsworth and other stage-and-screen players. Fred Newmeyer directed.

"Snap into It," the stage presentation, features Eddie Stanley, Wilbur Hall, Deno and Rochelle, "The Blue Steppers," Virginia Ray, and the Dave Gould Girls. Rubinoff offers "Precious Little Thing Called Love" as his overture novelty.

French Player Stars in Film Opening Today

The change of program at Pantages Hollywood Theater brings Maurice Chevalier to the screen in the first Hollywood showing of "Playboy of Paris," together with a new stage offering produced by Larry Ceballos for Fanchon and Marco.

MAURICE CHEVALIER

A humble waiter by day, a millionaire lothario by night, Maurice Chevalier is said to be at his best in "Playboy of Paris."

Added comedy impetus is given the picture by the supporting cast which includes O. P. Heggie, Stuart Erwin, Eugene Pallette and Dorothy Christy. Frances Dee plays opposite Chevalier.

Stampede Scene Too Realistic for Sound Men

Cameramen who filmed "Billy the Kid," now playing at the Criterion Theater, were given a slight idea of what Tennyson had in mind when he wrote "The Charge of the Light Brigade." Only this time it was cattle, not cannon, that bellowed and thundered.

Thousands of Texas long horns, prairie steers and calves surged around the photographers and sound men as they worked for hours to record the stampede sequences.

No one could tell the animals what to do. All the director, King Vidor, could hope to do was to start the herd running and hope for the best. Cowboys worked like Trojans to divert the thundering mass. John Mack Brown, who plays the part of Billy in the picture, and Wallace Beery, the modern reincarnation of Sheriff Pat Garrett, joined in the task of quieting the herd.

Miss Velez, vivacious star of "Hell Harbor," and "The Storm," is said to play a new type role as Ming Toy. Ayres, remembered as the hero of "All Quiet on the Western Front," portrays Benson. Edward G. Robinson is cast as Charlie Yong.

World-Famous Violin Artist Tells Dreams

"I should like to be an army officer in the morning planning a battle, a surgeon in the afternoon performing an operation, and a musician at night, playing the violin."

So said Fritz Kreisler in a ten-minute review of his life after the concert Tuesday night. He had been asked if there was anything else he would have rather done and that was his answer.

It was not, he explained, that he wouldn't devote his life to music again if he were to begin all over, but that he regretted the impossibility of having been a man of medicine, and a military strategist as well. He had two years study of medicine and a dab at the army but fortunately for the world he realized that he must concentrate on violin.

"All my life I have tried to follow the French sage's dictum, 'put a little sentiment into everything you do to make it live,'" he explained. "It has given my life memories."

"I have tried to pile up treasures of the soul," he went on, "many interests such as book collecting, old manuscripts, fishing, hunting and pursuits of which concert tours do not permit indulgence. I look forward to more of these things."

So he spoke as the throng crowded around the stage doors and demanded more of his inimitable playing. Saturday afternoon there will be another Kreisler concert and more will be satisfied.

Testimonial Planned for Two Notables

With the announcement that the premiere of "Min and Bill" at the Carthay Circle Theater on the 20th inst., will be in the nature of a testimonial to Marie Dressler and Wallace Beery, tickets for the opening presentation of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's latest feature are in demand.

MARIE DRESSLER

It is expected that this tribute to the two notables will be the occasion of one of the largest gatherings of film luminaries and Hollywood personages ever seen here. Tickets have been placed on sale at the theater and branch offices.

"Min and Bill" marks the advent of Miss Dressler to the rank of stardom in her own right, according to an announcement.

BERYL MERCER IN TWO

Beryl Mercer has been cast in two pictures, "Inspiration," at M.-G.-M., and "East Lynne," which Frank Lloyd will direct for Fox.

Whispers in the Wings

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

YESTERDAY'S brightest piece of news concerned itself with the two principal players chosen by Mrs. Patrick Campbell to accompany her in the revival of "Ghosts."

TOM DOUGLAS

Tom Douglas, the boy of "Fata Morgana"—he was a local sensation because of a very fine performance — will play Oswald Alving. Lionel Belmore has the other important supporting role.

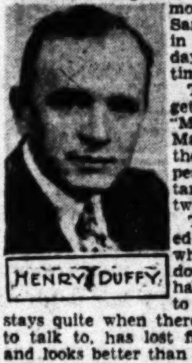
The production will be launched next Monday evening at the Erlanger Columbia Theater in San Francisco and after a two-weeks' engagement will come back to Los Angeles.

Mrs. Campbell has directed and staged the play herself. She ought to have made a good job of it, for she knows the play backward and forward having done it in London as recently as 1928.

And if you are interested in statistics of the past, this is the first play in which she has appeared on the Pacific Coast since 1912, when she appeared in Shaw's "Pygmalion." This, too, has been said before, but may stand repeating. She was Juliet to Forbes-Robertson's Romeo and played the same role with Sarah Bernhardt as Romeo. She also acted with the great Sarah in Maeterlinck's "Pelleas and Melisande."

The Duffys in Town

Henry Duffy and Dale Winter (Mrs. Duffy) bobbed up at El Capitan Theater night before last after motoring from San Francisco in twelve hours, daylight driving time.



HENRY DUFFY

They came to get ready for "Michael and Mary," in which the two will appear at El Capitan Theater in two weeks.

The red-headed Mr. Duffy, who never sits down when he has some place to go, who never stays quite when there is some one to talk to, has lost fifteen pounds and looks better than in some time.

He says he won't play "Michael and Mary" any longer than three weeks, because he has to be off to New York to get some more plays for the four Coast theaters whose dramatic fortunes he is now guiding.

"Paris in Spring" in North

The new Macloon operetta, once known as "La Violette" and rechristened "Paris in Spring," opened and is now running, apparently successfully, at the Curran Theater in San Francisco.

"Othello" Arrives Tonight

A week ago this column announced that "Othello" was about to start at the Pasadena Community Playhouse. The statement was slightly premature.

GILMOR BROWN

Tonight is the night. Gilmor Brown is playing the title role, that of the irate Moor, which Paul Robeson played in London last summer, and which has been a favorite dramatic vehicle for so many actors. Gwendolin Seiler, English actress; Alice Turner, Morris Ankrum and others are in the cast. The settings, incidentally, are by Janis Muncis, who in the past has done some extremely interesting things for the Playhouse.

Along the Eastern Front

And here's a batch of items from the New York correspondent:

The League of New York Theaters, in co-operation with the Postal Telegraph-Cable Company, emerged successfully today in the first test of its plan to sell tickets to the general public at 50 cents above box-office prices and to curb gouging by ticket speculators, according to a consensus of league and Postal officials who watched the working of the plan at leading Broadway theaters.

With improvised ticket booths set up in theater lobbies or adjacent alley ways where Postal orders were exchanged for actual tickets at 8 p.m. the transactions were made without confusion and with considerable expedition. There were virtually no complaints and no trouble.

Noel Coward's London success, "Private Lives" will open at the Times Square Theater, January 27, it was said yesterday by Arch Selwyn.

Colleen Moore, who made her stage debut out of town in "Cindy," will close her road tour on Saturday night in Louisville. The play, the work of Benjamin F. Glazer and Jack Lait, will soon be converted into a talking picture with Miss Moore in the cast.

Those Broadway rumors about Al Jolson persist and not a few of them turn up with reasonable frequency. The latest, and it seems well authenticated, is that he will go to work for Mr. Gensler—and, presumably, Mr. Green—in a show that will follow "The Gang's All Here."

The new George Kelly play is booked for Washington early.

VARCONI SIGNED

Victor Varconi has been signed by United Artists to play the leading role opposite Gloria Swanson in "Rock-a-bye" which Tay Garnett will direct. He will be seen soon in his first American talkie, "Captain Thunder," which will be released shortly by Warner Brothers.

LA FOLLETTE WARY TALKER

Boyish Governor-Elect of Wisconsin Interviewed

Santa Monica Visitor Dodges Political Questions

West's Interest in Dry Law Puzzle to Him

Philip M. La Follette, who at 33 years of age is Governor-elect of Wisconsin, youngest save the Governor of Georgia ever elected chief executive of a State in the history of the Union, is a guest at the Sovereign Apartments at Santa Monica, where he is visiting his sister, Fola La Follette, wife of George Middleton, playwright.

La Follette gave a sort of mass interview yesterday with newspaper men who wanted to know his views on prohibition, the age of his children, of which he has two; unemployment (one of the most difficult problems, by the way, presented to the youthful executive,) chain banks and why they should be discouraged, taxation, his favorite recreation, campaign expenditures and why they should be curtailed and other problems.

FOLA SHOWS WIT

The suggestion had been offered that there must be some compelling quality in the La Follette family to have enabled them to win such universal approval from the electorate of Wisconsin, whereupon the sister, Miss La Follette (she's a Lucy Stoner and goes by her maiden name) commented with a humorous twinkle.

"Well, I'll say myself the La Follettes would have chosen each other as friends, even if they were not related." The twinkle grew into a grin, and then she added something which, if nothing else, was good politics. "Moreover, the La Follettes have never betrayed the trust of the people who voted for them."

Governor-elect La Follette is a slender, even boyish figure. He has an abundance of hair parted in the middle, which for all his youth is beginning to show streaks of gray, and a ready, youthful willingness to smile, which contrasted oddly with the caution he displayed when he was asked some question he considered dangerous, politically, to answer.

BELIEVES IN ACTION

An example was the problem of unemployment:

"There is much unemployment in Wisconsin," he admitted. "What will I do to meet the problem? Well, I don't believe in talking first and doing something afterward. Wait till I've done something, and then we'll talk about it."

Prohibition?

"Why is it that you newspaper men, who must reflect what the people are thinking, are so interested in this? Out in Wisconsin, even in Chicago, the people are not talking so much about prohibition as they seem to be here. Prohibition was not one of the big problems in the last gubernatorial campaign."

"Yes, but Mr. Governor, what are your personal views?" insisted a reporter. "Will it be the big issue in the next Presidential campaign?"

"That depends on who are the candidates and if Mr. Hoover is one of them—"

"Don't you think he will be?"

MAKES NO PREDICTIONS

"I make no predictions," said the Governor-elect. "Our view, the view of the Progressives, is that prohibition is a problem, control of which should be restored to the States. However, the first step toward any modification must come from Congress."

It was no surprise to the newspaper men to be told by him that he is against the power trusts; that he stands for equalization of taxes; that he thinks chain banks are dangerous because they centralize business credit in the hands of a few, and that he is most seriously concerned with the money candidates for office, or those promoting their candidacies, are spending these days.

The total of his own expenditures, both before and after the primaries, was $3900.

"Gov. Kohler, running against me for re-election, campaigned in an airplane, and I rode in a Ford," he said, with one of his grins. "It was very spectacular. I made 375 speeches all out of doors, many of them in public parks. In advertising our meetings we didn't go in for unusual expenditures; just put up posters, and our literature was on newsprint paper. Gov. Kohler's expenditures were $125,000."

During most of the interview La Follette sat with his hands in his pockets, a characteristic attitude, and slumped well back in his chair. He likes to ride horseback, he says, and play golf.

But golf takes up too much time, so he rarely has opportunity to indulge in it. He can't afford the time, and he can't afford the money, was the way he put it, with one of his quick smiles. He says he realizes he inherited a famous name, which has been of help to him, but that he must make good on his own.

He is married, one of his children, a boy, being 4 years of age, and the other, a girl, 2. He's very proud of his mother, who is still alive, and is 71 years of age. He has been teaching law in the University of Wisconsin, and is still on the faculty in this capacity although he'll have to resign, now he's to serve the State as Governor.

He has a sister in addition to Fola, Mary Sucher, wife of a newspaper man living in Washington.

Gov.-elect La Follette is only going to stay at Santa Monica until next Sunday, he says, and came here for a rest.

MAN'S DISAPPEARANCE IN VENICE REPORTED

Fearing that Monroe Burton, 37 years of age, of New York, may have met with foul play; relatives have asked police to search for the man, missing since he left a Venice bank yesterday morning with $300 in currency on his person. Mrs. B. Dixon, 1440 North Normandie avenue, a cousin of the missing man, told police Burton had accompanied her to Venice and agreed to meet her an hour later, after he visited the bank.

COUNCIL HEARS ALL ABOUT DIN

Two Committees Get Data on Proposed Ordinance

Many Varieties of Sounds Receive Attention

Action Delayed for Study of Pressing Problems

Unanimity of opinion to the effect that city noises should be reduced featured the antinoise hearing yesterday afternoon before the Health and Sanitation and Public Welfare committees of the City Council.

The committees had before them the ordinance recently introduced by Councilman Williams. No recommendation on the ordinance was forthcoming, the Councilmen contenting themselves with listening to expression of public opinion.

That expression soon became evident. Street cars, trains, whistles, automobile horns, dogs, roosters, wild parties, radios, milk wagons and garbage trucks were targets for complaints.

Williams explained that his ordinance takes in all existing laws against noises with some new matter now being enforced in other cities.

"We are not attempting to invade the rights of citizens," said Williams, "but we wish to eliminate unnecessary and unusual noises. The noises of flat-wheeled street cars and those made by morons honking automobile horns and turning on blatant radios can be abated."

Councilman Henning said he believes there are sufficient State and city laws which, if enforced, will reduce a large volume of disturbing sounds.

OPENING OF ROAD TO BE CELEBRATED

Monterey Highway From Hermon to Huntington Drive Completed

Thousands of residents of Highland Park, Rose Hill and Hermon are expected to attend the program to be given Saturday at 7 p.m. at Hermon in celebration of the finishing of the paving of Monterey Road between Hermon and Huntington Drive.

Addresses will be made by Mayor Porter, Councilmen Holland and Jacobson and the city managers of Pasadena and South Pasadena. Student choruses from Pacific College at Hermon will sing and selections will be played by the Boy Scouts' Harmonica Band from Arroyo Seco Playground.

The celebration will begin with the turning on of the ornamental lights along the concrete flanks of the Monterey Road cut and the boulevard lights along the high-line drives rimming either side of the retaining wall, the highest wall of its kind in Los Angeles county.

The committee in charge of the celebration consists of A. B. Ball, V. H. Bush and Claud Watson.

Hermon, settlement of 1800 inhabitants, although a part of Los Angeles, has for years been practically out of communication with the rest of the community because it contained no through highway. The new highway was built at a cost of about $600,000.

Girl Flung Out of Automobile and Badly Hurt

Miss Emma Randolph of 5129 Avalon Boulevard was recovering yesterday after being thrown from an automobile by unidentified persons, according to a report made to police by J. L. Shephard of 441½ East Fifty-second street.

Mr. Shephard told Detectives Veit and Burch he saw the girl being shoved out of the door of a sedan in front of 423 East Fifty-third street Tuesday night. He called an ambulance and had her taken to Georgia-street Hospital, where she was found to have suffered severe injuries to the right knee and hip.

Miss Randolph told detectives yesterday she did not know what had happened and had no idea whether she was shoved out of the car or not.

BANDITS BREAK CRIME RECORDS

Steckel Says Department Needs More Men

Woman Bound and Gagged by Armed Robbers

Daily and Monthly Totals Set New Marks

While patriotic citizens were listening to Armistice Day speeches on peace and security Los Angeles bandits took the occasion to break all local twenty-four-hour robbery records. Twenty robberies were reported in the period between 6 a.m. Armistice Day and 6 a.m. yesterday. This number makes a total of eighty-seven for the first eleven days of this month, an increase of fifty-one when compared with a total of thirty-six for the same period last month, and an increase of thirty-seven over the seasonal record of last year for the same period.

Robbery of Mrs. Rose Statler, bound and gagged by two bandits in her apartment-house at 6526 Selma avenue; of two cafes, one creamery company driver, a Safeway store collector and a Safeway store manager shortly before noon yesterday swelled this month's total to ninety-four, making another crime record.

Police laid the principal blame for it on the unemployed.

FORCE INADEQUATE

"The department is undermanned," said Chief Steckel. "We simply face the impossible when we attempt to stamp out banditry and burglary with the inadequate force at our disposal. All we can do is to take special measures and peck at the problem in various districts where crime centers periodically. I hope to be able within the next few days to reorganize the uniformed divisions in such a way that much of the present increase may be prevented.

Outstanding in this plan of reorganization, Chief Steckel explained, will be the reapportionment of the various police divisions into areas of four districts, each district to be in charge of a police inspector or deputy chief. This officer will have the authority of drafting any number of men he sees fit from the divisions in his area to use as special patrol units in staking oil stations, groceries, banks or other places of business which have received unusual attention from bandits and burglars, and will also be held responsible for crime conditions in his area. Heretofore, Steckel explained, the system has been such that the detective divisions were called upon to do this work in addition to their investigating duties.

WOMAN TIED UP

The robbery of Mrs. Statler occurred shortly after 10 a.m. Two bandits after knocking upon her door forced their way in with threatening pistols. While one kept her covered with his revolver the other tied Mrs. Statler hand and foot with towels, and then ransacked her apartment of $250 in cash and checks. Mrs. Statler was freed by a roomer shortly after the bandits fled.

Edward Contreras, collector for the Safeway Stores, reported he had been held up at Fifty-fifth street and Vermont avenue and robbed of $700 in cash and checks by a lone auto bandit, who had forced him into the curb.

ANOTHER STORE ROBBED

The same chain-store organization lost $140 more when two bandits held up A. Ferguson, manager, in the store at 3430 North Broadway at an earlier hour. Police records show that four Safeway stores have been robbed in the last thirty-six hours.

The two cafes held up yesterday morning were the Dugout Cafe at 6157 Whittier Boulevard, where Archie Mahlin, proprietor, lost $15 to three armed bandits, and the Optimists' Cafe at 4501 West Pico Boulevard, where H. P. Clifford, night man, was robbed of $20 by a lone bandit armed with an automatic pistol.

C. E. Freeman, driver for the Bothell Creamery, was the fifth victim yesterday morning. He was held up in front of 138 South St. Andrews Place and robbed of $3 by a lone bandit on foot.

BANDITS BEATEN OFF

Of thirteen robberies late Tuesday night two were listed by police as attempts after victims had routed bandits in fist fights. H. D. Brown, Christian Science practitioner, narrowly escaped death when he resisted efforts of two armed bandits to hold him up just after he had driven into his garage at 1853 Victoria avenue. When one of the bandits leveled a pistol at his head and demanded his valuables Brown stepped quickly aside and struck the bandit in the nose with his fist. Flame leaped from the muzzle of the bandit's pistol at the same time, and a bullet creased Brown's right cheek. Brown staggered and was knocked dazed to the garage floor by a blow from the other bandit's gun butt. When Brown fell the bandits fled.

HE DEFEATS ROBBER

Max Hugo Cordes of 525 West One Hundred and Fifteenth street, with a girl friend as audience, knocked a pistol from a bandit's hand and with a right uppercut sent the man slithering into the gutter. Minus his weapon, the bandit fled, leaving the revolver, which Cordes turned over to police.

Six gasoline service stations were held up. Southern Gasoline Inc., at 7096 Hollywood Boulevard, where $15 was obtained by one bandit; Van Fleet and Durkee station at Sixth street and Commonwealth avenue, where I. A. McQuillam lost $10 to two bandits; Richfield station at 5101 Santa Monica Boulevard, where D. J. Hughes was robbed of $30; at 3063 Crenshaw Boulevard, where two bandits robbed J. C. Mueller of $13; Richfield station at 1989 West Washington Boulevard, where W. F. Hellman lost $58, and a second Van Fleet and Durkee station at 1801 Venice Boulevard where M. B. Swain lost $8 to two bandits.

One bandit armed with an automatic pistol held up P. McDwan in the Brown Derby Cafe at 3427 Wilshire Boulevard and robbed him of $207 in cash.

Lone bandits held up a Piggly Wiggly store at 5423 South Central avenue, and a MacMarr store at 1553 Cahuenga Boulevard. In the former, the manager was robbed of $58, and in the latter, J. T. Torske, manager, was robbed of $150 by a Negro.

G. McCoy of 2329 Glendon avenue and Miss Katherine Adams of 5716 Eleventh avenue were robbed of $100 in jewelry and cash by a bandit who held them up when McCoy's automobile stalled at Fifty-fourth street and Rimpau Boulevard.

One of the thirteen robberies Tuesday night was that of Miss Helen Copin, cashier in the Olympic Auditorium at 1801 South Grand avenue, by a lone bandit armed with a large revolver. The bandit obtained $150 in cash.

Burglaries totaled 228 for this month so far as compared with 151 last month. The latest reported was that by L. L. Ostrow, motion-picture producer. Ostrow reported his home at 601 North Mariposa avenue entered through a dining-room window and plundered of $2000 worth of jewelry and clothing after it had been thoroughly ransacked.

TWO-GUN HOLD-UP MEN

The Los Angeles headquarters of the Golden State Dairy Products Company at 1711 Albion street was the scene of a hold-up shortly before noon in which the two-gun bandits obtained $600 in cash. The pair entered the office as R. R. McIntosh, manager, was counting out the money before taking it to a bank. They ordered him into a corner, then gave the same command to five clerks, Irving Edwards, Al Glassell, Miss Elizabeth Savage, Miss Helen Redack and Mrs. D. Imhoff. Each bandit carried two revolvers. After scooping up the currency they backed out of the office and ran to an automobile in which they sped away.

Robert Lamme, owner of a haberdashery store at 5630 Melrose avenue, notified Hollywood police yesterday that some one had thrown a brick through the front door of his store, unhooked the latch, and made off with men's furnishings valued at approximately $1500. The plunder included fifty-five pairs of shoes, fifteen dozen ties, 100 shirts, 120 pairs of socks, and a large amount of other wearing apparel.

A small amount of cash in the till was not taken by the burglars.

CUT IN PISTOL DUEL

During a pistol duel last night with a Negro bandit, A. L. Means, 50 years of age, gashed his arm severely by thrusting it through a window of the filling station at 1420 East Ninth street, of which he is manager.

The Negro had forced Means to turn over $15 and was backing out to his Ford roadster when Means caught up his pistol and in an effort to get a direct shot at the robber thrust the weapon through the window. Several shots were exchanged before the robber got into his machine and drove off.

POOR CARPENTER GOES EAST TO CLAIM RICHES

Buoyed up with hope and anticipation, Edward A. Campbell, missing heir to a large estate now being settled in New York, was a happy man when he stepped aboard and eastbound Santa Fe train at 6 p.m. yesterday. He was found in San Diego, living in poverty, after a search by the New York courts lasting fifteen years.

Campbell, a carpenter, is accompanied by an operative from the Schindler Investigations of New York, whose Los Angeles branch was instrumental in locating the missing heir in California.

News of the search was published in The Times. Campbell was walking along a street in San Diego, saw an old and crumpled Times in the gutter and picked it up. The copy of the paper had the story of the search detectives were making for him and his brother, William Campbell. William has not been found as yet. His brother Edward believes he is dead, as he has not heard from him in years.

After finding the newspaper Campbell communicated with Bishop Cantwell of the Los Angeles and San Diego diocese of the Roman Catholic Church, who in turn notified the investigating agency.

Edward A. Campbell is one of two survivors of eight children. He will share in an estate asserted to be valued at more than $300,000, left by deceased brothers and sisters. He will arrive in New York Sunday afternoon.

A veteran of the Spanish-American War, he was living with his wife at 1427 Fourth street, San Diego, when his good fortune found him. He and his brother had left New York in 1888 and were not heard of thereafter by relatives.

John Schindler, head of the Los Angeles office of the Schindler Investigations, declares Campbell's identity has been established beyond all question.

MOVE MADE TO UNIONIZE TRADE HERE

Electric Industry Object of Attack Under Guise of County Regulation

The County Supervisors shortly are to be requested, it was learned yesterday, to enact a county-wide ordinance to "improve" the electrical business. It may show up as a "fire precaution" measure and incidentally provide some revenue for the county, according to those who have been following what they declare is a nation-wide move to unionize the electrical industry.

The proposed county ordinance would provide for frequent inspections of electrical wiring and apparatus everywhere but in homes and would centralize control over such installation in the hands of a few men clothed with great power.

Some time ago a similar move made its appearance in Los Angeles city circles. It has not yet reached the City Council. A like proposal has been made at Huntington Park. Similarly, such action has been urged in a number of Pacific Coast States. Portland, Seattle, Spokane, Pasadena and other western cities have been advised of such propaganda in their midst.

Cleveland, O., is cited by open-shop opposers of the nation-wide move as a city where the plan was carried to completion. A number of union men, electrical dealers and electrical organization men are under indictment there for asserted endeavors to control the electrical industry to public detriment.

Cagle Quits as Coach to Play Pro Ball

NEW YORK, Nov. 12. (AP)—Chris Cagle, former star of the Army football team, has decided he likes playing much better than coaching and will take up professional football for the rest of the season. He has signed to play with the New York Giants of the National League, Tom Mara, owner of that club, announced today. After eight years of college football at Southwestern Louisiana Institute and Army, Cagle signed this year to coach Mississippi A. and M. His team has lost five of its six games. Cagle is to leave Starkville, Miss., by airplane tomorrow and will arrive here in time for Sunday's game between the Giants and the Chicago Bears. He is not expected to play until the following week against the Green Bay Packers.

MARSHALL AND DE GLANE DRAW

Gladiators Get Fall Apiece in Star Mat Bout

Wrestlers Unable to Break Deadlock at Olympic

Lewis Wins Over Dominguez in Straight Falls

After two hours three minutes and thirty seconds of wrestling last night at the Olympic the battle between Everett Marshall and Henri De Glane was called a draw by Referee Don McDonald. Each grappler had obtained a fall when the bout was halted. De Glane, a strong young Frenchman, copped the first fall from his tow-headed Colorado rival in 1h. 20m. 48s. and Marshall took the second fall in 21m. 30s. Neither grappler was able to pin the other for the final and winning fall and the referee called it when both men were reeling about the ring in a dizzy condition with the crowd yelling for the bout to be stopped.

EVERETT MARSHALL

De Glane showed plenty of promise in the battle. He was even stronger than Marshall, who is considered one of the sturdy young men of the mat game. De Glane's fall was obtained with a body slam and arm hold. Marshall got his with his favorite hold, the airplane spin.

Strangler Lewis, veteran wrestling figure, defeated Jose Dominguez, Mexican flash, in two straight falls in the semi-wind-up. The old Strangler, who recently returned from Australia, won the first fall in 16m. and 38s. with a headlock. The second fall came in the same fashion in 4m. 32s.

Lewis looked like the old headlock star of other days when he was champion in throwing the Mexican wrestler. The opening bout of the evening went to Dr. P. A. Mullikan. He defeated Steve Strelich in 17m. 59s, with a crotch and half-nelson.

HOFFMAN AND CHAVEZ DRAW IN FAST FIGHT

Tom Hoffman and Zenaydo Chavez fought a fast six-round draw last night in the main event at the Wilmington Arena. The card featured five six-round fights. Johnny Gonzales won a decision over Tommy McGough in the semi-wind-up. Thor Olsen stopped Mickey Gerard in the first round of the special event. In the other two six-rounders Mike Frankovich won a decision over Jimmy Hart in what was considered to be one of the best fights of the evening, and Merle Whitehead stopped Sailor Thoade in the fifth round of the curtain-raiser.

The SPORT LIGHT

by Grantland Rice

(Copyright, 1930, by North American Newspaper Alliance)

IT WAS a tough break for Bill Roper of Princeton to find his twenty-fourth and final year of coaching the worst he has ever known. But his record against Yale and Harvard since the war has been exceptionally good, and that is what he always shot for.

Roper's Tiger team began to slip and fade a year ago and now his men face the last stand for one of the veteran coaches of the game against a team that so far this season has had them outclassed in every department.

It will take something on the border line of a miracle for Princeton to rally and give Yale an even fight, but here and there, at widely separated intervals, such things have happened.

Bill Roper started coaching at Princeton the year the forward pass and the new game broke in. He has been one of the historic figures of football, the producer of more than one great team and more than a few leading stars. Only five years ago his Tiger team ran up 61 points against Harvard and Yale for one of the most crushing double victories in Nassau annals. But in football 1925 is a long, long time away from 1930.

PURPLES SEEK TRANSFER

Northwestern "U" Offers $100,000 to Charity if Irish Game is Played in Chicago Stadium

EVANSTON (Ill.) Nov. 12. (AP)—The executive committee of Northwestern University's board of trustees, today offered to make an immediate donation of $100,000, to the Illinois State Unemployment Commission providing certain conditions pertaining to the 1931 Notre Dame-Northwestern football game are allowed.

The offer, made in the face of requests that the November 22 game between Notre Dame and Northwestern be transferred to Soldier Field, Chicago, and the proceeds given to charity, carried these provisions:

(1.) That Notre Dame and the Western Conference agree to permit the transfer of the 1931 Notre Dame-Northwestern football game from South Bend, Ind., to Soldier Field.

(2.) That Notre Dame consent that all funds, in excess of the amount to be shared between the two universities, on the basis of a full attendance at Notre Dame stadium, be turned over to Northwestern as a refund for the $100,000 to be donated at the present time.

(3.) That the South Park Board of Chicago again offer free use of Soldier Field for the 1931 game at a suitable date to both Notre Dame and Northwestern.

If all conditions are met, Northwestern will take a chance of regaining its $100,000 advance of the extra receipts made at Soldier Field, a stadium which can accommodate 55,000 to 65,000 more fans than Notre Dame's stadium.

"NIBS" PRICE SUPPORTED

Resolution Expressing Confidence in Bear Team and Coaching Staff Voted by Committee

BERKELEY, Nov. 12. (AP)—A resolution expressing confidence in the University of California football team and coaching staff was unanimously adopted by the executive committee of the Associated Students in closed session here tonight.

The action was a surprise in view of apparently well-founded reports circulating on the campus that discussion of hiring a new coach would be the chief order of business.

"NIBS" PRICE.

William W. Monohan, graduate manager of the university, said after the meeting the resolution was enthusiastically adopted, and was not intended as a polite gesture. It read: "It is the sentiment of this committee that the California football team and coaching staff are deserving of the support of the student body."

Several members of the committee intimated, however, the resolution was adopted to stave off further investigation of football conditions at California until after the "big game" with Stanford on the 22nd inst.

The rumors concerning a change in the coaching staff were tied up with the names of Dick Hanley, of Northwestern, and Bob Zuppke, of Illinois, as possible successors to Head Coach Nibs Price. These rumors were unconfirmed, but persistent.

Another crowd of students still clung to the belief that Knute Rockne, of Notre Dame, would come to Berkeley, despite the latter's most emphatic denials when questioned about the matter.

The turmoil was started by Southern California's 74-to-0 victory over California Saturday.

ZUPPKE KNEW NOTHING OF BEAR RUMORS

COACH KLUM ON AIR TONIGHT

Otto Klum, coach of the University of Hawaii football team which plays the Trojans at the Coliseum Saturday, will be interviewed over KHJ tonight by Braven Dyer of The Times sports staff. Coach Klum is one of the best known athletic figures of the islands and will tell radio fans something about his own football team and sports events in and around Honolulu, a territory which has developed and produced many great athletes. There are many nationalities playing on the present Hawaiian eleven and many of the boys are excellent entertainers in addition to being football players of ability. Klum attended Oregon State College many years ago and employs the Notre Dame system. He has coached at Hawaii about ten years. Listen for him tonight at 9:30 o'clock over KHJ.

Eddy Reports All Ducats Disposed of; Hawaii Squad Arrives for Clash With Jonesmen in Coliseum

BY RALPH HUSTON

The Notre Dame game is a sellout. This was the announcement yesterday from the office of Arnold Eddy, graduate manager at the University of Southern California.

"There are 88,000 seats available for the game at the present time," Eddy said, "and every one of these has been applied for. If more seats are built before game time, the game is sold out, anyway, because we have more applications than we know what to do with. If more seats are built, we will use the applications in the order in which they are received. I don't know exactly how many seats will be available for December 6, but every seat will be filled."

ARNOLD EDDY

The Trojans play the University of Hawaii Saturday, and the University of Washington on Thanksgiving Day, before the Irish contest. The Rockne Ramblers meet Drake, Saturday, and then Northwestern and Army, before coming West.

RAINBOWS HERE

No sooner had twenty-five roaring Rainbows from Hawaii stepped off the Padre at the Glendale station yesterday morning, than they started roaring.

"What's all this I hear about Hawaii being a 'breather' for these man-eating Trojans?" demanded Coach Otto Klum, smiling his nicest smile. "Maybe we are breathers, but from what I've seen of the scores to date, Washington State is the only squad on the Trojan schedule that wasn't a breather. Just wait till Saturday! The breather those Trojans will take will be a sigh of relief when the game is over."

The Rainbows play Howard Jones's athletes in the Coliseum Saturday afternoon, and while the Thundering Herd is naturally a top-heavy favorite, the contest promises to be as colorful as anything seen here this year.

"Local fans have seen more routs than football games in the Coliseum this fall," Klum pointed out, "and while we don't expect to win, we'll guarantee to put up a better game than anything seen recently. I read a lot about Jones planning to start his second team. I hope he does. If we manage to score, and get out in front first, the Tro-

WALKER TO SCRAP FOR FIGHT LAW

Mayor of New York Will Defend Boxing Bill He Originally Backed

NEW YORK, Nov. 12. (Exclusive) The determined drive to repeal the New York boxing law, given new impetus by the smoking-room revelations of the Tunney-Mara suit, must reckon with the opposition of Mayor "Jimmy" Walker, the man who sponsored the legislation.

The Mayor said today that he still believed in boxing as a wholesome sport and that he would fight to keep it a legalized recreation in this State. If necessary he will be willing to go before the Legislature this winter.

"I naturally have spirited feelings about the boxing law," he said. "After all, it is my own child. I have an affection for it and I will do some scrapping to prevent repeal."

The "inside story" of the championship racket, the chronicle of political swappings and jockeying, that came out of Billy Gibson's letter to Gene Tunney, does not move the Mayor. In the first place, he believes that the best of possible answers to charges of fixing is the fact that the Tunney-Dempsey fight was not staged here despite the fact that political strings were pulled.

The Mayor, of course, is realistic about boxing. He admits that there have been fake fights, but he thinks the public usually gets a square deal and its money's worth.

Furthermore, he believes that New York's three boxing commissioners, James A. Farley, William Muldoon and Brig.-Gen. Phelan, are highly trustworthy and because

Alabama's Victory Over Florida Wins Praise From McGugin

CRIMSON TIDE GREAT ELEVEN

Wins Four Consecutive Tilts From Strong Teams

Nine Seniors, Good Reserves Backbone of Squad

Georgia Lauded for Victory Over N.Y.U. Gridders

BY DAN E. McGUGIN
Football Coach, Vanderbilt University

NASHVILLE (Tenn.) Nov. 9. (NANA)—The average coach would consider the victory of Alabama over Florida Saturday the most creditable performance given by any team in the Southern Conference.

DAN McGUGIN

Georgia's victory over New York University was conspicuous and brilliant, it is true, but to the close student of the game the work of Alabama was even more remarkable. On successive Saturdays, the Crimson Tide has won from Tennessee, Vanderbilt, Kentucky State and Florida.

These four defeated teams were expected to be among the best seven teams in the conference at the beginning of the season. And indeed they are. Only Alabama, Tulane and Georgia, throughout the entire conference of twenty-two members, may be ranked higher thus far than these four teams which Alabama has defeated within twenty-two days.

In these four games Alabama has scored a total of 70 points and has had only 13 points scored against her. She has made three touchdowns on each of these teams, save Vanderbilt and Vanderbilt and Tennessee were the only ones to cross her goal line. In each of these games, with the possible exception of the one with the Commodores, the team of Coach Wade has been going at its best gait in the closing quarter, threatening then to score more touchdowns.

FINE COACHING

Very fine coaching, a varsity line-up with nine seniors and ample reserves and the will to win have enabled Alabama to make this splendid record. In each of these games, excepting the one against Vanderbilt, the Crimson Tide has opened up and played a quarter or more with reserves.

Twice this season has the University of Georgia engaged two of the strongest teams in the entire country and twice has she come home with the bacon with great credit to herself, further establishing the caliber of Southern Conference teams. A careful reading of the summary shows that Georgia won from New York University because in all respects Georgia played a better game and deserved to win. The game between Georgia and Alabama on Thanksgiving Day is already arousing intense interest throughout the South.

Duke continues her astonishing work by winning from Kentucky. In fact, she has only an early season defeat by South Carolina to mar a brilliant record.

The spirit and consistency of Auburn are interesting. Auburn has not won a conference game in many years and although she has vastly improved this year she has yet to break the conference ice. Nevertheless, she goes on Saturday after Saturday showing improvement and giving our best teams a close, hard contest. She held Tulane scoreless throughout the entire first half Saturday and when Auburn has opportunity to develop her reserves she will hold teams scoreless not only through the first half but also through the second, and in the meantime will register a few points for herself.

Clemson recovered her confidence and playing strength handsomely in her smashing victory over V.M.I. L.S.U. showed her ability to win more than one important victory in succession by defeating Mississippi. Bo Rowland of Henderson Teachers' College, who, in the last few years, has lost about as few games as any coach in the country, came over into the conference and scored four touchdowns on Mississippi A. and M.

MARYLAND IMPROVES

Maryland, improving constantly, ran up 41 points on Washington and Lee and a traditional rivalry gave atmosphere to the rather decisive victory of Virginia by V.P.I.

Georgia Tech has undoubtedy improved or Vanderbilt has stood still.

My belief is that Georgia Tech has greatly improved and that Vanderbilt has also shown some progress. These two teams had a terrific battle, uncertain until the last minute of play, the Commodores having a six-point margin. This was a battle of sophomores, each having six in the line-up most of whom played all the way through. Flowers, a Tech sophomore, punted wonderfully.

Two critical contests for Saturday are Georgia-Tulane and Tennessee-Vanderbilt. Washington and Lee and Virginia have one as important—to them—as a football game can be.

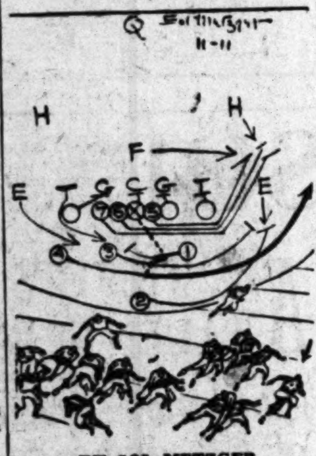
TARTARS, RAMBLER POLO TEAMS CLASH

With its two stars, Buddy DuBrock and Bill Ray again ready to take the field, the Rambler polo four will clash with the Tartars Sunday at 2:30 on the Hollywood Polo and Hunt Club field.

Opposing the quartet headed by the pair will be Joe Smith at No. 2 and Fred DeLacey at No. 3 who are counted on by fans to do the greater portion of the offensive work. Dan Samso, a new member of the club, will play at back for the Tartar team.

The Ramblers were victorious, 8 to 7, last week in a closely fought game and the coming tilt is expected to be a duplicate of last Sunday's contest.

Neat Double Pass Play on Penn's Book



BY SOL METZGER

It is up to Old Penn Saturday to regain some of its past glory that went aglimmering earlier this fall. Then Georgia Tech comes to Philadelphia and Penn just has to turn aside this invasion. One of the pet plays of Lud Wray's squad is this double-pass behind the line from a formation quite familiar to football fans.

No. 1 gets the snap and deploys to his right, handing the ball to No. 4 as No. 4 passes to his rear. Three linemen swing out to lead the runner, who runs around the defensive left end, an opponent who is taken by backs No. 2 and No. 3.

jans will have to do a lot of chasing."

"Roaring Red" McQueen, the Honolulu press agent, who was selected to publicise the Rainbows, probably because he roars louder than anybody else, furnishes a lot of interesting information about the university, and the football situation on the island.

The Rainbows have played seven games so far this year, and have won all of them. Since 1923, when Klum first took over his duties at Hawaii, the Rainbows have played mainland teams in twenty-two games, and have won eleven times.

GREAT ELEVEN

The present squad is called "Hawaii's second wonder team," and is believed to be better than the 1925 eleven, which defeated Washington State, 21-6. Maybe you'll remember that "Butch" Meeker piloted that particular Cougar outfit to a victory over the Trojans, right here in the Coliseum.

There are five high schools in the Islands, and four of them are coached by graduates of the University, who faithfully follow Klum's Notre Dame formations. In addition, there are about 375 "barefoot teams," playing in regularly organized leagues, of youngsters not attending high schools, and ten of the eleven men on the starting line-up Saturday, have played football both in the barefoot leagues, and at the high schools.

The line will average 180 pounds, the backfield, 174, and the entire team, 178. Here is the starting line-up, and some information about the performers:

Left end, "Hawkshaw" Howell, formerly a tackle, made into an end particularly for the Trojan game. Weighs 185 pounds, stands six feet three inches, and is a great pass receiver.

Left tackle, Harry Field, a 200-pounder, who was on the Hawaiian track team that performed in the Drake relays.

Left guard, Al Lyman, the "iron man" of the team, now in his second year on the varsity, and never hurt. Weighs 175 pounds.

Center, Al Nahalea, nicknamed "Power House," and a 185-pounder with a lot of ability.

Right guard, Norman Kauaihilo, 180 pounds, running guard, who is called the "Song of the Island." His last name is a combination of the names of two of the islands.

Right tackle, Bill McAlvey, formerly of Rhode Island University, weighing 170 pounds.

Right end, "Rusty" Wescoatt, 168 pounds only, but a fine defensive player.

Quarterback, Ted Nobriga, a triple-threat man, standing six feet three inches and weighing 195 pounds.

Left half, Hiram Kaaku, the "Grange of the Islands," who is supposed to be greased lightning itself, and a punter.

Right half, George Indie, leading interference runner and punter when necessary.

Fullback, John Wise, brother of Bill Wise, who starred against Oxy and Pomona a few years ago. Accurate and dependable passer.

The Rainbows worked out yesterday afternoon in the Rose Bowl, and will practice there again today and tomorrow. Klum brought only twenty-five men, but declares every one of them is a real football player.

FRAME ARRIVES FOR AUTO RACE

Six-Foot Driver Here for Southwest Events

Fred Frame, six-footer of the auto racing fraternity and one of the big-money makers in the eastern circuits this year, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday from Philadelphia. Frame had no sooner "checked in" at offices of the Legion Ascot Speedway than he announced that he would drive in the 100-lap race the 23rd inst. He may also compete next Saturday at Phoenix, his decision in this case hinging upon whether or not C. Talbutt, owner of his car, will arrive in time to take charge of the pit crew.

Frame brought with him his 122-inch Miller, the car he manipulated to many victories on eastern tracks this year. The mount is to be driven throughout the winter season in the Southwest, following which the motor will be rebuilt into a 151-cubic-inch job for the 500-mile Indianapolis classic Memorial Day.

Harry Pullen, cousin of Eddie Pullen of racing fame, accompanied Frame to the Coast.

Although he made no attempt to win the A.A.A. national championship and, therefore, did not rank as high in points this season as he has during the last several years, Frame made more money following the "dirt circuit" than many drivers did who drove only in the so-called classics. The Los Angeles ace's accomplishments included the winning of seven races out of nine at Woodbridge, N. J., and establishing of a track record of 20 3-5s. for the course; annexing of first money in the 100-mile race July 4 at Langhorne, Pa., and breaking of all records up to and including seventy-five miles; establishing of a number of records in winning a majority of the sprint races in the three-day meet at Toronto on June 7, 8 and 9 at the Shrine convention races.

National Open Golf Tourney to Aid Charity

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12. (AP)—Net profits of the national open match play golf tournament, to be held here December 4-7, will be used to help relieve the unemployment situation in this city.

Officials of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsoring the affair, made this announcement today. After expenses and prize money have been taken out, the balance will be turned over to the Citizens' Unemployment Committee of San Francisco.

The tournament is expected to draw a large gate. Most of the outstanding professionals in the country, including Walter Hagen, Joe Kirkwood, Tommy Armour, Horton Smith, Johnny Farrell, and others, will compete. Many of the Coast's prominent amateurs also will be on hand.

BRUINS PUT IN HARD WORKOUT

forward pass when he slipped and fell in the mud without an Oregon man within ten yards of him. Last night he did some great galloping through a strong opposition, and is certain to see plenty of action against the Oregon Staters.

Eyes of U.C.L.A. grid fans will be directed to the Coast fotball scores this Saturday for the result of the annual Oregon-Oregon State battle to determine chances of the Bruin eleven for their first Pacific Coast Conference victory this fall. Last year the Webfeet beat the Beavers, 16 to 0, and are undefeated this year. However, Oregon State has played some good games against Southern California, 7 to 27; Stanford, 7 to 13, and Washington State, 7 to 14, and is certain to be topnotch competition for Spaulding's gridders.

Several weeks ago Spaulding made the observation that his green line, composed chiefly of sophomores, would have to play together on defense before showing anything offensively. "Bunker Bill" considers that the forward wall played bang-up ball in holding undefeated Oregon to 7 to 0 in the mud, and now is drilling the boys on offense. Bruin fans expect to see a flashing offense against the Beavers next week.

Bruin athletic authorities state that the two ends, Leonard Wellendorf and Dick Mulhaupt, will be sufficiently recovered from their injuries to play full games against Oregon State, but neither wingman was out for practice last night. Les Haight showed good at end against Oregon, and is battling for a first-string berth.

"I have the utmost confidence in the men who have charge of boxing," he said. "If there is any trouble it can be laid not to the men in charge, but to some of the men in the game."

Goodman, president; Loren G. Ury, first vice-president; Frank Hollis, second vice-president; George H. Grace, treasurer, and Charles P. Hill, secretary-recording secretary. This will make the seventh term that Hill has served as secretary and Goodman's third year as prexy.

DIXIE TEAMS LEAD ALL IN INTERSECTIONAL PLAY

NEW YORK, Nov. 12. (AP)—With 14 victories and 11 defeats for an average of .560, the South is leading all rivals in the success of its college football teams in intersectional conflict, a tabulation of results so far indicated today.

The East is second with .543, the Far West third with .500 and the Middle West fourth with .462. The Southwest trails with .200 as a result of having tackled some of the Middle West's strongest teams.

In actual number of intersectional victories won, the East leads with 25, only one game ahead of the Middle West, which gained appreciably in the last week's play.

The private argument between the East and Middle West found the latter section forging ahead by winning five of its last nine games with eastern rivals for a total of 17 victories to 16. Most of the more important games have gone to the Midwest forces. The South, on the other hand, has proved a persistent jinx for the Middle West, winning nine games and losing only two.

The Far West tangles with the East for the first time this season Saturday when St. Mary's of California plays Fordham here. The Southwest will have a chance to fatten its average at the East's expense the same day as Southern Methodist encounters the Navy. Other intersectional conflicts this week are Ohio State Pittsburgh, Iowa-Penn State, Pennsylvania-Georgia Tech, Loyola of Chicago vs. Boston College, Army-Kentucky Wesleyan and Villanova-Oglethorpe. The present standing:

	South	East	Far West	Midwest	Southwest	Won	Avg.
South	..	4	0	9	1	14	.560
East	9	..	0	16	0	25	.543
Far West	0	0	..	2	0	2	.500

Three Charity Grid Games on New York Bill

NEW YORK, Nov. 12. (Exclusive) James J. Walker announced today after a conference with the New York sports writers, that three football games have been tentatively scheduled here in postseason play for charity.

New York University will meet Colgate at the Yankee Stadium here December 6, and the Brooklyn high school championship battle will be held the same day at Ebbets Field.

A week later the great Notre Dame eleven, sweeping now through a tremendously difficult season and crushing everything before it, will play Tim Mara's New York Giants professional team. The definite location of the contest has not been fixed.

The Mayor also announced that he had letters from Jack Sharkey, defeated by Max Schmeling for the world's heavyweight championship, and Maxie Rosenbloom, the present light-heavyweight champion.

Rosenbloom and Sharkey want to fight each other here for the Mayor's committee on unemployment. Their letters said they would give the entire proceeds of the match—a sure crowd puller despite the difference in their weights—to charity.

SAGEHEN CAGERS START PLAY SOON

CLAREMONT, Nov. 12.—Intramural basketball season at Pomona College will begin shortly after the first of next month, John McCann, senior basketball manager, announced today. The tourney, in which fraternity and nonfraternity teams compete in separate divisions, annually attracts wide interest, and a hot race is predicted this year as rivals attempt to wrest the title from Sigma Tau Fraternity, winner in the play-offs. AMATEUR BOXING SHOW LIST GIVEN APPROVAL

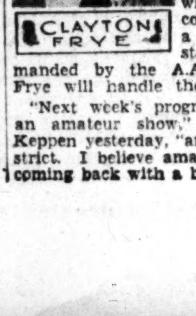
Placing their stamp of approval on the entrants for the amateur boxing show, to be held at the Olympic next Wednesday and Thursday nights, the Southern Pacific A.A.U. registration committee met at the L.A.A.C. yesterday. The committee was forced to throw a few boys out of the show who failed to come up to the amateur standard demanded by the A.A.U. Clayton Frye will handle the club boxers.



CLAYTON FRYE

"Next week's program is strictly an amateur show," said Charley Keppen yesterday, "and we must be strict. I believe amateur boxing is coming back with a bang and there is just as much interest in next week's tournament as before the Olympics of 1928 when Fidel La Barba, Jackie Fields and the others were boxing at the L.A.A.C."

Arnold Eddy, Frank Holborrow, Nye Williams, Henry Larned and Art Coover of the registration committee met with Keppen yesterday.

The official list of entries will be announced tomorrow.

PIRATES, LIONS CLASH TONIGHT

Rival Ice Hockey Teams in Feature Game

Two very good ice-hockey squads clash tonight at the Winter Garden for first place in the loop when the Gilmore Lions and Union Oil Pirates mix at 8:30 p.m. Local officials expect the sextets to stage one of the fastest games of the season. The two clubs are tied for first place, and everything they have will be thrown into the encounter.

The last time these two squads faced each other the Gilmore boys walloped Union by a score of 6-1. This was before Manager Al Claman of the Pirates strengthened his team by signing Buster Smith and George Brown. With these two boys in the line-up, Claman has two of the most feared shots in the circuit. Smith especially plays a very good offensive brand of hockey. Brown, Smith and Rube Brandow will compose one forward line. Brandow is a veteran of many hockey battles and should show these two youngsters a few tricks of the game.

The play-by-play results of the battle will be broadcast over KMTR tonight starting at 9:30 p.m. Several Canadian hockey players who are to take part in the game have notified their folks in the north to tune in. They will step up and say a few words between the periods.

COACH PRICE IS SUPPORTED

varsity went to work again this afternoon behind gates that will remain closed for two weeks, until the date of what has been known in past years as the "big game" with Stanford.

With thunder on all sides of them, the physically and spiritually wounded Golden Bears went after their tasks again today. Price has informed the press that there will be no scrimmaging behind those closed gates in order that the army of injured may not have swelled ranks.

There is a ray of hope for the future, in that some of the players hurt in the U.S.C. battle may be more fit by "big game" time than authorities now think for. Hank Schaldach, Price's best backfield threat, may yet be in tune for the Cardinals, Rusty Gill may have to stay out for the season, and yet his bad knee may mend to the extent that he can take a chance against the Stanfordites.

Ray East and Lee Valianos, halfbacks, are both on the injured list with bad shoulders. They are out of action for an indefinite period, Valianos being the worst off of the two. Frank Butch Medanich, center, is quite definitely out for the remainder of the season with two broken bones in his right ankle, with scrimmage taboo for the remainder of the season, Price will concentrate on dummy scrimmage, perfection of old plays, a few special plays for the Cardinal match, some instruction on fundamentals, and plenty of skull work.

The second and third-string men will be their element for the balance of the grid year. There are no others to carry the California grid banner.

Lightweight Teams Tangle

The Hollywood lightweight football team is scheduled to face one of the toughest teams on its schedule this afternoon when it travels over to Belmont to meet Coach Clarence Ebers's hard-fighting Hilltoppers in the fifth round of play. Hollywood and Fairfax are leading the league with Belmont in second place. The Hilltoppers cannot win the title because they lost to the Colonials last week. They can, however, eliminate the Redshirts from the title running by scoring a victory.

Hollywood has looked to be a much stronger team so far this season, and are slight favorites to down Ebers's gang. Despite this, Belmont is strong enough to score an upset if they can get the jump on the Redshirts.

Fairfax will meet the Manual Arts babes on the Toilers' gridiron in a game in which an upset is also very probable. Fairfax has shown tremendous power in winning all of its games to date, while the Toilers have looked both good and bad in winning and losing. The Colonials are being favored to win after a hard battle.

Four other games are on tap Los Angeles takes on Coaches Cooper and Swedo's creation on the Bulldog field; Roosevelt travels to Poly; Jefferson invades Franklin and Lincoln plays host to Fremont. Coach Irwin Tanner's team will probably rule a slight favorite over the Tigers.

TOM GALLERY BOWS IN SQUAD TOURNEY

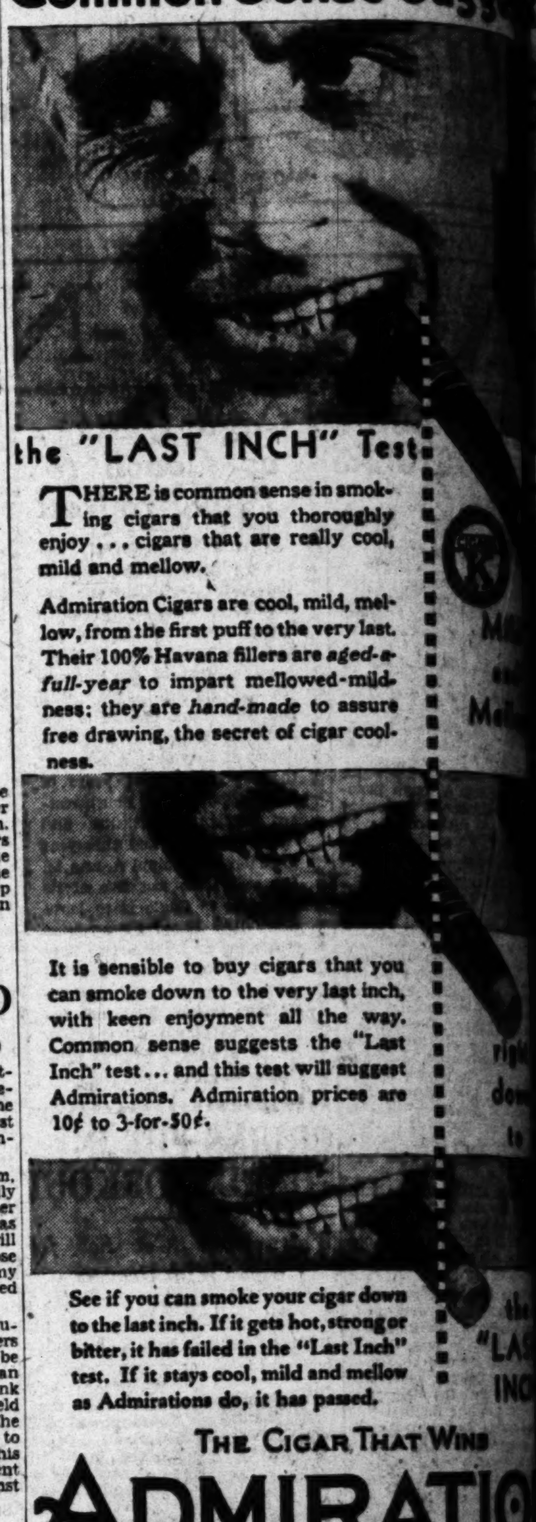
Willard Mullin eliminated Tom Gallery, the pride of the Hollywood American Legion, in the first match of the junior national squash tournament at the Los Angeles Athletic Club last night. The scores were 19-21, 21-2, 21-16. Earl Graham defeated H. G. Boulinghouse by default. De Forest Home defeated Carl Taylor, 21-15, 21-18. The other matches were as follows:

W. Jones defeated Lewis Rohr, 21-15, 21-18; Bob Ackley defeated Harry Weeks, 21-5, 21-15; Harold Hopper defeated Harry Williams, 21-15, 21-7; Max Stiles defeated Leo Button, 21-17, 21-13.

HUTTON FIVE WINS

E. S. Hutton basketball team walloped the H. J. Barnes quintet, 40 to 12, last night in a Los Angeles Stock Exchange League game played on the Hollywood High School court. In the other contest played, the Union Oil Staats & Co. trimmed the Tucker-Hunter-Dulin team, 16 to 6.

Common Sense Sugg



the "LAST INCH" Test

THERE is common sense in smoking cigars that you thoroughly enjoy . . . cigars that are really cool, mild and mellow.

Admiration Cigars are cool, mild, mellow, from the first puff to the very last. Their 100% Havana fillers are aged-a-full-year to impart mellowed-mildness; they are hand-made to assure free drawing, the secret of cigar coolness.

It is sensible to buy cigars that you can smoke down to the very last inch, with keen enjoyment all the way. Common sense suggests the "Last Inch" test . . . and this test will suggest Admirations. Admiration prices are 10¢ to 3-for-50¢.

See if you can smoke your cigar down to the last inch. If it gets hot, strong or bitter, it has failed in the "Last Inch" test. If it stays cool, mild and mellow as Admirations do, it has passed.

THE ROCKNE CASE

THEY'VE been trying to write Knute Rockne out of Notre Dame for a good many years, but the Norwegian spellbinder is still on the job.

And there are some indications he will stick as head football coach until he gets good and ready to retire.

Naturally, Rockne's name bobbed up again when California was overwhelmed by the Trojans, 74 to 0, last Saturday.

Any time a football teams gets a good spanking Rockne is immediately hired by the second guessers.

But this from a close associate of Rockne's at Chicago is hot off the wire:

"Rockne is not going to California nor to any other school if and when he retires. That's flat. He has other ideas about earning a good living. He will write."

That seems pretty definite.

In other words, when Rockne leaves Notre Dame he is through with football coaching.

And in view of the fact that Nibs Price's contract has another year to run it might be a good idea on the part of college editors with time on their hands to run along and study their lessons.

Other football teams besides California have had bad days. Even Pop Warner, in the coaching business over three decades, had a team that was licked 41-12 this year.

And it is entirely possible, you know, for other universities to have so-called "wonder teams."

HATES BIG SCORES

THE following from a Chicago newspaper man about the big scores run up by Notre Dame and Southern California last Saturday is interesting:

"In view of the fact that Notre Dame scored 60 points against Pennsylvania, which is an atrocious score for Rockne to run up, and the further fact that he could have named his own score in any of the games he has played this year, there is not much in print comparing U.S.C. and Notre Dame.

"Rockne has a hard and fast rule about big scores. He doesn't like them, he says, because they tend to destroy the morale of opposing players.

"His preference is to give the other boys something encouraging to talk about. If a team isn't beaten badly he contends they can come back for the following games on their schedule.

"On the other hand it is well known that the Trojans delight in big scores and extend themselves to acquire them.

"During a discussion among the scribes here the other night one of the outstanding football writers said that in his opinion U.S.C. could not run up a big score on Michigan, and that it was a toss-up whether the Trojans could beat Northwestern, which has a powerful team this year.

"The Golden Bears are not considered a strong team here; U.S.C. is."

WHY THEY'RE CALLED IRISH

WHILE on the subject of Notre Dame, do you want to know why they're called Irish?

PRE-OMLYPIC BOXING

THEY close the entries this week on Los Angeles' initial bid to do something in boxing for the Olympic Games.

This is the pre-Olympic amateur boxing tournament which is to be staged under the auspices of the Los Angeles Athletic Club at the Olympic Wednesday and Thursday night next week.

In 1924 Fidel La Barba and Jackie Fields of this city won Olympic boxing championships at Paris, and it would be a crying shame not to have adequate local representation when the games are held here in 1932.

This is the thought behind the tourney next week, and others are to be held at later dates. Incidentally, the tourney will mark the return to competition of L.A.A.C. boxing teams. These were dropped about two years ago because of the feeling that the club, after teaching the amateur, was being used merely as a stepping stone to the professional prize ring.

Winter Yacht Regatta Plans Going Ahead

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 12.—Plans for the Christmas week regatta to be staged on December 26, 27 and 28 are going ahead with the announcement that one of the feature events of interest to yachtsmen and boatmen is the cruiser race from the California Yacht Club at Wilmington, via Catalina Island, to Newport Bay.

This race will be for power cruisers and the prize will be put up by W. L. Stewart of the Union Oil Company. It is reported to be one of the best trophies ever offered for a cruiser race in Southern California. This trophy and many other prizes will be on display in Los Angeles next month.

The Wilmington-Catalina-Newport cruiser race was arranged by Commodore J. A. Beek of the Newport Harbor Yacht Club, and Commodore Pier Davis, and Paul Hiller of the regatta committee of the California Yacht Club. The event will be held on December 27.

After the cruisers arrive at Newport Bay, another cruiser race will be conducted by the Newport Bay Yacht clubs on the ocean course off Newport and Balboa piers.

All signs point to this event being ten-strike for the Southland. The aquatic mid-winter event is attracting much interest in the East where the snow flies.

Most of the events will be for smaller classes of sailboats, many of which will enter the races. However, the larger yachts will also have an opportunity to compete if enough enter. Swimming events and contests of other kinds are being arranged.

MERCURIES TO FACE MAGYARS SUNDAY

Battling for escond-place honors in the City Soccer League, the fast-stepping Magyars and the Los Angeles A.C. clash Sunday afternoon at Loyola Field in the soccer feature of the week. Both of these teams have won four games and lost one.

The opening game at Loyola brings the Vikings and the Victorias together.

Tournament Park, Pasadena, will stage two games, Pasadena C.C. and the Scots clash in the feature game at 3 p.m. Richfield Oilers and the Sons of St. George open the card.

Quinn Seeking Major League Hurling Berth

ROARING CREEK (Va.) Nov. 12. (AP)—Jack Quinn, veteran pitcher unconditionally released by Connie Mack, is going to keep right on pitching in the major leagues if he can find a berth.

He is not through with pitching, he said, "not by a long shot."

Jack, one of the few spit-ball artists still left, was found in a cabin in the river hills, where he followed his favorite sport of gunning for small game.

"I still think that I am good for another year," said Jack as he poked the embers of a log fire. "I believe I can win the quota of games allotted every good major-league pitcher, which is about fifteen. I'm going to look around in the majors and get another year, which will give me a record of real service that any player can be proud of."

PASADENA BANTAMS TRIM COVINA, 12-0

SPRINGFIELD (Mo.) Nov. 12. (AP) Horton Smith came home today to spend a week forgetting golf and resting at his home here. He is recuperating from an operation for removal of his tonsils. Smith said he was "not sure" if he would join the winter golf caravan in the Far West before the national match play championship at San Francisco in December.

LOYOLANS HOLD FINAL WORKOUT

Lieb Will Pick Lion Squad for Aggie Game

Final practice before the California Aggie game to be played at Sacramento on Saturday afternoon will take place for the Loyola Lions this afternoon and immediately after Lieb will pick the twenty-five men who will make the only trip of the season for the Lions.

Loyola is expected to have an easy time in whipping Coach Crip Toomey's eleven Saturday afternoon. The Aggies have failed to win an important game this season. They have one of the weakest squads in the school's history.

On the other hand Tom Lieb's eleven has been improving rapidly. At present the Del Rey institution has one of the strongest teams in its history. It has a light, snappy backfield in Sullivan, Brubaker, Pheasent, and Euge, who form one of the scrappiest quartets in the Southland.

LOYOLA FROSH PREPARE FOR ONEONTA CLASH

Coach Sam Dagley renewed practice for his Loyola University freshmen football team yesterday afternoon in order to prepare it for the Oneonta Military game which will be played at the Cadets' field on Saturday afternoon. The Lion frosh dropped their first game of the season to Compton Junior College last Tuesday by a 12-to-7 score.

Chicago Four Plays Sunday

With their twenty-four ponies in perfect condition and entirely recovered from their trip, the Chicago polo team invades the Uplifters' Club next Sunday afternoon for their first match against a strong local four. Carl Crawford, high-goal star of the Windy City quartet, a six-goal mallet man, will direct his team from the pivot No. 3 position with his brother, Earl Crawford, riding in front at No. 2. E. A. Hillman, Jr., holds down the No. 1 berth, while the back position will be ably taken care of by Clair Brunson drafted from the ranks of the local players to complete the team.

The Uplifters will ride onto the field with either Will Rogers or Will Rogers, Jr., at No. 1; Lionel Pedley, brother of the famous Eric, at No. 2; Hal Roach, southpaw star, at No. 3, and Snowy Baker, rough-riding Australian, at back. It is believed that Roach will have entirely recovered from his bad spill of last Sunday and that he will be in good shape for the ensuing match which is apt to be a tough one for the locals to get over.

As the days are getting shorter, starting time has been moved up to 2 p.m. and it is suggested that the fans plan to arrive early as many were disappointed last Sunday when they found all of the reserved seats sold out long before game time.

Hugh Blue and Jack Holt will umpire.

Line-ups:

CHICAGO.		UPLIFTERS.
Eddie Hillman	No. 1	Will Rogers or Will Rogers, Jr.
Earl Crawford	No. 2	Lionel Pedley
Carl Crawford	No. 3	Hal Roach
Clair Brunson	Back	Snowy Baker

Monarchs and Bruins Clash

After having experimented with several referees who were unable to stop fighting among players, President M. R. Kester has appointed Bill Phipps, former professional hockey star, to handle the games in the Southern California Senior League this season. Phipps will officiate in tonight's battle at the Palais De Glace when the Los Angeles Bruins, fighting to crawl out of the cellar, clash with the Hollywood Monarchs.

Phipps, who hails from Winnipeg, was in charge of last Monday's battle between the Bruins and Maple Leafs and worked so well that he has been given the job for the season, Kester states.

The reorganized Bruins, with Richards transfered to the front line and Palfrey back at defense, will be short-enders against the Monarchs tonight. The latter team, composed of the youngest group of players in the circuit, has displayed the fastest passing attack in the circuit this year. Jack Roland, 17-year-old French-Canadian, is the sharp-shooter of the squad, while A. Hebert, Charles Renaud, Vince Millen and Jim Hooker, are rated among the most promising stick-handlers in this section.

MACK, CAMPBELL IN PASADENA GO TONIGHT

Jimmy Mack and Cliff Campbell await the gong for their sensational eight-round fight tonight at the Pasadena Arena. Both boys are in excellent shape after a stiff week of training, and each is confident of winning tonight. They will weigh in at 118 pounds, and the go should be a fast one, as both battlers are shifty and hit hard.

Leo Domingo and Rickey Hall should furnish a fast and furious semi-wind-up, and there are four other events including two big heavyweights, Hugh Shropshire and Del Porto, who weigh 190 pounds each. Then there are Ad Cadena and Bobby Pierce at 133 pounds; Johnny Doe and Joe Vasquez at 130 pounds, and Curt Becker and Ray Pollack at 165 pounds.

STANLEY FRYE GIVEN WASHINGTON POSITION

Stanley Frye, former Coast light-heavyweight amateur champion, and one of the great boxers of the famous Los Angeles A.C. string of the dim past, was named boxing instructor of the Washington Athletic Club of Seattle. He leaves the latter part of the month to take over the post. Stanley is a brother of Clayton Frye, boxing instructor of the Los Angeles A.C.

Billy Burke Takes Crown

PINEHURST (N. C.) Nov. 12. (AP)—Billy Burke of Round-hill Country Club, Greenwich, Ct., stroked his way through the rain today to win the eleventh annual Midsouth golf tournament and $400 prize money. Showers that fell almost all day slowed up the field and ran the scores high, but Burke's 74 in the morning and par 71 in the afternoon gave him a total of 145, two strokes better than his nearest competitors.

Gene Sarazen, former national open champion, quit in disgust on the ninth hole when his clubs played him false in the wet weather.

Emmett French of Youngstown, O.; Tommy Armour of Detroit, and Mike Turnesa of Elmsford, N. Y., divided second, third and fourth prize money of $200, $150 and $100. Each turned in a 73 and a 74 for a total of 147.

a shot at Fordham's two-year winning streak.

It will be the longest hike of the year until Dartmouth starts for Palo Alto, and camp followers of the west coast invasion believe this is the team that will finally roll back the long Fordham advance. St. Mary's has a strong line, strong ends and fast, hard-running backs. It is still a question as to how many flank and frontal assaults the Fordham attack can throw back after five hard games in a row.

Maj. Cavanaugh rates this as the greatest line he has ever coached and that type of forward wall is always a mighty factor in repelling even the strongest invasions.

Singer and Canzoneri

No one has been able to stir up any tumult over the Singer-Canzoneri meeting at Madison Square Garden on Friday night, but it rates a good, fast show with Singer a few paces in the lead. That is, provided he has checked out the memory of that McLarnin wallop.

Singer is still short of his prime and while Canzoneri knows what it is all about the lightweight coronet should remain just about where it is.

Among those rendering three rousing cheers when De Kuh refused to leave his chin hanging in the air in the Stribling contest was none other than Jack Sharkey. It might be best after all to keep some of our challenging heavyweights from too much action before the next championship. Something always seems to happen at the wrong moment.

The Changing Years

"It isn't what you used to be," as George M. Cohan once announced in song. Here we have Harvard, Princeton and Illinois going for more than a month and trying to win a game. It has been a long time since three such football citadels have played a matter of fourteen or fifteen games without a victory, including the rest spots they had mapped out between harder contests. Harvard has come closer than the other two with hard battles against Army, Dartmouth and Michigan, but Illinois and Princeton haye fallen upon an even leaner year.

Harvard still has her chance in a last big stand against Yale, but the others are outside choices so far as stopping any strong rival is concerned in the plot.

SANTA BARBARA BATTLES TIGERS

fensive end, as well as dropping back to do all the punting for Oxy. To date, Meeks has outpunted every opponent in the six games played. His average has been between thirty-five and forty yards for the season, and he is credited with several kicks around sixty yards.

Dick Glover, flashy Bengal fullback, leads the loop in scoring with 43 points to his credit. Glover's home town is Santa Barbara, as he played at the State in his freshman year. He will play against some of his old team-mates tomorrow night, and is set to give the natives a good run for their money. Perhaps it'll be several long runs.

OLNEY, SPALTY WIN HANDBALL MATCHES

Fred Olney and Fred Spalty, representing the L.A.A.C., advanced to the quarter-final round of the Southern California senior handball championships yesterday by defeating their team-mates, Harold Reed and C. D. Lincoln, in two hotly contested matches at the Elks' Club.

Dr. Art Stern and his partner, Jack Donnell, Y.M.C.A., scored an upset when they conquered Maynard Laswell and Grant Kuhns, L.A.A.C., in two out of three hard-fought matches.

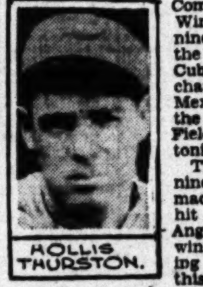
Champions of Mexico Meet Commercials

Taking advantage of the warm weather to make a little hey! hey! while the sun isn't shining, Wes Kingdon's strong Commercial Club Winter League nine will tackle the San Luis Cuban Giants, champions of Mexico, under the Wrigley Field kleig lights tonight.



HOLLIS THURSTON.

The San Luis nine, which made such a big hit with Los Angeles fans last winter, is making its debut in this evening's contest and figures to draw out a record crowd of Mexican baseball enthusiasts. The San Luis Giants come here from their most successful season in Mexico where they cleaned up all opposition in the country below the Rio Grande and did a great deal to popularize baseball in the Mexican republic.

In an attempt to turn back the formidable Mexican champions, Skipper Kingdon will send Hollis Thurston, veteran Brooklyn right-hander, to the mound for the Commercials tonight.

The Commercials will send a strong squad out on the field, the Clubmen boasting a flock of sluggers that figure to give the starting San Luis slabster plenty of trouble. Louie Almada, former Los Angeles High grid star who looks like a good major-league prospect, has been leading the Commercial attack of late. Almada, who is a Mexican, slammed out seven hits in eight times at bat in last Sunday's double-header. Fuzzy Hufft, Johnny Moore, Jack Fenton and Joe Meliano are other heavy hitters in the Commercial line-up.

Mike Gonzales, a former New York Giant infielder, is at second base for the San Luis outfit, but Perez, husky catcher, has proved the home-run hitter of the Mexican outfit.

With the present warm spell making the weather ideal for night baseball, a record crowd is expected out at Wrigley Field tonight to see the champions of Mexico in their local debut. The game starts at 8:15 and ladies will be admitted free.

MILLER, GARCIA TOP MAIN-STREET FIGHTS

Carlo Curtis completed the Main-street Athletic Club boxing card for Saturday night late yesterday when he announced three six-round bouts and a four-round curtain-raiser to back up the six-round main event between Abie Miller and Bobby Garcia. Al Herrera and Bert Sampson, 147-pounders, will box the six-round semi-wind-up and Joe Pimenthal and Louis Ramos, 128-pounders, will box the six-round special. Vincent Martinez and Jack Keenan, 145-pounders, will tangle in the fourth six on the card and Jack Kay and Joe Stube, 145-pounders, will box the four-round curtain-raiser. Punchers are hooked up in every bout on the preliminary card and it looks to be a program of club fights.

Miller, former national amateur bantamweight champion, is by far the cleverest boxer on the card. In Garcia he will tackle a club fighter who is a fair puncher.

HUDKINS, COLIMA ON NEWSBOY DINNER CARD

Bert Colima and Ace Hudkins will box an exhibition on the boxing and vaudeville show to be staged at the Main-street Athletic Club the 24th inst. to raise funds for the annual Thanksgiving dinner for the newsboys of Los Angeles. Although the two are not permitted to box in California rings, Colima because he fouled out to Oscar Rankins and Hudkins because of his poor bout with Jack McVey, the two were among the first to volunteer their services for the annual boxing show. Carlo Curtis, who has managed the annual show and dinner since its inception, has special permission from the California Athletic Commission to stage the exhibition between the two middleweights.

LONDOS COPS MAT GO

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 12. (AP)—Jimmy Londos, recognized in some States as the world's heavyweight wrestling champion, defeated Rudy Dusek of Omaha in a match here tonight. Londos won the match with a body slam after fifty-seven minutes of wrestling.

AL FAY PICKED TO BEAT DOMAN

Kearns's Heavyweight Given Edge in Legion Fight

Al Fay, Jack Kearns's heavyweight fighter, will go to the post an odds-on favorite to defeat Vigo Doman at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium tomorrow night. Fay, the experts figure, should beat Doman from here to around the block, but there is one big chance that Vigo will land that right hand of his on Fay's chin and if he does, it will be curtains for the Kearns heavyweight.

VIGO DOMAN

Fay made quite a hit with local fans in bow here when he beat Les Kennedy. Later he was surprised when Royal Elliott held him to a draw. The fans are wondering whether he is an in-and-outer or not. Tomorrow's main event at the Film City arena should prove that.

The semi-wind-up brings that much-talked-of youngster Young Papke against Ritchie King, former Navy champion. King will be the real acid test for Papke, who has gone through the local preliminary crop in fine fashion.

"Pickles" Heinz, the boy that Clayton Frye, local boxing instructor, declares has shown more promise than any of the younger heavyweights, clashes with Gus Heib in the special. Heinz is a sailor. He is said to be a real comer.

Frankie Mann and Dave Leivas meet in a four-rounder, as do Johnny Macelli and Domingo Lopez.

FREMONT CEES WIN OVER POLY ELEVEN

After putting and keeping the ball in the Poly territory all of the game, the Fremont Cees pushed over a touchdown in the second quarter, and converted to win a 7-0 victory yesterday over the Poly midgets, in a game played at Poly.

A pass, Graham to Small, put the porkhide on the 1-yard line from where Graham packed it over guard for the score. Wagner converted on a line plunge.

ARIZONA FOUR TRIMS OKLAHOMA TEAM, 15-3

TUCSON (Ariz.) Nov. 12. (AP)—The University of Arizona polo Wildcats overwhelmed the University of Oklahoma Sooners, 15 to 3, here today. It was the Oklahomans' first defeat of the season.

Arizona completely outclassed the visitors, outriding them and hitting with greater accuracy throughout.

RIP COLLINS BOUGHT BY ST. LOUIS CARDS

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 12. (AP)—James (Rip) Collins, slugging young first baseman, has been purchased from Rochester, the St. Louis Cardinals' International League farm, it was announced today by Secretary Clarence Lloyd of the Red Birds. Rumors are being revived Jim Bottomley, veteran first-sacker, with the National League champions, may be used in a trade.

Count it a rare day when men's outing flannel pajamas of real Amoskeag Teazledown go for $1.85!
Teazledowns are not ordinary outing flannels. They are warmer, longer wearing, better looking and better fitting. And they usually cost more.
But the A.M.C. (20 store buying power), secured these for Bullock's. And they are a mighty fine value at $1.85. (3 for $5.)

QUALITY PROVED BY ADVERTISING

Agency Chief Addresses Club in Radio Talk

Campaign Requires Expense Repeat Orders by Public

No Resales Made of Poor Product, He Points Out

Advertising constitutes an assurance to the consumer that the merchandise he buys is of a superior quality, Dan B. Miner, president of the Dan B. Miner Company Advertising Agency, told a radio audience yesterday in the Los Angeles Advertising Club's weekly broadcast over KMPC sponsored by the University of Southern California. There is an axiomatic expression in the business world, he reminded his hearers, that "if a product is worthwhile it is worthwhile advertising," and added that by the same token if a product is not worthwhile it is not worthwhile advertising.

DAN B. MINER

"We know that by spending money in advertising," Miner said in the course of his address, "we can induce you to buy an article once, but if you don't like it—if the article is not worthwhile—we can still continue to place advertising before you, but we cannot make you buy the second or third time.

"Advertised products that can realize a profit from one sale to you without your good will, and thus bring profitable returns to the manufacturer, are very rare indeed—if they exist at all—so you can readily see that the first premise of an advertising campaign must be: Is this product of sufficient quality to make people want to buy and repeat buying?

PRODUCT MUST BE GOOD

"To base an advertising campaign on any other premise is to doom it to failure and a big monetary loss. So, business houses today have to give you quality merchandise if they spend fortunes in advertising, not from any philanthropic or moral motive, but because good sense and good business judgment say they must, if they would succeed. The results that return to the advertiser the money invested in advertising are in your satisfaction.

"Let us consider a simple illustration of how this actually works. Take a food product, for example —or, better still, two brands of the same food product. One is advertised; the other is not.

"Mr. Jones, who makes a popular and well-known soup, spends hundreds of thousands of dollars each month to tell you about it. . . He gets his money back only if you approve the quality of his soup, over a long period of time. Naturally, he must make that soup the best that money can buy. It must be reasonably priced, pure and nutritious.

SOUP FOR EXAMPLE

"Now, take the soup that is not advertised. It goes on the shelves of your dealer. If you buy a can and do not like it, no one loses—for no investment has been made in advertising which must be returned through your continued patronage. The profit has been made on one can. Suppose sales on this soup are so poor that it is taken off the market. Still no one loses.

"For fear that I might create a wrong impression, let me add that because a product is not advertised is no proof that it does not have real merit. There are great numbers of such products coming on the market continually, but, of course, they are not known unless they are advertised, and the acid test of their quality is whether or not they are good enough to warrant an advertising investment.

"The necessity of a manufacturer living up to his advertising creates new levels of quality and value. As he builds up the quality of his product, he builds the integrity of his trade-mark. To aid him to protect his name, every well-known magazine, newspaper, radio station, outdoor advertising company and street-car advertising firm closely examines the quality of the products brought to their attention. If the quality and value are not worthy of entering your home, the advertising is rejected. The advertising profession, out of its own pockets, largely maintains the Better Business Bureau. This is an agency, national in scope, which will prosecute advertising frauds which mislead the public into spending money for worthless merchandise.

MATTER OF PROFITS

"There are always many people who say they never read advertising and that it never influences their buying habits. Yet, analyze your own case. If you are a housewife examine the foods you serve. Your coffee, bread, milk, butter and nearly every other commodity is an advertised product. Remember this, that you made your own selection on the basis of quality in one form or another. You may not have seen the advertising, yet you bought an advertised product. Fortunately, nearly all women buy advertised products nearly all the time.

"Usually when someone tries to unsell you on your first choice with the suggestion that another brand is 'just as good'—lower in price, or contains a greater quantity—there is a reason behind the scenes. Often it goes back to a retailer's profit.

"Some merchants think it is good judgment to sell those goods which bring them the greatest profit. If this be their policy they naturally try to push their sales on these items. It stands to reason that the manufacturer must sacrifice somewhere to reduce the price or give the dealer a longer profit. It could not have been that the saving was in the fact that it was not advertised, since advertising increases sales and reduces production costs. It must have been in the original manufacturing quality.

"Every advertisement you see, whether it be for ice cream or clothing, is a formal introduction of a product from someone you know who guarantees its quality,—value and integrity.

"Advertising is the greatest selling force in America. Advertised goods are worth your patronage. From now on—if its advertised, its worth a preferred place on your budget."

WELL ENTRANCE TO DISTILLERY

Day Raiders Find Liquor Plant in Room Far Underground

ATLANTA (Ga.) Nov. 12. (AP)—Federal prohibition agents said today they had found a liquor distillery in a subterranean room that could be entered only through a trapdoor at the bottom of a dry well.

They said the distilling chamber was equipped with electric lights and a pipe connected the distillery with a chimney in a farmhouse above. In this manner an outlet for smoke was afforded in a manner to avoid suspicion.

Rain Tonight, Weather Man Says Flatly

Get out the old umbrella and chase the moths from its folds and see if the raincoat's still waterproof, for the United States Weather Bureau says it will rain in Los Angeles tonight.

Yesterday, after squinting through their telescopes, taking barometric pressures and casting several horoscopes, it was unanimously agreed by the experts that a storm is on its way to the Southland.

"Cloudy and cooler Thursday and Friday; unsettled over mountains, with rain by Thursday night," was the way they put it.

Rain fell again yesterday at Eureka, the precipitation being recorded as .14 of an inch, according to wire reports from the north coast city. Rain in the north and snow in the high mountain levels are predicted for today. The bay district will have cooler but fair weather.

The weather map indicates that the storm is approaching from the South Mexico and Lower California coasts, where a low pressure area has formed and is advancing northward. The barometer fell steadily yesterday, dropping from 30.04 at 5 a.m. to 29.84 twelve hours later.

The highest temperature registered yesterday was 84 deg. and the lowest was 62 deg. Relative humidity was exceedingly low again, but 12 per cent being registered at noon and 26 per cent five hours later.

Keaton Appeal Briefs Will Be Filed Shortly

Briefs in the appeal of Frank D. Keaton, sentenced to hang on the 21st inst. for the slaying of Motley Flint, Los Angeles banker, have been prepared and will be filed shortly in the Los Angeles office of the Supreme Court, Attorney Paul D'Orr, representing Keaton, said yesterday.

The briefs, setting forth the grounds on which the appeal is based, will follow transcripts of proceedings in the trial court.

Keaton shot Flint in Superior Judge Collier's courtroom when the banker was leaving the witness stand after testifying in a civil action. Keaton's defense was that he was insane, but a jury found against this argument.

Dollar Line Sets Date for Launching Craft

Mrs. Hoover to Name Vessel in Husband's Honor

Luxurious Globe Girdler to Cost $8,000,000

BY WALDO DRAKE

A bottle in which are mingled the waters of each of the Seven Seas will be crashed agains tthe bow of the first of the Dollar Line's $8,000,000 turbo-electric Pacific greyhounds at Newport News, Va., next December 9 by Mrs. Herbert Hoover as she christens the great ship after her illustrious husband. Details of the colorful ceremony to attend the launching of the President Hoover, to be the largest merchantman built in an American yard, were announced yesterday by R. Stanley Dollar, president of the Dollar Steamship Lines.

The President Hoover and her sister ship, also approaching the launching stage at the yards of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company, are the first of four sea queens in the Dollar Line's projected super-express service between California and the Orient. The President Hoover is scheduled to enter the service in June, 1931. Commissioning date of the second vessel will be announced later. The two ships, representing the ultimate in operating efficiency, safety, size and luxury, of any passenger ship yet turned out in an American shipyards, will be twin-screw, nine-deck vessels, 653 feet long and displacing 31,000 tons. They will each carry 1260 passengers in all classes and manned by a crew of 300 will have a sea speed of twenty-one knots. Giant electric motors of approximately 25,000 horsepower will drive the ships, energy for these motors being derived from generators, which in turn will be driven by steam turbines. All auxiliary equipment aboard will also be electrically operated. Each ship will be equipped with 67,000 cubic feet of refrigerated cargo space.

Modern navigating equipment on the President Hoover and her sister will include Sperry gyroscopic compasses of the United States Navy type, radio direction finders, sonic depth finders, while typical of the ships' safety features is the fact that all water-tight doors will be electrically controlled from the bridge, so that in the event of collision all bulkheads may be made water-tight within thirty seconds. Electrically operated davits will also insure safety in launching lifeboats.

COAST SHIPBUILDING CHANCES VIEWED AS DIM

Pacific Coast shipyards will get ship construction contracts—when eastern yards are filled to capacity. That was the not too roseate picture sketched by Capt. Walter J. Peterson of San Francisco, head of the different marine service bureaus on the coast, before yesterday's monthly meeting of the bureau at San Pedro.

"However," he added, "I feel that the money our government is lending to foster new ships is part western money and that this coast's industries should get some construction. How it can be arranged is another matter."

He expressed conviction America at last will have a real merchant marine; that sixty-eight fine new ships now are building or contemplated, the forerunners of many more possible through the $250,000,000 rotating fund and perhaps more funds to come.

He said more legislation must come, however, some form of subsidy for cargo ships, for which there was no provision in the Jones-White Act. He doubted if aid will come this coming session of the Congress, it will be so short.

He will leave Thanksgiving Day to remain at Washington through the sessions. "We on this coast, are interested in many other marine items to come before this session: The Hague rules on tariffs and insurance; repatriation of seamen; proposed load lines affecting coastwise ships, and the readjustment of Panama Canal tolls. A dual system of measurement exists now; we want a single system."

Capt. Peterson will leave for San Diego for a bureau meeting today, proceeding thence to San Francisco and East.

Twenty-two bundles of alligator skins from Acapulco, Mex., passed through Los Angeles Harbor yesterday on the Panama Mail motor liner City of Panama, en route to New York for conversion into handbags and such.

Port Manager Burt Edwards yesterday asked the Board of Harbor Commissioners to appropriate $2000 to pay for lighting the department's water-front streets for the remainder of the fiscal year, as a solution of the impasse created several weeks ago when the City Attorney informed the Department of Water and Power that the Harbor Department should pay its own lighting bills.

The situation involves supplying current for sixty-seven flood and arc lights throughout the port. The Harbor Board took Mr. Edwards's plan under advisement pending a conference with the Department of Water and Power.

The Harboar Board yesterday declined the suggestion of the Chamber of Commerce and other civic bodies that the major portion of the $12,500 allotted by the Pacific Travel Association, Ltd., to be raised in this city, be donated by the Harbor Department. The department is already going to considerable expense, the Harbor Board explained, to stimulate Pacific Ocean travel.
